Bible Comment:

Bestowing Mercy Is God's Delight, Writes Prophet

MANY think that the climax, the highest point in the seven chapters of the prophecies of Micah that have come down to us, is the prophet's definition of religion.

His rightly famous explanation of religion: "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" would seem to be the epitome of all his writings.

But there is something higher, the real climax, in the closing verses of the prophecy, Micah 7:18-20, in which the prophet describes the pardoning grace of God.

God is not only merciful, says Micah, but He delights in mercy. Could God, asks Micah, require that man practice mercy without being merciful Himself? Certainly not, as that would be contrary to righteousness and logic.

This part of the Hebrew prophecies should be well studied, and never forgotten.

It is true that evil was rebuked with such sternness that a hurried, unintelligent reading of Micah's messages might incline us to regard them as harshly unyielding and pessimistic.

But beneath all was a note of mercy, the eager willingness of God to forgive all transgressions and iniquities.

Micah and his fellow prophets almost invariably pictured what they liked to believe was a "forgetful" God measuring the rebelliousness of the Israelites with a deep sense of foreboding. But complete despair was never part of the picture. Always there was the underlying current of hope, and the broad theme was that of reconciliation.

The entire story is told in the climactic message of Micah: "Who is a God unto Thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of His heritage? He retaineth not His anger forever, because He delighteth in mercy. He will turn again, He will have compassion upon us; He will subdue our iniquities; and Thou wilt cast all our sins into the depths of the sea."

In the depths of that sea, drowned in mercy, is the better place for all of our sins.

Bible Institute Now Underway

The Columbus Bible Institute opened Monday in Memorial Baptist Church, 26 S. Sandusky-st, with 45 quarter subjects being offered during the year.

Covering evangelism, work among children, Sunday school work, directing of congregational singing, church administration and the study of the Greek language, classes will be held each Monday and Tuesday at 6:30, 7:50 and 8:50 p. m.

Twenty-three college or institute-trained teachers will direct the courses with C. O. Callahan as dean of the institute, Ray P. Price, registrar, Robert F. Gossett, secretary, and W. O. Rayburn, treasurer.

Correspondence courses will be offered for those unable to attend regular classes, officials said. The school is open to anyone of junior high school age or older.

Church Delegates Name Rowita Shaw To Area Council

Rowita Shaw, 263 S. Wheatland-av, a delegate of the Wheatland-Avenue Methodist Church, to the Columbus District Conference in Cleveland, O., recently, was elected to represent the youth of 35 churches of the area Council in St. Louis, Mo., next month. Miss Shaw is president of the MYF here and at present is enrolled in the Methodist College at Little Rock, Ark. Clenae Fox, first vice-president, will preside at the meetings until her return.

Robert Todd, another local delegate to the convention, was elected as youth treasurer of the Columbus District.

Others from Wheatland Avenue Church who attended were Regina Shaw, Rev. T. L. Tinsley who served as dean of the workshop; Mrs. Lillian Davidson, Mrs. T. L. Tinsley, Mrs. Elizabeth Shaw, and Mrs. Anna Minnefield.

It was voted that the next site of the Columbus District Conference will be the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church, 336 S. Wheatland-av, in August, 1952.

Local Adventist Church School Is Reopened

Forty-two children were enrolled Tuesday, Sept. 4, in the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church School located at Union and Ryan-ave. The local Seventh-Day Adventist Church has conducted a grade school for about 50 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald M. Seeley are the new teachers assigned to the school this year. Both of them received their training in the Washington Missionary College, Washington, D. C., one of the denomination's colleges for the eastern section of the United States. Mrs. Seeley will teach the 3 children registered in grades 1-8 and Mr. Seeley will teach grades 7-10 in which 19 children are registered.

Fern Lenk who taught in this church school for the last six years, is now teaching in the denomination's school in Hamilton, O. Mrs. Robert O'Connell, the up grade teacher at this school for the last four years, is teaching grades 5-6 in the Worthington Seventh-Day Adventist grade school this year.

Today the Seventh-Day Adventist system of educational institutions has developed into a worldwide activity employing nearly 10,000 teachers and enrolling about 200,000 students from the first grade through college, seminary, advanced and specialized schools. At the close of 1949 their educational system included 3,654 elementary and mission schools and 310 schools above the elementary level.

They're good—those two weeks of vacation this summer. The first for you and your wife in a whole long year.

Just a moment ago the long, clear call of a loon echoed across the lake from that dark clump of pines on the shore, and a little whisper of the west wind caught your canoe and eased it through the water slowly down the lake.

You and your wife together. Drifting — with a warm wind on a northern lake in deep summer . . . Good to be alive.

Drifting like that is fine—for two weeks. But not for all the rest of the year. You wouldn't want that. You're not that kind of people. It's not that kind of a world.

Your church can help you stop "mental drifting" with its words of faith, and hope, and action. Like your vacation, it will bring you ease and relief from the problems that you continually face. But your church doesn't stop there. It aids you in charting a good life course—not one of aimless and futile drifting.

Let your church give you a lift. Go there — often.

How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?

"Old Bodies Made New"

A New Local Business Creates Unusual Queries

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin McKibbon are pictured above in their basement workshop on W. Mound-st busily engaged in the process of making old bodies like new and giving an almost human appearance to the many mannequins which inhabit their work room.

"Old Bodies Made New" is the unique motto of a new West Side business enterprise that is located opposite Mt. Calvary Cemetery. At first the casual observer is wont to raise an eyebrow and in a tremulous voice inquire, "How do they get away with it?"

Actually though, the new business which has been established in this community is not as ghoulish as the motto or the location may actually indicate at first impression. The "Old Bodies Made New" are those of mannequins and Mr. and Mrs. Elvin R. McKibbon are kept quite busy these days with a repair and renovation service for the "silent salesgirls" who inhabit the store windows of many of the local department and women's clothing stores.

In the city of Columbus this is the only establishment which does this nature of work. They repair and make like new again an entire mannequin or a finger, arm or leg. At first glance, upon entering the basement workshop of the McKibbons' at 932 W. Mound-st, the eye meets a wild assortment of hands, heads, arms, legs and wigs. It is almost as if one were walking into the dissection room of one of the large medical universities. And in the midst of his wild array of paper mache torsos sit Mr. and Mrs. McKibbon calmly at work, painting a new surface on a mannequin, touching up fingernails or eyebrows, or even remaking a wig into one of the more modern hair styles in order to accommodate the new mode of hats.

McKibbon, a veteran of World War II, founded this business after his return from service and credits his wife, Pearl, with being the actual pusher in formulating this business which is so unique to Columbus. Said he, "I noticed how others were making money in this service to stores and decided to try it myself on a small scale. My wife, though, realized the field that was open and encouraged me to devote my entire time to the work and—well, now we're in the business."

McKibbon is a native of Dallas, Tex., and his wife was formerly Pearl Imes of 511 S. Yale-av.

McKibbon pointed out that his new service enables local merchants and stores who use mannequins to keep their models up-to-date and attractive without the needless expenditure for new mannequins. A new mannequin, he said, will cost from $125 to $250.

And the business is not without its humorous side either, Mrs. McKibbon confided. Laughingly she related how on many occasions the tradesmen who come to the door usually glance down the basement stairway at first casually and then, seeing an arm or leg unattached to any body, they usually quickly stoop down and peer intently into the recesses of the basement. She said that many times she has answered the door and found a salesman standing there, quite nervous and a bit disconcerted over the brief glimpse of what he had seen in the basement.

Rome PTA Program Committee

Guiding the activities of the Rome PTA program committee for the new year will be Mrs. Jack Craven, 500 Smith-rd, chairman, and Mrs. Robert Coleman, 296 Rome-Hilliards-rd, Mrs. Leroy Schoonover, 370 Lenox-av, and Mrs. Irvin Thirtyacre, 316 Buena Vista-av, co-chairmen.

The PTA program committee met at the home of Mrs. Robert Coleman on Thursday evening to discuss and plan for an interesting school year program.

For the first fall PTA meeting, which will be held at the school portable building on Thursday evening, Sept. 20, at 8 p. m., they will present Harold and Ethel Rings, of the Rings Floral Co., topic being "Flower Displays and Dissertation." Also during the evening James A. Groves, principal, will present the new teachers and welcome the new mothers to the organization.

Mrs. Craven will introduce Mrs. Alva Streitenberger and Mrs. Ernest Shaner, co-chairmen for the Fall Festival, who will speak on their plans and present their committee chairmen.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments will be served by the courtesy and hospitality committee of which Mrs. Thelma Royer is chairman.

Due to the limited seating space capacity, it is the desire of the PTA organization that all parents endeavor to accompany their children to the meetings, and that each youngster sit with his parents.

Marine Ends Training; Weds

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brophy, 655 S. Ogden-av, and son, David, and Miss Phylis Phillips, traveled recently to Parris Island, S. Car., to visit the Brophys' son, Richard, stationed there with the Marines.

Brophy, who completed his boot training, returned with them to Columbus to wed Miss Phillips, an Upper Arlington girl.

After his 10-day leave she accompanied him to Parris Island, where he is assistant chaplain with the rank of Pfc.

Garden Club Picnic Planned

A day of fall weather and the beauty of Blacklick Woods Park, on Livingston-av near Reynoldsburg, will be the setting of the Sept. 17 meeting of the Highland Garden Club. Following a picnic lunch at noon, Mrs. C. V. Williams, president, will preside, making definite plans for the coming year.

Hostesses arranging the outing for this first meeting of the year are Mrs. Arthur Buchanan, Mrs. Elmer Young and Mrs. D. L. McCready.

Townsend Club No. 32 will sponsor a chicken pot-pie dinner at the WOW Hall, 568 S. Third-st, Thursday, Sept. 13, 6:30 p. m. The general public is invited for the dinner and the program to follow at 8 p. m. The Townsend Club's proposed bill will be explained and visitors are welcome.

The youngest county in Ohio, Noble, is 100 years old this year. It was organized in 1851.

Green Lashes "Whispering Campaign"

Floyd F. Green, candidate for mayor at the Nov. 6 election, swung a blow at instigators of a "whispering campaign" of untruths concerning supposed gambling in his previous administration.

In a prepared statement, Green said, "I am willing to talk about gambling but let us keep it on a fair basis. I have never been arrested. I have never owned or engaged in any business that wrote numbers, promoted dice games, operated slot machines, or any illegal enterprise. Can my opponent Mayor Rhodes say as much?"

The former mayor declared, "I'll match my entire life, private and public, with Mayor Rhodes anytime, including my federal income tax returns."

Taking note of the fact that nothing has been said critical of his capabilities as a businessman and official, Green said, "If my enemies had any knowledge of corrupt practices on my part in any department of my administration you can be sure they would be using them rather than stooping to half truths and untruths."

Indicating that he is prepared to meet fire with fire, Green concluded by stating: "I want an aggressive, clean and informative campaign. I will discuss or debate any of what I believe to be the real issues, or any issues my opponent may care to raise, anywhere anytime. If it must be a campaign of filth, slander and falsehoods, then I will defend my character and reputation as a clean, honest, honorable citizen, business and official with any and every weapon at my command."

Girl Scout News

All Girl Scouts, their families and friends are cordially invited to the dedication ceremonies of the new food service building, to be held at Camp Ken-Jockety on Sunday, Sept. 16, 3 p. m.

The Girl Scout Camp is located on the Big Darby off of Hubbard-rd, about three miles north of W. Broad-st, just east of West Jefferson. The new building, made possible through the generosity of the estate of a civic minded friend, has long been the dream of the Girl Scout Council of Columbus and Franklin County. Wooster Bard Field has served as architect, and Charles Bird, sanitary engineer consultant, has been the member of the established camp committee in charge of this project. The buildings will serve as a model food service structure for the state.

Mrs. Florence Jones, of the national Girl Scout staff, will be the speaker of the afternoon, with Mrs. Clarke Boggs, 126 Meadowlark Lane, Worthington, presiding. A singing chorus of Girl Scout campers and the dedication poem by a Brownie camper will be a part of the program. There will be open house throughout the camp.

All campers are urged to attend, as well as all Girl Scouts, their families and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Celli (Kathleen Barton) have returned from spending several months in Biloxi, Miss., where Mr. Celli was stationed with the army. They are enjoying his leave, after which he will be sent to Korea. They are staying with her mother, Mrs. Josephine Barton, 72 N. Ogden-av.

More than 2000 Students Enroll At West High

Enrollment figures released last Wednesday on the opening day of school at West High School disclosed a total of 2,104 students.

Principal Irvin Young said that the total represented 1123 in West Junior High and 981 in Senior High. The figure he said would probably be greater by the end of the week due to a number of absentees on the opening day of school.

Grove City's Homecoming Begins Tonight

Road Open For Better Housing

The community is grateful to the Franklin County Commissioners for their fine action this past week in approval of the zoning request of the Camp Chase Civic Association.

Such approval means that the Hilltop community now has ample room for expansion westward with homes in keeping with the size and quality of those of this community.

Again officials of this progressive organization deserve the compendation of residents of this section for their efforts put forth in behalf of this civic accomplishment. It is sincerely to be hoped that now that the job at hand has been brought to a successful termination the members of this group will not lay down their tools and wait till further critical periods face them again.

Instead, there is a big job to be done in further planning for good for this community. This group should take the initiative in this matter and keep the community well advised of such matters at all times.

Phillips Trial Date Is Set For Oct. 22 By Court

George Phillips, 23-year-old insurance salesman of 397 S. Hague-av, is to face trial on Oct. 22 for the April 26 slaying of Mrs. Ruth K. Alter at her home, 360 N. Sylvan-av. Phillips is currently free on bond of $25,000, having been charged with second degree murder.

Defending Phillips before a regular petit jury will be Paul M. Herbert, who said that he planned within the next day or so to file a motion asking the court to order Franklin County Prosecutor Ralph W. Bartlett to permit his examination of all material evidence now held in the case. Herbert's request is based upon an old principle of the law in which the prosecutor is bound to defend the innocent as well as to convict the guilty.

Phillips, if convicted of the second degree murder charge faces a possible life sentence in Ohio penitentiary. The jury, however, has the power to reduce the charge.

Youth Injured

Robert Murray, 12, of 134 N. Roys-av, suffered a possible brain concussion when his bicycle struck a parked truck near his home, Tuesday, police said. He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Double Picket Line Operates

Unique Protest Against School Work Stoppage

PICKETING THE PICKET might be the title line for this photo in which young Ronald Winstead, 172 Powhatan-av, displays his sign to the Columbus Building Trades Council picket at the site of the new Westgate Elementary School. Ronald's sign, "This Picket Line Unfair to School Children", is a point well taken in protesting the action of the union in preventing further construction of the new structure which is meant to relieve the overcrowded conditions of local schools.

Entirely devoid of any action is this scene of the site of the new Westgate Elementary School on which construction was halted during this past week by action of the Columbus Building Trades Council protesting for the Electrical Workers Union (AFL) the awarding of electrical work on the building to a non-union firm. Work on the new building scheduled for completion at an indefinite date, stopped last Thursday when workmen for the Ang Construction Company observed the picket line and did not show up for work.

Camp Chase Civic Group Wins Final Zoning Okay

Final stamp of approval for the zoning of the area west of Demorest-rd and south of Sullivant-av to 1R8 housing was gained by the Camp Chase Civic Association at a stormy session last Wednesday morning before the Franklin County Commissioners.

All three commissioners, Harry Vigor, C. P. Lauderbaugh and Nate McCoy, were quick to vote their approval of the project at the conclusion of the hearing of representatives of both sides of the controversy. During the session, however, the attorney for the opponents of the measure, Kermit Sitterley of Lancaster, was loud in his declarations that the measure was "unreasonable".

Speaking in behalf of the measure Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, declared that this was the only direction in which the community could expand. C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record, also spoke in behalf of the measure as did Ted Todd, local real estate man. Donald F. Smith, Hilltop attorney, represented the group in presenting the matter.

Nearly 150 Hilltop residents crowded the courtroom for the hearing.

Former Hilltop Pastor Dies Of Heart Attack

Rev. Ernest A. Kline, a former pastor of the Hilltop Church of God, died suddenly of a heart attack at Lancaster Sunday while he was teaching a men's Bible Class in the Sixth Avenue Church of God. Rev. Kline had been a pastor of the Lancaster church for the past 17 years. He was 63 years of age at the time of his death.

He had just returned Sunday from a vacation trip to Erieau, Ont., Canada, with a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Kline, Lancaster.

He had been at the Hilltop Church of God, before going to Lancaster. Earlier he held a pastorate in Lima.

Also surviving are three sons, Charles F., at home, Ralph A., Lancaster, and Ernest S. Hickory, N. C.; two daughters, Thelma Kline, at home, and Mrs. Robert Nairn, Columbus; a brother, Lonnie B. Kline, and a sister, Mrs. Bertha Hendrickson, both of Lima, and six grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Ray Wise Funeral Home, Lancaster.

Garden Heights Group Planning Improvements

Garden Heights Addition will hold its first mass meeting to discuss community improvements Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Prairie Township Fire House at Rome.

Desso T. Mitchell, Franklin County sanitary engineer, and Cletus McPherson of the Franklin County Engineer's office will present workable plans to the citizens for sanitary and storm sewers.

It was pointed out that this is the first step in a plan for community improvement. All residents and lot owners are urged to attend to take part in forming a permanent organization to lay plans for a future overall improvement program.

Construction of the new $20,000,000 Westinghouse plant in the adjacent area will create an increased demand for desirable lots in the community, and civic leaders believe action should be taken now to meet this demand.

HBA-Kiwanis Football Train Being Readied

Reservations are now being taken for the Hilltop Business Association-Kiwanis Club Football Special to Cleveland on Oct. 28, when the world champion Cleveland Browns and New York Giants meet at Cleveland Municipal Stadium, according to C. H. Campbell, new secretary of the HBA.

Campbell said this week that reservations for the special train will be accepted at the association offices, 3183 W. Broad-st, until Oct. 10 and urged that all who have plans to make the trip do so before that date if possible.

He said that, thus far, one car has already been filled for the special, which will leave Union Station at 9 a. m., Oct. 28 and return at approximately 9 p. m. the same day. The cost for transportation round trip to Cleveland and a reserved seat at the game is only $10 and the HBA secretary indicated that a goodly portion of the Hilltop would be seeing the Browns and Giants on that date.

Campbell pointed out that it is not necessary to come to the office to make reservations, since mail orders will also be taken.

Columbus Diocese To Publish Own Newspaper

The Diocese of Columbus will publish its own paper beginning in October, to be known as The Catholic Times.

Printing of the paper will be done by the Hartley Printing & Publishing Co., 2465 W. Broad-st, publishers of The Hilltop Record and West Side News.

At present the Diocese is served by the Columbus Register. The Register first began publication in January, 1940, and during all this time has been published in Denver, Colo., as one of the more than 30 editions of the Denver Register system of Catholic newspapers.

Because of the distance between Columbus and Denver numerous delays have been encountered in delivery of the paper on schedule.

The paper will be published on Fridays each week.

Rev. Harris B. Anthony, Builder of Churches, Observes His 14th Year As Hilltop Pastor

Shown above is the new Warren Avenue Nazarene Church now in the process of construction at Warren-av and Whitehead-rd. The new edifice is another milestone of progress for Rev. Anthony in his long tenure of service here.

This week Rev. Harris B. Anthony celebrates his fourteenth anniversary as pastor of the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, 650 S. Warren-av.

Rev. Anthony was born in Kennetcook, Nova Scotia, Canada. At the age of 18 he went to Saskatchewan, where he taught in the public schools for five years. After receiving a call to the ministry, he went to Nampa, Idaho, where, after attending Northwest Nazarene College for two years, he obtained his bachelor of arts degree.

He spent one year as principal of the high school there and then went to Boston, Mass., where he took post-graduate work at Boston University. After leaving the university he was pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene at New Haven, Conn., for two years, and pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene at Manchester, Conn., for seven years. In the latter place he constructed a new church building.

Coming to Columbus in September 1937, Rev. Anthony became the fifth pastor of the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene. Since his coming the church has advanced rapidly. More than 650 members have been received into the church under his ministry here; the income of the church has increased from $6036 to $46,000 annually; a mortgage on the old church building has been paid; a new modern brick parsonage has been built at 675 S. Harris-av, the old parsonage renovated and transferred to a lot across the street.

Rev. Harris B. Anthony

On Easter 1950, the last service was held in the old church building and construction was begun shortly thereafter on a new stone church edifice on the sites of the old parsonage and church building, which will cost $200,000.

Destined to be one of the largest churches on the Hilltop and West Side, the structure will front 94 feet on S. Warren-av and 107 feet along Whitehead-rd, having an exterior of native limestone, with an Indiana limestone trim, and a modified English Gothic architecture.

Plans Drafted By Council For Yearly Halloween Party

Plans for the annual community Halloween party to be held Oct. 31 at West High School were No. 1 on the agenda at the first fall meeting of the Hilltop Community Council held last week at Glenwood Recreation Center.

Although Halloween is over a month away, Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, 220 N. Oakley-av, named general chairman, was instructed to announce the various committees some time this week.

The general theme of "Barrels of Fun—No Damage Done" will be applied again to this year's party. Proof of the success of last year's party is the police report of no calls on the Hilltop due to pranksters or damage.

Another announcement made at the council meeting was that Camp Clime is and will be open for fall outings. Any Hilltop youth group may use the camp, located on Demorest-rd. The site is leased by the Hilltop Council and many repairs were made over the summer. However, donations of funds for further repairs are still needed.

All Hilltop church and school organizations are invited to send representatives to the council meetings on the second Wednesday of each month.

City Furniture Gets Sunray Franchise

F. H. Kenney of City Furniture announced this week that their store has been named authorized dealers for the complete line of Sunray gas ranges. They are the only store on the Hilltop which has this nationally known line of fine gas ranges.

Kenney called attention to the special installation policy of Sunray whereby a range is delivered, installed and adjusted by a factory expert and serviced and guaranteed one full year at no extra cost. Other nationally known lines handled by City Furniture are Heywood-Wakefield, Simmons, Crosley, Forest, Zenith and many others, eliminating the necessity of downtown inconveniences in shopping for high quality merchandise.

League of Women Voters To Start City-Wide Telephone Poll This Week

Mayor James Rhodes signs the proclamation declaring League of Women Voters Week while members of the league look on. Watching the signing of the proclamation are Mrs. Raymond Cray, finance chairman; Mrs. Ben Knepper, public relations chairman, and Mrs. Sam Pollmar, president.

This week has been declared "League of Women Voters Week" in Columbus. During this time the League women are conducting a "poll" by phone of 2000 women in an effort to inspire action in voting (on a non-partisan basis) and to awaken each woman contacted to her responsibilities as a member of her community.

The purpose of the League of Women Voters of the United States is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. Eighty-three thousand members make up the League of Women Voters of the United States. Through a strong, unified organization they have built and maintain high standards for their work.

All women citizens are invited to become members. No single group of professional, economic, political or social description predominates. Members are consciously practicing democracy within the League. A broad and varied program, rising out of fundamental problems, is well established. League officers and board members do not hold prominent party positions. League leaders publicly resign their office if they decide to accept major party responsibilities. For 28 years the League has followed the "public interest," "non-partisan" policy.

The league activity includes voters' service, which is furnishing information about candidates and issues before elections; carrying on discussions of live issues between elections; publishing "qualifications" as a yardstick for judging fitness of candidates for public office; reminding and encouraging citizens to vote; watching election procedures to assure secret ballots and honest counts.

Kiwanis National Kids' Day To Be Observed Saturday

Calling upon all members of the community to support Kiwanis National Kids' Day because of its program to help underprivileged youth, Governor Frank J. Lausche issued a special proclamation this week in honor of the event, which takes place Saturday, Sept. 22.

In his proclamation, the governor said that "the purpose of the day is to provide, wherever possible, assistance in helping underprivileged children to enjoy some of the benefits normally accruing to boys and girls in more fortunate circumstances." He urged cooperation with the local committee, which is headed by George T. Tarbutton.

National Kids' Day is sponsored by the National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., Hollywood Calif., and the 3,300 clubs of Kiwanis International. In Columbus, the Kiwanis Clubs' Kids' Day committee has arranged a special program to properly observe the day with funds derived from special events to be used for the underprivileged children of this community.

"Even though world and national problems tend to be uppermost in our minds and sometimes distract us from thinking of local problems, we must be certain, therefore, that boys and girls in this community who need help be given it. Kiwanis and the National Kids' Day Foundation are to be congratulated for not only providing us with this reminder but also for giving material help through their youth projects," the governor commented when issuing the proclamation.

Why Remember?

A little blue flower will be sold on the streets of Columbus Sept. 21 and 22 to remind the citizens of our community that the war is not over for those veterans who were disabled as a direct result of war service. That little blue flower was chosen for its name. It is the Forget-Me-Not, a flower of remembrance. It has been the official flower of the Disabled American Veterans since that organization was formed in 1920. It is symbolic of the service performed by the D.A.V. in behalf of our war-time disabled veterans, their widows, and their dependents.

The D.A.V. has never forgotten the wars' disabled. It is our hope that you will never forget them. And the Forget-Me-Not in your coat lapel next Saturday and the coin that you drop in the canister for the flower—means that you haven't forgotten. The money that you contribute to the Forget-Me-Not Drive in Columbus goes in its entirety to help the war-time disabled in Columbus. It's your way of giving a little to those who gave a lot. Service officers are busy today helping war-time disabled veterans of all wars in obtaining hospitalization, and other government benefits to which they are rightly entitled. This service is free of charge.

The important point is that those benefits are not automatic. A war-time disabled veteran must file a claim in every instance. And every claim must be backed up, evidence must be submitted and substantiated. It is just as necessary, just as valuable, for a veteran to be represented by a service officer before the Rating Board of the Veterans Administration, as it is for a citizen to be represented in court by an attorney.

The D.A.V. obtains much-needed benefits for our war-time disabled veterans who in many cases are unable to find immediate employment. The D.A.V. guides the war-time disabled into vocational training and educational opportunities. It helps him find employment. The D.A.V. does not stop with the veteran. When his widow or his dependents are in need they untangle their problems and help them get whatever assistance they are entitled to receive.

The Veterans' Administration, the government agency that administers veterans benefits—has recognized the value of the Disabled American Veterans and has commended its work. The administrator of the Veterans Administration recently said: "The D.A.V. has been doing a splendid and purposeful work." This outstanding recognition from the administrator and our government, comes only because the D.A.V. has been performing a service that our government can not and does not attempt to perform.

War-time disabled veterans need careful understanding, expert advice and assistance in interpreting regulations for filing applications for government benefits. They prefer to go to the D.A.V. for this advice and assistance because the D.A.V. is on their side of the fence. Who can better understand the problems of the war-time disabled veterans than one who himself has been disabled as a direct result of war service.

Your contribution on Forget-Me-Not Day will help make possible all of this service to the wars' disabled in our community. The funds realized from the sale of Forget-Me-Nots means a lot to the D.A.V., the war-time disabled, and the community itself.

Every time we help a war-time disabled veteran we help the welfare of our city. So give a little for those who gave a lot. Buy a Forget-Me-Not Friday and Saturday Sept. 21 and 22.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sept. 10, 1951

Dear Editor:

As you may know, I was recently appointed to the post of director of the Columbus District Office of Price Stabilization.

Previous to the time which I became director, I served as price executive in the Columbus OPS office since its inception.

I am thoroughly familiar with the load which you have been asked to shoulder in assisting our office in the battle to stabilize the nation's economy. We have called upon you to inform your people of the sacrifices expected of them in order to enable their country to prepare for any eventuality.

Every effort has been made to make our personnel aware of the great assistance which you can and do lend, and they will cooperate with you in bringing your followers a clear picture of the activities of their government as far as its price stabilization program is concerned.

We plan on conducting a program of price stabilization to the best of our ability within the laws set down by the Congress.

I am very grateful for the assistance which you have given our office during the period of its establishment and growth and I hope that you will continue to offer your invaluable help.

Most sincerely,
Clyde C. McBee
District Director
Office of Price Stabilization

His wife lay on her death bed. She pleaded: "John, I want you to promise me that you'll ride in the same car with my mother at my funeral."

He sighed: "Okay, but it's going to ruin my whole day."

"I Never Dreamed. It Was So Wonderful"

"It took me a long time before I decided to send my wash to the laundry—but I am all in favor of it now! Because Abbott does such a grand job on my clothes. Everything comes back bright and gleaming — at such little cost, I can hardly believe it! Why not try Abbott Laundry yourself?"

EXPERIMENTS by U. of Wisconsin professors, using sensitive microphones, prove that it's possible to hear young corn growing. And a twist of the radio dial will equally bring you the sound of old corn dying.

Women say beer is excellent to use for setting hair. Probably keeps the curls tight. It also might explain the bun on the head.

A Congressional committee says it has found a way of eliminating federal jobs. This is old stuff. The trick is to eliminate federal jobholders.

In Pittsburgh, a woman was accused of deliberately driving her car into a boarding house neighbor, a Mrs. Kranzerczyerik, whom she accused of continually "hogging" the hall 'phone. Sounds like simple case of car hitting telephone Pole.

Louisiana man jailed for knifing friend to whom he lost and refused to pay baseball bet of a rabbit dinner after friend's team hit six home runs in game. More rabbit over than on the plate here—welsh rabbit, at that.

A man who had survived a shipwreck near a popular Mediterranean resort was relating his adventures at a dinner party shortly afterward. He told of the storm which struck without warning; and of how his wife, clinging desperately to a rope, was washed overboard. The guests listened breathlessly.

"All this time," he went on, "the wind was increasing, the skies were growing blacker and blacker, and the boat was being driven toward those jagged cliffs just below the Carter place . . ."

"By the way," interposed the lady on his left with a bright expression of interest, "how are the Carters?"

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

For the second time in less than six years the eyes of the world are turned toward San Francisco, as Japanese peace treaty sessions convene.

• • •

On the first occasion, the charter for a presumed unity of nations was drawn. But less than five years later world monopolies made it impossible to shut off supplies of war materials to those breaching the peace.

C. W. Harder

Again in San Francisco, empty gestures prevail.

• • •

Before the present meeting occurred in San Francisco, Douglas MacArthur was removed.

• • •

Before the war, and until MacArthur took over occupation duties, 90% of all business, financial and commercial enterprise in Japan was controlled by the "zaibatsu" the eleven family monopoly that was linked with monopolies all over the world.

• • •

Under MacArthur's direction, the Japanese monopoly stranglehold was broken. Small business was encouraged; the spirit of economic independence came to Japan for the first time.

• • •

Long before the MacArthur matter reached headlines, a few big monopoly minded American corporations who had profitable relations with the Japanese super-monopoly before the war, were opposing his policies.

• • •

In the few short months since MacArthur left, Japanese monopolists, aided by these American corporations, have been working to destroy many of the anti-trust regulations that were set up to encourage free competitive enterprise in Japan.

• • •

©National Federation of Independent Business

ed out in San Francisco, Japan could be headed, toward one of [illegible] directions.

• • •

As it did at the time of Pearl Harbor either the "zaibatsu" will drive the country back to fascism, or underprivileged people will drive Japan to Moscow.

• • •

And so, the mass of the Japanese people may revert to feudalism because their champion of economic freedom was, unfortunately, subject to orders influenced by those desiring monopoly.

• • •

Unlike the average American, the average Japanese has no opportunity to protect himself from predatory monopoly.

• • •

In America the situation is different. There are champions of economic democracy seeking to protect the American way of life. All they need is the support of the people.

• • •

That is why today, the work of such groups as the Senate Small Business Committee headed by Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, is so vital.

• • •

Peace can only be a stranger in a world, where monopolies are permitted to ruthlessly grab control of all business.

• • •

In this nation, there are anti-trust and anti-monopoly laws. The same sinister forces of greed that are working to deprive the Japanese people of economic opportunity seek to destroy these laws.

• • •

So all the high flown oratory coming over the airwaves cannot gloss over this fact.

• • •

The biggest stride to world peace that can be made today is the restoration and protection of the health of American small business. Monopolies eventually offer nothing but bloodshed and death. There is no room for monopolies and democracy. One must perish.

West Rings Bell In Initial Start Against Marion

Pictured above is some of the fast action witnessed by hundreds of West High School grid fans last Friday night as the Cowboys of West edged out a scrappy Marion Harding team by a count of 19-7. In this action an army of brown and buff jerseys swarm over the white clad Presidents of Marion.

Paced by fleet-footed Charlie Hunter, West High School's football squad in its first game length tussle of the season swarmed over a challenging and tough grid aggregation from Marion Harding last Friday night.

The speedy Cowboy halfback scored twice on brilliant runs and pass snagging to give the charges of Mac Pamberton their first entry on the black side of the register. Earlier Jim Kimball, a West High guard, snagged a short over-the-line pass of Marion and traipsed over a 45-yard route into touchdown territory.

The passing combination of Jerry Johnson to Charlie Hunter, however, was the thorn in the side of the Presidents, who could not seem to fathom the deceptive fading of Hunter, who was fighting to redeem an early game fumble which set up the Marion touchdown march.

On Friday night of this week the Cowboy eleven will invade the confines of the Golden Bear of Upper Arlington in a quest for their second grid victory of the season. Early game observations in comparing the two teams would seem to give the Cowboy team the edge in Friday night's encounter. This is based upon the showing which Arlington made in last Friday's contest as a guest of South High, in which they were shut out by a 13-0 count.

Lineups of last Friday night's game were:

MARION HARDING

Tackles—T. Taylor, Arnold, Kasotic, Stanley.

Guards—Hendel, Larson, Bailey, Price, Turner.

Centers—Bull, Fees.

Backs—C. Taylor, McClain, Russell, Brady, Stoffer, Winters, Bibler, Chapman, Whaley.

COLUMBUS WEST

Ends—Trabue, Harrison, Smith, Reed, Proper.

Tackles—Thomas, Meyer, Horn, Voss, Whalen.

Guards—Guiffre, Martin, Kimball, Green.

Centers—Gleibs, Vincent.

Backs — Johnson, Hunter, Basye, Smith, Chapman, Cole, Dean, Onem.

Score by periods:

Marion Harding	7	0	0	0	7
West	6	6	6	7	19

Scoring summary:

Marion Harding touchdowns: McClain. Point after touchdown: Brady (placement).

West touchdowns: Hunter 2, Kimball. Point after touchdown: Trabue (placement).

Richard Goodrich

Mr. Editor: Richard (Dick) Goodrich, 1905 Jackson-av, was one of three fellows who camped with me three summers ago on Lake George, N. Y. He certainly was the neatest camper I ever had. His cot was made up neatly, and his shoes, etc., beneath it were always in perfect order. Though "Dick" seemingly did not speak 10 words during the two weeks camp, he is today one of my staunchest friends. Now he is in the service (navy) and the following letter to me again reveals his "mixing and other qualities." It will help some other Hilltop fellows who gripe about duty, I offer it as an antidote to those fellows who cannot seem to get anything out of our armed services.

W. "Doc" Campbell

Dear Doc:

How are you? I am fine. Please excuse me for writing so late, as they have been keeping us pretty busy lately. I sure do like it here in Florida so far. It is very pretty down here but a little hot at the present time. There are palm and different tropical trees all over the base. I have a very nice barracks, with a writing lounge, soke and candy machines.

I spent last week-end at Jacksonville Beach. Next week-end I think I will either go to Daytona Beach or St. Augustine. WE SURE DO GET GOOD FOOD HERE. We have PURE ORANGE JUICE every day because they have so much of it here. Going to school here is just like going to college. We have a lot of bookwork. My classes are mathematics, physics, hand tools, drafting and a lot of other shorter courses. I will get 70 hours of college physics. We still march to and from our classes.

How was your trip to New York? Did anyone go with you? After I graduate from here I will go on to another more advanced school. I wouldn't mind staying here during the winter.

We have swimming pools all over the base and it doesn't cost a thing. They have a nice canteen to go to in the evenings; also bowling, movies and other means of entertainment.

Well, this is about all I know for now, so will sign off till later.

Sincerely,
Dick

The Ohio Department of Liquor Control Friday refused to permit the transfer of a night club permit by Albert J. Alexander from 347 Barthman-av to Carl E. and Tessie M. Palmer at 1244 W. Mound-st.

Refusal of the transfer was based on the fact that a Minnie Warham has carryout and beer and wine drink permits at the W. Mound-st address, and has requested their renewal. The state liquor department pointed out that two permit holders cannot occupy the same residence.

Simply Peachy

By Betty Barclay

PEACHES are a universal favorite and still abundant and inexpensive. What more delightful way to show off their beauty and usher out the summer season than in this delicious Peach Cream Pie? An easy-to-prepare base, made with vanilla pudding and pie filling mix, calls for slices of juicy, ripe peaches, used generously as a garnish. For special occasions, try adding an unbaked meringue topping to give it that "something extra" that makes a party.

Peach Cream Pie

1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix; 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten; 2 cups milk; 1 baked 8-inch pie shell; unbaked Meringue; fresh peach slices.

Place packaged pudding in saucepan. Combine egg yolk and milk; add to pie filling mix gradually, blending well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened. Cool slightly (about 5 minutes), stirring once or twice. Turn into pie shell. Chill. Pile Unbaked Meringue around edge of pie, if desired. Garnish with peach slices.

Unbaked Meringue: Combine 1 unbeaten egg white, ¼ cup sugar, a dash of salt, and 1½ tablespoons water in top of double boiler; beat with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat 1 minute. Then remove from heat and continue beating 1 minute longer, or until mixture will stand in peaks. Add ¼ teaspoon vanilla. Pile lightly on pie filling.

The shoe industry was first established in Ohio at Cincinnati because of the importance of the meat packing industry there.

Q. What are these variety meats?
A. Kidneys. Left to right; veal, beef, lamb, pork.
Q. How are they prepared?
A. They are washed, the outer membrane removed, then split through the center to remove the fat and tubes. Following this procedure, beef and pork kidneys are braised or cooked in liquid as in kidney stew or steak and kidney pie. Veal and lamb kidneys may be prepared by either of these previous mentioned methods or may be broiled or panbroiled.

Cincinnati Music Hall, which played a distinguished role in Ohio's musical history, was completed in 1878.

Looking Ahead with J. W. Worrel

"And just why," said Bill with a touch of irony, "Should a healthy young ruffian like Bill Jr. require assurance at the age of ten?"

"For a variety of reasons," I replied, "Most of which are conclusive in themselves. For one thing, life assurance premiums on children are very small, but what is more important is that they remain at the same low rate all through life. Even if, in the future, he becomes uninsurable through ill health, the protection which you secure for him will continue as long as the original low regular premiums are paid. Also, it encourages the habit of thrift and impresses a boy with a true sense of the value of money. Think of it this way too — in the future, when he begins life in earnest, it may be the means of establishing business credit and financial backing."

"I could certainly have done with something like that fifteen years ago, when I started out, couldn't I, my dear?" said Bill, turning to his wife.

So Bill Jr. starts life with the great advantage of a Sun Life policy. It will stand him in good stead. If there is a Bill Jr. or a young Mary in your family, won't you give them this great helping hand? Call me about the Sun Life Junior Adjustable plan today.

Mothers may bring their pre-school age children to the morning play period to be conducted this season by Mrs. Dan Severance. Children from two through five years will be admitted to the nursery group for supervision, while their mothers attend the Ladies Day Out activities.

Among the classes to be offered will be basic sewing, beginners' and advanced Spanish, painting, sketching, and millinery. Qualified instructors will teach the groups.

Lecture series titled "You and Your Home" will be given by Ohio Wesleyan home economics professor, Mrs. R. A. Linville, at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Linville will give pointers on clothes, fabrics, buying, and practical ideas in home furnishings.

World Affairs Hour, at 11:45 a. m., will include in its schedule, Summer's News in Review, Sept. 27; A Look at Price Controls, Oct. 4; Point Four and Foreign Aid, Oct. 11; Current Issues and the UN, Oct. 25; Late Report from China, Nov. 1; and Social Problems in India, Nov. 15. Former associate of Mahatma Gandhi, Mr Nilkanth Chavre, will speak on Nov. 8.

Contemporary literature, fiction and non-fiction, will be reviewed in the afternoon session.

Evening classes will start Tuesday, Oct. 2. These activities, known as Hob-Nobbers Night, have been planned especially for the working wife and her husband.

Ceramics, one of the new courses, will be taught by Mrs. John Howald, who has been giving lessons in clay modeling for a number of years. The class will learn to make jewelry and household ornaments.

Mrs. Albert Faudree will instruct a for-ladies-only millinery class. Mrs. Faudree is a professional designer for a down-town department store. She has been teaching millinery at the YWCA for several seasons.

Bridge and Spanish will be offered again for beginners and advanced persons, and an informal book discussion group will meet under the guidance of Mrs. Claude Shortz. The book lore period is another new addition to Hob-Nobbers.

A Valentine That Grew Into A Full Time Job

Trabert teases some of his tropical fish into action with a fish net as he relates how a gift developed into a business.

Nearly seven years ago H. Trabert debated as to what sort of Valentine he could give to his wife —something which would be a bit out of the ordinary run of gifts— and came to the conclusion that an aquarium would be just the thing. He had but little idea at the time that the Valentine gift would some day lead to a full-time business project.

Six years passed and a little over a year ago the Traberts opened the aquarium at 2341 W. Broad st. The small aquarium given as a Valentine had grown to a point where they now had 18 10-gallon aquariums filled with many varieties of tropical fish which they began to sell.

A demand for more tropical fish and aquariums has led to a full time occupation for the Traberts. Just recently they installed 26 more aquariums and expect to install more in the near future. At present they have about 1000 fish in about 50 varieties as well as about 25 varieties of aquariums and the many accessories for them.

Most of the tropical fish are imported originally from South America. Some of them are live bearing with their babies free swimming as soon as they are born. Others are egg layers. One of the oddest varieties in the Trabert aquariums is the Kissing Gourami. These fish actually give the impression of kissing, when they place their mouths together in a kissing fashion.

Prevalent too, among the wide collection of tropical fish are Angel Fish and a specie from Sumari which will fight others as soon as he is placed into a tank.

It's an interesting bit of time that can be spent at Traberts watching the many species swimming about the aquariums and hearing Trabert tell you all about the different members of the finny tribe, their habits and odd methods of living.

When asked what she thought of her new job, Mrs. White said, "Starling is a very enjoyable place in which to work."

A farmer approached a friend who was working with hammer and nails on some pieces of wood.

"Heard your wife's been pretty sick," said the farmer.

"That's right," his friend replied. There were a few moments of silence.

"That her coughin'?" suddenly asked the farmer.

Bible Comment:

Jesus' Critics Found His Logic Unanswerable

[illegible] and critics have flourished since the beginning of time. They will continue to be with us until the end of time.

No matter how perfect he might have been in character and in actions, no man was ever so good as to escape criticism.

For the most part, the unjustly disparaged have gone their way being good and doing good, feeling keenly the criticism but accepting it as the expected penalty of one who dares to tell the truth without compromise. But there are times when even the most patient have found it necessary to answer the critic.

Jesus knew when to speak out, just as He knew when silence was most effective. The combined critics of the world could not have turned Him from what He purposed to do, but there were times when He felt it were best He answer his tormenters.

The bigots watched when He healed the man with the withered hand on the Sabbath Day, and the storm of criticism broke.

Jesus asked them if it was not lawful to do good and to save life on the Sabbath, and they could not answer. And because they had no answer they became enraged.

These critics were Pharisees but not all were ignoble. Among them were many of the truly devout.

Because of the unworthy ones among them the Pharisees have come to be thought of as an ignominous people. This, because a comparatively small number of hypocrites raised their voices above the larger number of the most sincere and earnest Jews of the time.

Perhaps some of Jesus' critics, by such answers of His, were made to think more clearly and to learn more of His infallible logic.

Men fell into two patterns after coming into contact with Him. They either became better men or their willfulness increased with their frustrated anger in having met a Master.

Families with Foresight Are Choosing Their Burial Lots Now at Sunset Cemetery

The purchase of your Family Burial Lot should be considered a sacred transaction. In the days that lie ahead some of your most cherished memories will be associated with that plot of ground. We, therefore, recommend that you make your selection NOW rather than at some future date when possible grief and emotion may tend to rob you of your very best judgment.

You have been thinking about it for years but never until now have you allowed that THINKING to be capitalized into ACTION.

As to the relative merits of Sunset Cemetery, Sunset speaks for itself. We suggest your comparing Sunset with any other cemetery in the Columbus area. Compare the LOCATION; compare the TOPOGRAPHY; compare the LANDSCAPING; compare the GENERAL UPKEEP; compare the PRICES of lots comparably located. That done, then "DECIDE FOR YOURSELF." Don't ever let any one high pressure you into buying one of the most sacred things you will ever own.

Burgess-Avenue EUB Plans Union Revival

A union revival will officially begin this Sunday night between the Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Avondale Evangelical United Brethren Church. Dr. Dewey Whitwell of Nashville, Tenn., will be the evangelist. Rev. D. S. Mills, pastor of the Avondale Church will direct the music.

The first week of union services will be held at Avondale. The second week of services will begin the following Sunday night, Sept. 30, at the Burgess Avenue Church and will continue through Oct. 7.

Rally Day Services To Continue At Burgess EUB

Rally Day services at Burgess Avenue EUB Church are off with a fire start.

This Sunday will be Young People's Rally Day at Burgess EUB Church with the young people appearing upon the 10:30 a. m. worship service in several manners. The pastor will deliver a sermon especially designed for youth.

The young people will have reserved sections at the center of the church, and some will sing in the choir. Special music will be rendered by different members.

On time

Here's something that always quickens the pulse rate of Young America: The sight of a big locomotive hurtling down the track as it keeps up to its split-second schedule on time.

The time element, of course, doesn't matter much at this age. But later on, for this young fellow and millions like him, time will be of the essence. Will he find that he has so much time on his hands that he's bored with life? Will he find himself so rushed that life loses its real meaning?

Or will he master time — just as his engineer friend does now — so that it will be his servant, not his master?

We say that the church can be of real help here. For in Sunday School, your child studies the lives and sayings of men who made their time count . . . men who lived each moment for all it was worth . . . men who gave to the world its heritage of religion and freedom.

The decision to send your child to Sunday School may take only a moment. But that moment will pay dividends in countless hours of happiness for him later on. For in the love and knowledge of God and His teachings lies the only true, lasting happiness.

Whoso keepeth the commandment shall feel no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth both time and judgment.
Eccl. 8-5

1—Information

Joe Briggs Says:

Most fires are a race between the fireman and the fire to see who can do the most damage.

So fire strikes! And family and friends surge forward in a pitiful effort to save a few meager belongings from the insatiable appetite of the blaze. Then come the regrets. "Why did I smoke in bed?" —"Why didn't I have an expert check the house wiring?" — "Why didn't I invest in adequate Fire Insurance?"

Joe Briggs says the time for YOU to act is NOW. See us for adequate Fire Insurance today.

"SMALL BUSINESS"
BY C. WILSON HARDER

Although General Eisenhower has directed the dropping of some big bombs, he dropped a far greater one on Washington according to the Senate subcommittee that conferred with him.

• • •

He as quoted by the Senators said the strength of the forces opposing Russia is so great that "it is almost ridiculous for us to be talking in terms of fright and hysteria."

C. W. Harder

• • •

Unfortunately for bureaucrats seeking to build bigger and bigger bureaus, this statement was aired as the Senate prepares to consider new appropriations, new tax bills.

• • •

But, He's comment followed closely the statement of General MacArthur in his Boston speech when he said "talk of imminent threat to our national security through the application of external force is pure nonsense."

• • •

More and more, it is becoming apparent that the nation's entire economic structure is being tied to a constant state of alarm.

• • •

While alarms ring out, monopoly seeks further destruction of anti-trust laws.

• • •

Senate hearings are being held on a bill again legalizing monopoly practice of juggling freight rates in the price of their products so that at no place in the country can the independent operator compete.

• • •

The assault on the nation's anti-trust laws is aided by officials with private axes to grind apart from their public life.

• • •

Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado recently asked House Judiciary Committee to suspend anti-trust laws insofar as they apply to organized baseball.

• • •

By a curious co-incidence, hearings developed that Senator Johnson is not only the president of the Western League, but also the head office of the Western League is listed as the Senate Office Building.

Sen. Johnson stated certain practices of organized baseball could well be reviewed in the light of anti-trust laws. But he urged that special laws be passed to exempt organized baseball from prosecution.

• • •

The same tired old arguments were voiced in principle by the motion picture industry.

• • •

The fact remains there is no room in this nation for any special privilege.

• • •

A law, riddled with loopholes, is no law.

• • •

The contents of this column sharply focus the entire situation today.

• • •

Politicians and burraucrats are doing their best to create hysteria to mask the assault on the American system of free enterprise, although two noted generals dispute the cry of alarm on the basis of military facts.

• • •

Many government officials plead this is not the time to enforce anti-trust laws because such actions take up official time needed for the war effort.

• • •

But a U. S. Senator has no hesitancy in taking up legislative time to seek special privileges for the owners of professional baseball in these so-called times of peril. Obviously, you do not repel the enemy from our shores with well directed spitballs.

• • •

So, it is entirely appropriate at this time to inquire.

• • •

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. The greatest cause of chronic disability in the United States is arthritis and other rheumatic diseases. The total number of victims is as great as the combined population of Los Angeles and Chicago, 7,500,000. There are 147,000 persons completely disabled from these causes, 800,000 partially disabled and more than 6,000,000 who suffer from continuous or recurrent pain. New drugs and treatments are helping many and offer the hope that medical science will add yet another to its list of conquered diseases.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. Trained health personnel is of supreme importance in defense against the results of atomic bombardment. Hospitals may be bombed out but it would be difficult to wipe out the trained personnel of an entire metropolitan area. So long as there are doctors, nurses and first aid workers in sufficient numbers, the injured can be cared for. Some member of every family should have first aid training.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. Before the days of antiseptic surgery, surgeons wore their oldest coats for operating and sometimes used the same coat for as long as 20 years. After Dr. Joseph Lister's discovery of the principle of antisepsis a radical change in dress occurred. Eventually the sterile hospital gown and mask as we know them today were adopted. Modern surgical cleanliness has saved countless lives.

Learn to Read Them

Turn the Pages, Little Son; You'll Live in Their Shadow

I read my daily newspaper and toss it on the floor. My two-year-old son comes toddling into the room and sits down to play with the pages. As he turns them, folds them, and listens curiously to the rustling of the paper, I find myself filled with meditation, with wonder.

I find myself speculating about the future of my son—and the effect of the newspaper. Now it is only a toy to him. But in a few short years he will be reading it; he will be studying its contents in search of knowledge and truth . . .

If you could understand, my son, what could I tell you about that mighty instrument of communication that you hold so casually in your tiny hands?

Will you learn to read it and understand, analyze, interpret? To cull the facts from the propaganda and apply them effectively to your own life?

There is so much I could say, my son. I could tell you, first, of the great sociological knowledge to be gleaned from your newspaper. I could tell you that only by reading of the actions of the individuals and groups who make up our own particular culture, and of the reactions of others, can we assure ourselves of right from wrong, of the acceptable from the non-acceptable.

Then, my son, I could tell you of the great value of the newspaper in the teaching of government. This is vitally important, and is perhaps the outstanding influence in our keeping democracy alive.

And finally, my son, I would warn you that the newspaper tells all, and that the decisions are yours in separating truth from fallacy in the quotings of men. I would beg of you to read all that the newspaper had to offer.

I would ask you to read, and be affected by accounts of the goriness and horrors of preliminary wars in other corners of this very small world, and not toss them off with a shrug, as I have. I would ask you to heed the warnings in your newspapers of approaching conflict, and to listen to the advice of the editors who would avoid coming to grips with other nations.

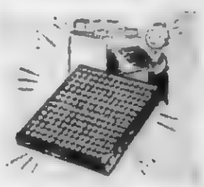
Turn the pages, son, and stare at the strange hieroglyphics. Never forget that the newspaper is your eternal shadow. In the span of existence, it is but an infinite particle of time behind you, recording your actions, your beliefs, and sometimes prophesying your destiny. You cannot escape it.

And if you and your generation survive, you must learn to read it, and study it and somehow develop a deeper understanding of yourself and your fellowman than I have in my generation.

(This is a condensed prize-winning essay written for the ANPA in 1948 by Dean Helms Jr., University of Indiana.)

COMFORT TIPS
by Claire Collins

The modern warm air winter air conditioning system can be used to provide convenience facilities as well as comfort benefits in the home. Here's an example:



Milady can have her own exclusive hair dryer installed in the bathroom. It's very easy. Just locate a small 4-inch by 6-inch warm air register in the bathroom wall about 40 inches up from the floor. When the lady of the house has finished shampooing her hair she can seat herself in front of this register and her hair will be dry in jig time.

If the bathroom is heated with a baseboard register the duct serving the hair dryer can be opened into the baseboard register box. When she wishes to dry her hair, the housewife merely closes the damper in be lower register, permitting the warmed air to flow out of the hair drying register.

Highland Pupils Proud Of Their Vacation's Work

Pupils of the Highland Avenue Elementary School proudly display their Garden Club exhibit of flowers, fruits and vegetables grown by them during the summer months. The exhibit is an annual affair in the city schools, being held the second week after the opening of school. Left to right in the photo are Sandra Armentrout, Glen Moler, Sharon Gibson, Beverly Wollma, Judy Dehman, Mary Grabill, Linda Pecker, Jean Henken, Jane Hinkle and Dean Grabill.

Other winners this summer were Louie Huffman, first and trophy for swine showmanship in Franklin County; Charles Spring, first and trophy for dairy showmanship in Franklin County; Dick Hansen, first and trophy for beef judging in five counties, also trophy for individual Hereford judging.

Dick Henson also won a $250 scholarship to Ohio State University for winning the trophy for individual Hereford judging.

Dick Fisher was awarded a four-year agricultural scholarship to OSU by placing in the top five in the Ohio competitive agricultural examination. Dick later refused the scholarship in favor of an athletic scholarship at Capital University.

NEW FACES SEEN
By Helen Kidwell

In the sophomore class are Louise Knight and Robert McCoy, both here from Dublin, and Carolyn Kidwell, newly arrived from Granville.

Among the juniors are most of the new students. There is Nancy Donley, from Dublin; Ray Snowden from Corning; Larry Seiler from Glouster. Then we have a pair of boys with us from West, Dave McDowell and Rex Lynch.

The seniors have fewer additions to their ranks. One little girl a long way from home is Norma Havens from Piketon, and Helen Kidwell, from Granville.

GIRLS' STATE

Another young lady who represented Hilliards High School this summer was Dora Jean George. She was the representative to Buckeye Girls' State, held June 17 to 24, at Capital University in Columbus.

This is the fifth annual Girls' State and over 500 girls from all over Ohio attended. These girls are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, who first evolved the idea for the Girls' State.

While the girls are there, they learn how the government of our state is operated. They have the privilege of running for any office, local, county, or state, and if they don't get an office, there are still many appointive jobs which are to be had. Every girl has a job. The high point of the week was after the election of the governor, when a banquet was held, and followed by a very impressive inauguration of all state officers.

I understand that BILL and GERTRUDE Fox got several squirrels this week. Even GERTRUDE is a pretty good shot herself. In fact she was more fortunate than her husband.

ARDITH PRINDLE had a wonderful time at Zaleski. She's going back again sometime. A week-end at one of the cottages there gave her a rest from the daily humdrum of the office.

BRUCE PARKER won't set his alarm any more. He set it for 5 o'clock instead of 6. You see, his wife went to her mother's out of town last Tuesday and since she always set the clock, BRUCE tampered with it and got up too early.

You've got a fine son there LOUIS. Yes, LOUIS HOLIDAY'S son, LEFTY, only eight years old, took two crying lost tots home from the playground over on COLUMBIAN-AV. LEFTY'S not much more than a tot himself.

Anybody want to buy two snails? ROBERTA LAFFE brought home some guppies from the river and found snails in the mud she picked up.

A non-paying proposition for the MURPHY-FINDLAY families. They trade baby-sitting for each other. When MURPHY'S "go out" the MRS. GEORGE FINDLAY watches their children, and visa-versa. If everyone did that, the baby sitting job would not be so hot for the high school sitters.

Generally speaking, HUGH HUGHES never cuts the grass. His son DANNY does it for a small wage. Well, after two days of rain, HUGH was glad to get out there himself since the grass turned green so miraculously.

Results Prove Worth of Ad

Once a Hilltopper always a Hilltopper . . . and once a user of Hilltop Record classified ads always a user of Record classified ads!

This is true of Mrs. Guye Rajesanyi, a former Hilltop resident who now lives at 332 E. 11th-av.

Mrs. Rajesanyi admits she always liked the Hilltop very much and would like to live here again. And she also says she has been a long time reader of The Hilltop Record and user of Record classified ads.

So last week when she had a bicycle for sale she called the Record again to do the job. And sure enough the Record came through just as she had expected. The bike was sold on the first call and she could have sold 25 such bikes.

If you haven't already had such a personal experience you may do so by placing your ad in the Record. Just call RA. 1125.

H. B. Valentine Accidentally Electrocuted

The lineman, the father of two children, was buried Monday at Newport, Ky, where services were held.

Permanent Civic Organization Is Joan Heights Plan

The creation of a permanent organization to further the civic interests of Joan Heights Addition was made last Monday evening when interested citizens of that area met at the home of Harold Cunningham, 3015 Valleyview-dr.

Chief topic of the organizational meeting was a review of plans to furnish a school bus for the 60 or more children of that area who attend West Broad Elementary School. Robert Draper of the board of education was present at the meeting to hear the plea for the school bus arrangement as a means of providing more safety for the children.

Another item on the agenda of the meeting was a discussion to present a request to the New York Central Railway to ask recognition by that firm of the N. Sylvan-av crossing and by such recognition to install adequate safety warnings. At present the railway does not recognize the grade crossing as a legal one and no warning devices are present.

Cunningham has been named as temporary chairman of the group pending the final organizational meeting.

Tiny Returns

Two Hearts Made Happy When Pet Comes Home

There were smiles at the Callif home, 672 Belvidere-av, Tuesday night when Tiny, pet Manchester of George Jr., was returned home after nearly a week's absence. George Jr. and sister, Susan, 3½, welcome home the prodigal in the above photo.

For the past week gloom reigned in the George Callif residence at 672 Belvidere-av, but all became sunshine and smiles again Tuesday night when "Tiny", the toy Manchester pet of young George Jr., was returned to the home by the boy's father who found the runaway pet at a Sullivant-av address.

Eight-year-old George Jr., who returned to school Monday after a seven weeks illness of polio, was near heartbreak during the past week when his small pet disappeared last Wednesday after a neighborhood youngster opened a yard gate at the Callif home.

West Side residents had been asked to keep a lookout for the tiny dog of black and tan who is the pet of the two Callif youngsters. George especially mourned the loss of his pal and pet. His mourning for the dog did not lend itself to any betterment of his condition after the serious illness he had just overcome and his parents were becoming worried.

Now, however, the children are again happy, the parents are happy and even "Tiny" is happy at being restored to his youthful master.

Complaints to the Humane Society and Sanitation Department brought "no action."

On the Monday following the game the films will be shown to members of the Booster club following the regular meeting. Monday night saw the showing of films taken during the Arlington-West game.

Improvement Of The City Parks Cited By Rhodes

The City of Columbus, famed as the city of parks and playgrounds, didn't get that way by accident. It was the result of hours of planning on the part of Mayor James A. Rhodes and city council imbued with the desire to keep Columbus among Ohio's most beautiful cities, according to city hall attaches this week.

Westgate Park was pointed out as one of the outstanding examples of park and playground improvements under the Rhodes administration. In this park the old shelter house has been completely repaired, including a new painted roof, and new gutters.

A new sewer has been installed through the park and lake. In the lake itself, now recognized as the most beautiful and well kept in the city of Columbus, new fountains have been erected, new walks have been made around the lake and new concrete benches and tables placed around the lake at vantage points. New lights have been installed in and around the park. All drives in the park have been repaired and a new black top laid on the drive around the shelterhouse. The lake, just dedicated during this past summer has been restocked with fish.

Pointing to other improvements in Westgate Park, the Division of Parks and Forestry which is charged with park maintenance said that a new water tank is under construction and that a new shelter house is to be built on the south side of the lake. Bids and contracts for the new shelterhouse which can be used both in winter and summer have already been let.

The manner in which this park improvement program has been achieved was also pointed out, citing the fact that in 1944 the Division of Parks and Forestry employed only 19 persons whereas now there are 43 people in the Division. In 1944 parks and playgrounds were alotted $51,000 and this year the department received $143,000, this increase in funds, it is said, has helped to place Columbus on the high pinnacle it now holds as one of Ohio's beauty spots.

Two Are Bound To Grand Jury

George Robertson of West Jefferson and John F. Thompton, 230 Mix-rd, were bound over to the Franklin County Grand Jury under $2000 and $5000 bond respectively, Sept. 19, in connection with a blaze at Buckeye Camp on Rt. 40, Sept. 14.

Sheriff's Deputy James Potts said Robertson and Thompson are accused of setting fire to the two-story frame structure located near West Jefferson. Mrs. Fred Buel who lived on the second floor of the building and Thurman Lyons of West Jefferson were both burned in the fire.

Green Charges Water Shortage Unnecessary

A denunciation of the tactics of what he termed "The Rhodes Gang," in solving the city's water crisis, was made this week by Floyd F. Green, candidate for mayor.

In addition to the water situation, Green said that the more, than $2,600,000 in findings returned against the administration is proof enough of the inability of those in power to cope with municipal problems. He said: "These findings are not something imaginary. They were made by state auditors checking the books. They were made for 'illegal' and questionable' spending of money in violation of the city charter and state laws."

Green pointed out that in 1947 and 1948 United States Army engineers submitted a flood control and water supply plan that the city could have shared on a 50-50 basis. This was turned down by the Rhodes administration, Green charged.

"Residents who went through terrifying crisis after crisis this past summer, because of lack of water, are now paying a fee of $300,000 for a 'study' by hand-picked engineers on a job for which expert army engineers already have made plans," Green pointed out.

The former mayor recounted how at the end of his term he had a plan ready for supplying the needs of a growing city. "Now nearly seven years later," he said, "the Rhodes gang still is 'mapping plans' and 'appointing committees' to do a long overdue job.

"Had this administration not 'pussyfooted,' Green said, "residents would have their water and the 'water shortage' would not be a vital issue in this campaign and an issue for which the Rhodes regime has no answer."

"Wet Pavements No Basis For Claim"—Council

"I tore my hose, bruised my knee and hurt my pride," wrote Mrs. Earl R. Parsons, Chicopee Falls, Mass., to Columbus city councilmen in pressing her claim for a pair of hose ruined on a trip to Columbus.

Mrs. Parsons wrote that on July 30 she fell at W. Broad-st and Warren-av just after the street had been sprinkled. She blamed the wet pavement for the accident.

The city council however turned down her claim for $1.19 with the explanation it would cost the city $8 to process payment to Mrs. Parsons and further pointed out, "She knew the pavement was wet. Why, if we paid her claim we'd get one every time anyone falls down in the rain."

The woman is "all wet" in making her claim say council members.

Two rabbit hunters were discussing the question of what rabbits ate. One of them said they ate only carrots while the other insisted their diet consisted entirely of lettuce. So they bought five rabbits and cut them open, finding out that they fed exclusively on turnip greens. Moral: Few arguments are settled by splitting hares.

"Jack hasn't come home. Am worried. Is he spending the night with you?" wired Smith's wife to five of his lodge brothers.

Soon after, the husband arrived home, and before long a messenger boy came in with five replies to the wires his wife had sent. They all read:

United Appeals — One Package Drive

Recruitment of volunteer workers in all parts of Columbus and Franklin County was going on this week in preparation for one of the biggest fund drives ever held here.

This is the joint campaign of United Appeals and Red Cross, with Community Chest, Central Ohio Heart Association, Cancer Society and USO all taking part in a single, fund-raising effort.

The official campaign dates will be Oct. 22 to Nov. 15, and the combined goals of the participating health and welfare organizations will be $2,154,780.

Individual goals are: Community Chest (for 66 agencies), $1,500,960; Red Cross, $425,000; USO and United Defense Fund, $104,000; Heart Association, $49,820; Cancer Society, $75,000.

"This united campaign will answer the many contributors, large and small, who have raised their voices in recent years in complaint against 'too many drives.'" Robert Rex said. "They now will have the opportunity of giving to '70 campaigns in one package.'"

It is estimated that more than 6,500 volunteers will be giving their time to work on this unified campaign.

Controls and Small Business

No one in a position of high responsibility in Washington seems to know it, but when the government clamps down all-out controls on manpower and materials, small business, not big business, takes the beating.

This fact was recently pointed out by the head of a very big business—Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Company. Mr. Ford realizes that certain controls are needed because of the armament program. But, he observed, "In the first two years of World War II, 16 per cent of the so-called small businessmen of the country were forced to shut up shop under a system of all-out controls. I am told that there is some suspicion even now that when the fatality count is known, this time, the small business liquidation rate may be even higher than it was in 1942 and 1943. That's not because there's nothing for small business to do, but because many small businesses are less able to withstand the strangling grip of controls."

Mr. Ford protested particularly at the uncertainty and confusion which emanates from Washington. He observed, "We can't plan our business on rumors." The big business, of course, can stagger along somehow. But the small business can't. It's time the deep-thinkers in Washington came down to earth.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILTON HARDER

Washington is hot this time of the year, but plans are formulated which chill observers. One of these plans is to create a new agency for foreign aid with Cabinet rank.

• • •

Obviously, if a Cabinet officer in charge of foreign aid is planned, a permanent foreign aid program is also planned.

C. W. Harder

• • •

This proposal may result in the long-delayed showdown.

• • •

There is a growing awareness that talk about cutting government expenditures; reducing taxes is a smokescreen. It is being felt the question is, "How many pounds of flesh can we slice from the American taxpayer before rigor mortis sets in?"

• • •

The Marshall Plan was promoted as necessary to alleviate human postwar suffering in Europe. American people, always generous, responded.

• • •

Bureaucratic Marshall Plan supporters claimed anyone who opposed was a Communist sympathizer. In fact, attitude toward the Marshall Plan became one of the points on which an American's loyalty was judged.

• • •

But now, a few years, and many billions of dollars later, it appears probable that ending the Marshall Plan would be a severe blow to the Kremlin.

• • •

Russian planners, with their long range views, undoubtedly feel the Marshall Plan is doing more to promote Communism than anything they could ever accomplish by force.

• • •

The operation of the Marshall Plan has gone a long way toward accomplishing the two objectives long cherished by Stalin.

One objective is the impoverishment of America. He knows there is a limit to American resources, and that when the time comes Americans are forced to lower standards of living, the world's only living challenge to the opponents of the capitalistic system, American prosperity, will be lost.

• • •

The other objective is, even more far reaching.

• • •

As admitted by Marshall Plan officials, the Marshall Plan billions have failed to help the little man of Europe, but they have built up European monopolies to their greatest stature.

• • •

So today, thanks to American bureaucratic meddling in Europe, Europe is a powder keg. The fuse and the match are prepared.

• • •

The match is the discontent of the impoverished millions. The fuse is the concentration of European wealth in a few big monopolies made fatter by American dollars, and easy prey for communists.

• • •

Slowly it is becoming apparent that the Marshall Plan is being used by a few big monopoly-minded American corporations with associations in Europe to become more powerful on American tax dollars.

• • •

In the meanime, many bureaucrats turn a deaf ear toward the need for enforcement of the anti-trust laws to insure that the American system of free enterprise will continue.

• • •

• • •

But today, millions are seeing the course the bureaucrats have tried to steer. They are protesting to their elected representatives. Recent actions in Congress indicate that with continued protests, the American system can be saved.

ADVANCEMENTS IN Surgery

Advances in Surgery during the past ten years have been largely a refinement of methods worked out in principle during the preceding ten or twenty years. However, the increased efficiency of post-operative treatment, anesthetic administration and skill of surgeons today accomplishes wonders in healing human suffering.

The Surgeon now can be surer of his diagnosis, through X-ray study and special preparations that give him a true picture of diseased organs, especially the stomach, intestines, gall bladder and kidneys.

Insulin makes it possible to operate on the diabetic when necessary, almost as on the normally healthy patient. Modern gaseous and spinal anesthesia are helpful in decreasing post-operative reaction and nausea. Special instruments, used by the modern surgeon, shorten operation time and lessen resultant shock.

Efficient hospital care plays a most important part in the surgical picture of advancement. Even the most skilled surgeon would be handicapped without access to modernly equipped hospitals, dedicated to his use and the healing of his patient.

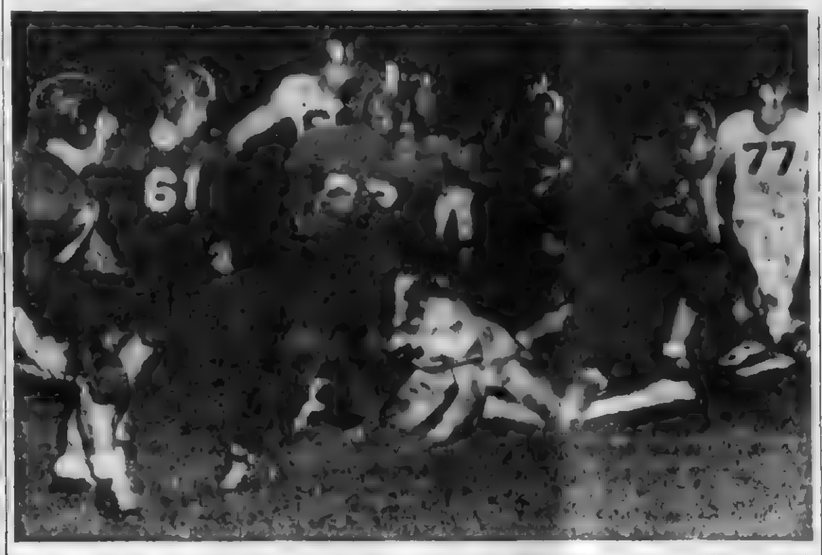
West Racks Up Second Gridiron Victory In Defeating Arlington 21-12

OOPS! and away flies the ball from Arlington's Campbell on a tackle by Ron Grant of West during the second quarter of the West-Arlington game Friday night. West recovered this one to end an Arlington threat.



BACKBREAKER . . . Arlington's Golden Bears were plenty hep to the speed and versatility of West's Charlie Hunter. In this action shot during the first quarter they effectively throttle the Cowboy speedster in the fashion shown. Note one tackler has Hunter by the throat while another falls across in wrestling fashion.

TOUCHDOWN — Into the land of milk and honey squirms Cowboy quarterback Jerry Johnson for a six pointer on a quarterback sneak play in the first quarter of the Arlington-West game. A split second after the photo was snapped Johnson landed in pay dirt territory.

Knee Is Injured

Walter Riggs, 57, of 630 S. Burgess-av was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital with a knee injury Saturday following an auto collision at Sandusky-st and Sullivant-av.

LONG GALLOP COMING UP — Charles Hunter, flashy Cowboy half back, starts to pick'em up and put them down in rapid fashion in this shot as his blocking interference begins to form for a long 85 yard gallop downfield and across the Golden Bear goal.

Poor Blocking And Mistakes By Cowboys Keep Down Score

Although they came home on the long end of a 21-12 score from the Arlington Golden Bear baliwick Friday night, West High's Cowboy aggregation weren't feeling so chipper about their second victory of the season. There were too many mistakes, poor blocking and a general lack of pep that has characterized previous Pemberton coached elevens.

Paced by Jerry Johnson and Charlie Hunter, the Cowboy team on the statistical side of the book completely outplayed the Arlington squad. On the ground they racked up 168 yards with Hunter the big gun in that department accounting for 121 yards. Arlington's net yardage was rated at 17. Mistakes in timing, blocking and ball handling, however, enabled the Golden Bears to rack up 12 big points on the scoreboard that belied the actual play that took place on the field.

Jerry Johnson scored twice on runs inside the six yard line. The first scoring drive started on Arlington's 42 yard line from where Johnson passed to Charley Hunter, who made a diving catch for a first down on the 26. Hunter, aided by Whitey Smith's blocking, then sped down to the 10-yard marker. Smith and Hunter alternated to carry the ball down to the 2, from where Johnson sneaked across for the touchdown. Trabue's kick was blocked.

A Van Fossen to Minton pass, which covered 79 yards, set up Arlington's first score. Butch Campbell went over for the tally. The kick was blocked by the middle of West's line.

Arlington's return kick-off was received by Jerry Johnson on the Cowboy 12. Racing to his right, he criss-crossed with Hunter on the 15 and with neat deception gave the pigskin to Hunter, who ambled down the left sideline for an 85 yard gallop that was the highlight of the game. Hunter's run on the kick-off return was the longest during the encounter.

Late in the second period, when Phil Van Deventer intentionally grounded the ball to avoid being tackled, West gained 2 points for a safety.

As the third period drew to a close, Chick Ealy recovered a Bear fumble on their 45 yard line. In eight plays the Cowboys drove down to the 6 from where Johnson raced around end to score. Smith went off tackle for the extra point.

A bad pass from center, which was recovered by Arlington on West's 30 set up the Godlen Bears' final 6 points. In two plays they scored with Kirwin going to the 15 and Van Fossen shaking loose for the final 15 yards.

The Cowboys stalled the remainder of the game to win their second contest of the season.

Friday night the Cowboys will play host to the unbeaten South High Buldogs in their first City League tilt. The game will be featured by Bill Corley over Radio Station WBNS as the "Game of the Week".

South Wallops Grandview 32-0

Chuck Gilbert's South High Bulldogs, next opponent of West, remained unscored upon as they overpowered a desperate Grandview eleven last Friday night by 32-0.

The running of Charley Peake and passing of Chuck Robson sparked the Bulldog attack, as South scored all 32 of their points in the second and third periods.

Grandview could do nothing against the rugged defense of the Southsiders' line headed by big Dave Debolt who outcharged the less experienced Grandview forward wall all evening.

SPORT SLANTS

Friday night the Cowboys of West High will meet South High's football team on the West gridiron. The Bulldogs, under the leadership of Chuck Gilbert, are one of the leading contenders for the City League title, after many years of being the doormat for the league. The Cowboys will field a team of boys who are out to win the ball game and not for personal glory, as were some of the players on the team the last few years.

The Cowboys on the field show a lot of teamwork and spirit, which reminds us of the great '47 and '48 teams. If those of you who read this, will come out to the ballgame Friday, I guarantee that, win or lose, you will be given your money's worth.

West's Phoeney "Chappie" Chapman, defensive tackle, had to sit out the Arlington game because of a swelling in his left elbow. The full extent of his injury is not known at this writing.

Bob Epps, West's All-City center of '49, has returned from UCLA. Bob was not fully recovered from an operation which occurred last summer, so he decided to lay off football for this season.

Jack Thrush, former football, basketball, and baseball star at West, was married last Saturday night to Donna Raymond, who is also a West graduate.

Sam and Bill went duck hunting. Sam saw a duck far overhead and gave it both barrels. To his delight he saw the bird fall to the ground "Boy, you sure wasted that powder, Sam," said Bill. Whereupon Sam turned and asked "Didn't I get the bird?"

"Sure you did," said Bill, "But the fall would have killed him anyway."

The Number One American Habit

The mail carrier delivers the Record every Thursday, and, starts people reaching for the news — all over the Hilltop. Ever think of it that way? It's the great American Habit, this eager reaching for the truth, this wanting to know what's going on — everywhere and without the slightest delay at all.

It's a good habit, too, for here is the foundation of the freedoms we cherish so deeply. In knowing what's going on lies our capacity for the making of choices, which is the very essence of our individual liberty.

It is at this point that our favorite newspaper becomes so important to our way of life. For in its pages are presented the kaleidoscopic changes occurring constantly — the truth of what's going on in your community — the facts from which we, as individuals, determine for ourselves how we will vote, whom we will patronize, what we will think, and what we will do.

Dear Editor: I am a man
Who feels that man is royal;
To whom the lesser sex should be
Subservient and loyal.

That woman's born to be man's slave
And bear the brunt and burden;
To heed his every beck and call,
His tolerance her guerdon.

And if she's insubordinate—
To be controlled with lashes

And carry out the ashes.)

Way back in 1936-7-8, I did a column. In looking over some of them I found this:

Nightmare, after an evening of radioing. It LUX to me as though she is LYON. If I only knew she was TALON the truth. Maybe It's my JELLOxy, so why should IPANA? Would she love me so ARDENTLY if I HUDNUT my great wealth? If another man is ASPIRIN to her affections I will have to BAYER up. I WOODBURY the past if she would. Some HORMEL come to her is she's BENGAY and doesn't turn TUMS down. IVORY girl wants romance but IODENT trust her FORHAN instant. But HOUBIGANT all this anyway? Oh well, it filled up this space.

Westway Postscripts

Senior Vice Commander Dick Martin is sojourning in the south as a reserve guest of Uncle Sam. Dick is a member of a branch of the Air Corps Reserve and daily puts on a command performance (and it better be good).

Regional hospital chairman Emma Russell in company of Valley Forg, Department of Ohio Hospital chairman, and Franklin County Hospital chairman, Magda Chapman, provided entertainment to 74 'vets' at the State Hospital last Wednesday evening. Along with a one-and-a-half hour entertainment programme the boys received gifts of fruit, candy bars, chewing gum, cookies, pocket combs, etc. Thursday evening the same treat was furnished to 34 vets at Benjamin Franklin Hospital; of course, the entertainment portion was taboo at this hospital. Wonderful work, ladies, such thoughtfulness will surely add "more stars in your crown."

RAGS FOR RUGS—Each Thursday at 9:30 a. m., post headquarters, the ladies of the auxiliary gather to sew rags which they present to the blind veterans at the Dayton facility. The veterans weave those rags into rugs. About 12:30 p. m. the ladies of the nimble fingers partake of a pot-luck; at 1:30 p. m. no luck, nothing in the pot.

The most sincere sympathy of the post and auxiliary to the Zulauf family in their recent bereavement.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

One light-hearted little boy was glad to get back to school this week. GEORGIE CALLIF entered his classes Monday after a siege of illness. He's perfectly all right and his mother and daddy are certainly relieved that he is so healthy now.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bendetti just returned from Canada and New York. They enjoyed it so last year that this time they spent more time there. They bought more postcards and folders because they said they are prettier than some pictures taken by themselves.

The CARL HUGHES really enjoy their Studebaker. It's a sharp looking cream colored job.

Who knows what will come next? Last Saturday it rained all day (April showers, you know).

And everytime HAL BOWEN went out to cement his walk, it would start to rain. So believe it or not, he made a molding—poured it inside, and took it out later to set before the sun went down. Did it work, HAL?

Cleaning windows, BILL McKEENAN slipped on the ladder and ran his putty knife through a pane of glass. Now he complains it's cheaper to hire some one to do it.

Cutting his grass for the last time, he HOPED, RUSTY FOX unsharpened his lawn mower by ramming into a tree branch he didn't see. He says now the old grass can wait until next spring to get sheared.

GRANDMA HOPKINS is taking walks again. She's not stealing them. I mean she's out walking again.

GRANNY got sick last summer and everyone missed seeing her. Glad you are out again MRS. HOPKINS!

Mr. and Mrs. Loran Highfill took a train trip westward. Their stop-over at Portland, Oregon, on the way to Seattle was one they would not have missed for anything. They enjoyed the Canadian mountains especially on their boat trip up to Victoria, the quaint little town above Washington—in Canada.

MARIE GOLDMAN, where did you get that antenna? The feather on your hat must sweep your door-way when you enter.

My wife doesn't wear hats so I don't have to worry what creation she will bring home next. All kidding aside, MARIE, your perky looking hat is smart.

"Andy" Anderson Named Assistant At AG Supermarket

O. L. "Andy" Anderson, 505 N. Hague-av, has been appointed as assistant store manager at AG Super-Market, 120 W. Mound-st, according to announcement made earlier this week.

"Andy" brings 12 years of A&P Super-Market experience to his new job, having been store manager at 866 W. Broad-st and dairy department manager at 2872 W. Broad-st.

"Andy" and Mrs. Anderson, the former Dorothy Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Miller have three children, Edward, 8, Sandra, 5, and David, age 8.

The AG Super-Market is currently observing its 31st year in business, 25 years of which have been at the present location. Oscar Goodheil, the eldest son of the founder of the store, is carrying on the business.

Said Goodheil today, "The policy which was set up when the store first moved into Columbus from Orange, Calif., is still in effect. That policy is to help thrifty people save money, by themselves helping, in the process of cutting overhead expenses."

As an aid to easier shopping AG recently installed one of the fastest speed check-out systems used in the grocery business with large grocery carts and motorized key cash registers. An 18 foot refrigerated produce case has also been added for shopping ease.

A 19 inch television is to be awarded Saturday as part of the anniversary observance.

Hilltop Church To Conduct Religious Survey Sunday

Pictured above are 25 of the 40 members of the Hilltop Church of Christ (Disciples) who will participate in a neighborhood religious census next Sunday. Left to right, standing on church lawn: Herbert Hickman, Mrs. Worthy Law, Dorothy Lampson, Mrs. Elza Miles, Mrs. Archie Parker, Janet Hickman, E. C. Wilkes, Rev. Carl Smith, Mrs. Paul Marziuf, Mrs. Wilbur Kegg, Mrs. Willard Lindberg, Alva Dixon, Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Miles McFarland, Mrs. Orville Longerbene and Gary Koontz. Standing on steps, left to right, are Ronald Dixon, Clem Bergman, George Marziuf, Robert Dixon, Robert Verner and James Rose.

Next Sunday 40 members of the Hilltop Church of Christ (Disciples) will take a religious census of the neighborhood surrounding the church.

The area to be covered is bounded by Broad-st and Sullivant-av on the north and south, and Eureka-av and Powell-av on the east and west.

The purpose of the census will be to determine the religious affiliation of the church's neighbors and also to secure a basis on which the church can meet its responsibility in the neighborhood.

In discussing the census, the minister, Carl Smith, said, "We are taking this census because we are interested in our neighborhood. We want to know the people whom we should be serving. But we do not mean this census to serve our church alone. If we call on someone who would like to get in touch with another church we will inform the appropriate minister. Although we will survey our own neighborhood, we see this project as one which will benefit other churches and potential church members as well."

The actual census taking will begin Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and should be concluded an hour and a half later.

ASK THE WIDOW WHO DIDN'T OWN ONE

In the all important matter of buying a family burial lot "in advance of need" practically all families not now owning a burial lot fall into one of the following classifications:

1. Those who say they do not believe it ever should be done.
2. Those who have never even thought of the matter.
3. Those who have thought of it but for some reason honestly shrink from any serious thinking along that line.
4. Those who have thought about it and have felt they SHOULD do something about it, but "not just now" at some future time they intend to buy their lot.

No matter into which classification your family happens to fall, we make this one serious suggestion, ASK THE WIDOW WHO DIDN'T OWN ONE. Let that widow tell you her own story of the added confusion, added grief, added anxiety and added inconvenience she had to endure when necessity forced her to decide, first of all, in which cemetery she would bury her loved one. That having been decided then try to decide which location in that particular cemetery her husband would have chosen for his final resting place. On her answer we rest our case.

Why not settle this matter NOW while you are enjoying your top income? Do it while the whole family can smile and be happy about it and all have the opportunity to participate in the selection at

Bible Comment:

By Tangible Acts Jesus Explained True Greatness

THE interpretations we put on everything we see, touch, and hear are very personal things indeed. There can be all the difference in the world between the way we see a thing and the way that same thing is seen by our neighbor.

And so, while many of us may have an idea of what constitutes true greatness, it may differ greatly from what others think. It may even be far removed from the truth. It quite often is.

Men from the earliest days down to the present time have found it difficult to learn the meaning of true greatness.

Some if not all of the disciples of Jesus at times displayed an incredible misunderstanding of their Master and His spirit so that it seems almost amazing that they ever came to be His followers, unless we accept that they were of the belief that Jesus was about to set up a kingdom.

Their minds and hearts, it would seem, were at this time full of this earthly kingdom. They even disputed with one another about which of them was greatest.

Here, Jesus taught them the lesson of true greatness. He set a little child in their midst to remind them they must become as little children if they would enter His kingdom.

Jesus made the lesson plain to them by specific acts as well as by His general example, as for instance, when He washed his disciples' feet. And this incident, occuring near the end of the ministry of Jesus, shows how slow the disciples were in learning. But aren't we all?

Too many of us are intent on seeking a personal kingdom of our own as a manifestation of our own greatness. But by so doing we quite often lose sight of the true and only greatness—that of the kingdom of God.

And the batter's ready for it. He has a split second to wait. He has to decide. For the count's at three and two.

And then he decides. You see the shoulder muscles tighten under the woolen shirt, the left leg thrust closer towards the plate, the brown hands and long arms suddenly bring the bat around in a swinging shaft of light.

You're on your feet with the rest of the crowd now. For—he's got a hit . . . HE'S ON!

He got that hit through training, observing the rules of the game, and believing that he would meet the right ball when the time came, and meeting it hard and clean and sharp.

Like him, you will have hurried decisions to make in life, and like him, you need faith in yourself.

Your church can help you with that faith, by first helping you build your faith in God. Your church can help you understand the rules of another game—the game of life—if you will give it the opportunity by attending the Sunday services of the church of your choice.

Your church training will help you make good decisions—good for you, good for your fellow men . . .

Choose ye this day whom ye will serve.
JOSHUA 24-15.

For the day of the Lord is near in the valley of decision.

. . . as the saying goes in France-across-the-sea. On this side of the ocean we say "Everybody to his own taste." But a family taste test will give a happy vote of approval to this recipe for Frozen Crunch, a delightful new cooler that is as refreshing as a sea breeze itself. It's a mixture of ice cream, nut meats, and the new candy-coated rice cereal that lends itself so well to recipes:

Frozen Crunch
2 tablespoons butter
⅓ cup chopped nut meats
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
3 cups candy-coated rice cereal, crushed
Dash of salt

2 teaspoons gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1¾ cups hot milk
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup cream, whipped
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt butter in skillet over low heat. Add nut meats and brown lightly. Add brown sugar and cook, stirring constantly, until sugar melts and caramelizes slightly. Add cereal and salt; mix well. Cool and crumble.

Combine gelatin and cold water; mix well. Add hot milk and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add sugar and salt and mix well. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in whipped cream and vanilla.

Turn into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator, setting control for coldest freezing temperature. When partially frozen, turn into a chilled bowl and beat with rotary egg beater until fluffy and smooth. Fold in ¾ of the cereal mixture. Return to tray and freeze 30 minutes longer; stir. Then sprinkle remaining cereal mixture over the top and freeze until firm. Freezing time: 3 to 4 hours. Makes 1 quart.

You can even European-ize this interesting treat: for Mock Biscuit Tortoni, simply turn the ice cream and cereal mixture into 4- or 6-ounce paper cups. Top them with the remaining cereal mixture and freeze them until firm. This makes 12 to 16 servings.

The Community Loses A Good Citizen and Friend

This community mourns the loss of Chester C. Cook, long a resident of the Hilltop and known far and wide for his many worthy efforts for good to other people

Among other programs of the community he was a staunch supporter of the Hilltop YMCA and had the vision to see a fine building for the Y in the near future.

The community will miss him.

National Newspaper Week Is Being Observed

This is National Newspaper Week and your community newspaper joins in fitting observance of the occasion

Most important thought of the day is to remember that a strong nation can remain strong only through a free press

America is to be envied for its strong daily and weekly papers in every sector of the country.

Locally, it is our field to be alert to the needs of our community and stand for every cause that will promote a stronger link in the great national chain of strength. To this end we pledge our continued efforts

Congratulations, Times!

First issue of the new Catholic Times came off our new Cosmopolitan press just a few hours before the Record went to press this week

The new paper which replaces the former Columbus Register, is smart in design and appearance and well edited. We believe the many readers of the new paper will find it interesting in every detail.

We take this opportunity to extend our best wishes for success to the staff of The Catholic Times.

Westgate School Work Remains At A Stalemate

Although the picketing at the site of the new Westgate Elementary School has been called to a halt by the Columbus Building Trades Council, the indications are that the work on the new school structure will not be resumed at any date in the near future, or as for that matter at any time

Since Sept. 6 when the picket line was established by the Building Trades Council, workmen for the Ang Construction Company holding union cards have not reported for work. Last Wednesday the union picket was called off by order of the council. Chief protest as voiced by the union is the awarding of the electrical contract to a non-union firm.

Ross Boggs, Columbus Buildings Trades Council president this week predicted that union workmen would not report to work even if a picket were not on the job. From some sources it was the opinion the withdrawing of the picket was but a token gesture on the part of the unions, to quell some of the ill feeling that has been voiced by residents of the community toward unions in general over the picketing and work stoppage. From the same sources it was indicated that although the picket was withdrawn that the order doing so was but "a silent order" to union workmen not to report for duty.

The Building Trades Council indicated that the reason for withdrawal of the picket was because of lack of sufficient funds to continue the picket's pay. Boggs on the other hand said, "There's been no solution to the problem. The picket's off and if the men want to go to work, they're free to."

Phil O'Day, council secretary in a statement last week said, "The public clamored for withdrawal of the picket, so we withdrew him. If the men in the individual unions care to go to work they can. I do not know if they care to work on that project. A non-union condition still exists."

The action of the Building Trades Council in withdrawing the picket and issuance of statements that the union workmen may return to work if they desire has had the effect of placing the general contractor, A. E. George, on the proverbial spot.

This week the Columbus Board of Education refused George a two-week extension on the contract because of the stoppage of work incurred by the picketing. Contracts for the new school were awarded Sept. 6 and it was originally scheduled for completion on April 1, 1952

Lions Auxiliary Meets Oct. 9

The Hilltop Lions Auxiliary will hold its second meeting of the season Oct. 9, 7.30 p. m. at 3178 W. Broad-st.

The guest speaker will be Joseph Florio, hairstylist whose subject will be "Hair Styles in Connection with the New Fashion Trends." Mr. Florio has recently returned from a tour of New York, Paris, France; Italy, Switzerland, Nova Scotia, and England where he had an opportunity to see and study all the new predictions for fall and spring fashions and hair styles

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. F. Higgens and Mrs. A. L. Brown.

"Yippee! We Beat South"

West High School Principal Irvin F. Young, all togged out in a 10 gallon sombrero, was all smiles last Friday evening after Coach Mack Pemberton's Cowboy eleven had walloped the South Bulldogs by a 33-13 score. In the locker room following the contest he expresses his congratulations to the West High football mentor.

West-Central Grid Game In Spotlight

There'll be fireworks a poppin' Friday night around Magly Field at West High School when the gridiron spotlight is focused upon two of the city's oldest rivals in grid warfare. Unbeaten West High's Cowboy squad collides with tough and unpredictable Central in what promises to be the outstanding game of the week in local high school football circles.

Certainly there is never any love lost when these two teams meet each season. Regardless of where their respective schedules call for them to meet during the season, each is out to upset the proverbial apple cart for the other and this year is no exception to the rule.

As a matter of fact, the situation of each of the teams is such that Friday night's contest might well determine the future grid fortunes of each team. Central has the scoring power with which to make a very uncomfortable evening for the Pemberton coached aggregation, and coupled with this scoring ability is the determination to prove that the Marion Harding loss of last week was just "one of those things" that can happen to anyone. Reports from the Pirate camp indicate that Dave Parks will have his boys "up" for this encounter.

West's Cowboys, victors over Marion Harding, Upper Arlington and South, have their work cut out for them tomorrow night. They have to stop the running and passing attack of "Hop" Cassady, the Pirates' workhorse halfback, who has given all opponents this year a clear-cut case of jitters every time he handles the ball. It is reported, too, that Cassady handles the ball on more than 75 percent of Central's plays. Main targets for Cassady's passing are Bill Hairston and six foot five inch Ted Alexander, a glue fingered end.

While Central is endowed with Cassady, Hairston and Alexander, the boys "on the Hill" also have speed merchant material in the persons of Johnson, Hunter, Smith, Basey and Chapman. Hunter, the leading scorer in the city at present, last week hung up five touchdowns against the hapless South team, while his teammates were showing a vicious brand of blocking and tackling that hasn't been seen on a local high school field in many a season. This type of rugged football could well again prove the deciding factor in Friday night's tilt.

Indications are that Friday night's affair will be a free scoring tilt from start to finish with the better defensive team getting the decision

Chester C. Cook, 81 N. Warren-av, for years the "Santa Claus" of the Shrine's Christmas party for children, died Sept. 26 after several months serious illness with cancer of the bone. He was released from University Hospital a week prior to his death because he wished to spend his last days at home among his many friends.

Cook, president and treasurer of the Poston Consolidated Coal Co., an affiliate of Sunday Creek Coal Co., was well known for philanthropic work in many fields. He was a trustee of Children's Hospital, Mt. Carmel Hospital and the Aladdin Temple Crippled Children's Hospital Association. Active for many years in health work and especially with crippled children, he was auditor and trustee of the Ohio Public Health Association from 1937 to 1947.

He was a member of the Police Pension Board for years and during the last war he was administrator of transportation for Franklin County.

Prominent in business and a member of the Columbus and national Chamber of Commerce, he was a director of the Buckeye Coal and Railway Co.; trustee for the heirs of the John S. Jones estate; president and treasurer of the Granville Inn and Golf Course, Inc., and a member of the American Coal Sales Association and the Ohio Coal Operators' Association.

He was a 33rd degree Mason; past potentate of Aladdin Temple; grand orator of the Red Cross of Constantine; a member of Columbus Council and Temple Chapter, Mt. Vernon Commandery of Knights Templar, and the York and West Gate Lodges. He was for several years first lieutenant commander of the Scioto Consistory and since 1935 was chairman of Aladdin's Santa Claus Committee

He belonged to the Columbus Country Club, Columbus Club, Athletic Club, and was past president of the Rotary Club and a charter member of the Faculty Club of Ohio State University.

Court Battle Looms To Set Aside Local Rezoning Order

Common Pleas Court Judge Dana F. Reynolds, this week ordered all records pertaining to the rezoning actions of a 76 acre tract of land at Sullivant-av and Demorest-rd be surrendered to his court for study and review before decision can be made on a court action filed late last week by owners of the tract, to set aside the rezoning order.

Residents in the area earlier this year opposed the erection of a low cost housing project planned by Westlake and Associates, 797 Frebis-av contractors, who had taken option on the lands from Alfred Snider, 98 E. North Broadway, and his brothers Clifford B. and James M. Snider.

On Sept. 14 the county commissioners sustained action of the Franklin County Rural Zoning Board in rezoning the acreage from light manufacturing to single residence classification. The rezoning order was later approved by the Franklin County Regional Planning Commission and just recently approved by Franklin County Commissioners.

The court action which has been taken by the Snider brothers has been filed against the Franklin County Commissioners claiming that they have been adversely affected by the order of the commissioners sustaining the rulings of the zoning commission and the planning board.

It was understood this week that the Camp Chase Civic Association is asking the court and the prosecuting attorney's office to accept the aid and counsel of Attorney Don Smith, legal adviser to the association, in presenting the case to the court. Smith, it was pointed out, has been closely allied with the particulars in relation to the long battle of the association to prevent erection of the low cost housing development.

New Planning, Zoning Group Being Formed

First steps toward the formation of a permanent group to deal with planning and zoning for the western part of Franklin County were taken when about 20 interested individuals met at the Hilltop YMCA Tuesday evening.

This organization is being developed at the suggestion of and under the guidance of, the new Camp Chase Civic Association but upon formation will not be a part of that group

Present plans call for a meeting to be held at the Franklin Township Hall, Sullivant and Derrer-rds, on Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 8 p. m. at which time a name will be selected, officers named and purposes more clearly outlined.

All civic groups of the Hilltop and Franklin and Prairie Townships are urged to become interested in the new organization.

Westgate Filling Station Holdup Is Reported

Verlin McCall, 117 S. McDowell-st, manager of the Sohio Service Station, Broad-st at Powell-av, was the victim of a $56 robbery early Tuesday morning.

A lone bandit entered the station shortly after 3 a. m. and asked to see some tires. As McCall entered the back room where tires are kept the bandit forced him to turn over $40 from his pocket and $16 from a coin changer he was wearing

McCall was then ordered into a rest room where he was told to stay if he didn't want to get hurt.

Community Council Plans Annual Halloween Party

With the arrival of the month of October, the Hilltop Community Council has moved into high gear at an early date with plans for the eighth annual community Halloween party to be staged at West High School on Oct. 31. Originally conceived and sponsored by Hilltop business men and organizations as a method by which property damage could be lessened by pranksters, the idea has gained city-wide attention, with other communities following the pattern established here.

"Barrels of fun, no damage done" is again to be the slogan of this year's traditional party according to Mrs. E. F. Thompson, who has been named as general chairman by the Hilltop Community Council Said Mrs. Thompson this week, "We anticipate more than the 3000 who attended last year's party, which proved definitely the success of the venture by police department records showing no vandalism in the Hilltop area during the Hallowe'en season"

In keeping with the plan to make an early start on this year's event various committees have already been named and have begun work to assure another successful community Hallowe'en Party

Committees announced this week are: Mrs. H. C. Booth, posters and leaflets; Mrs. A. R. Page, tickets; Mrs. Earl Abram, purchasing; Mrs. K. L. Martindale, publicity, Hilltop YMCA, Jack Downing, chairman, movies; Hilltop Business Association, Howard Bennett and Delbert Pack, co-chairmen in charge of all activities at West

Humane Society Registers Protest

C. Carlton Hartley, Publisher
The Hilltop Record
2465 W. Broad Street
Columbus, Ohio
Dear Mr. Hartley:

On the front page of The Hilltop Record dated Thursday, Sept. 27, was a picture and an article concerning the body of a dog which had been permitted to lie in the vicinity of West Broad Street Elementary School from Friday of last week through the early portion of this week. Criticism for this was directed to the Humane Society and the sanitation department.

In defense of the Humane Society in our not removing the body of the dead dog I wish to inform you that we do not and can not operate a dead animal service. Our efforts are constantly directed toward the welfare of those animals that are living. Our entire field staff is busily engaged daily in serving all of the communities within Franklin County by enforcement of the dog laws, enforcement of the compulsory rabies immunization regulation, picking up and impounding strays, answering emergency calls to aid the ill and the injured animals, and the doing of any and all other things that relate to animal welfare, such things being too numerous to mention in detail.

The City of Columbus operates a dead animal wagon for the purpose of removing those unfortunate pets that have become deceased on our city streets through one means or another. If we were negligent in any of the duties which we are set up to perform we would expect to be criticized for such negligence. However, when dead animal removal service is available through a city agency anywhere we have never undertaken such removal service, we feel that the criticism made against our organization was unjustified. We, therefore, request your consideration to informing your readers to this effect.

Yours very truly,
[illegible] Justice
General Manager
The Humane Society, City of Columbus

Claggett in his will named the HBA as custodian of the $10,000 fund with which they were to give aid to worthy handicapped men under the age of 30. Trustees of the fund selected by the association are Jerry Watson, E. M. Campbell and Dr. E. E. McMenee.

Local Funeral Director Named As Candidate For Secretaryship Of National Association

The Ohio Funeral Directors' Association in convention session unanimously voted to support Jerry G. Spears, Sr., 2693 W. Broad-st, for secretary of the National Funeral Directors Association. The present able secretary has served one two-year term, and a ruling in the NFDA Constitution and By-Laws prohibits a secretary from succeeding himself.

Spears is an alumnus of Otterbein College and did graduate work in Chicago University, Moody Institute and Bonebrake Seminary. He served as treasurer and then through the chairs from second vice-president to president of the Ohio Funeral Directors Association. During his tenure of office he was instrumental in helping to increase educational standards for embalmers and funeral directors to include two years of academic college training. In addition he has served as chairman of an Ohio Joint Council on Education, comprising representatives from the mortuary science colleges in this area, the State Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors of Ohio, the State Department of Education, Ohio State University Department of Education, the Ohio Embalmers' Association and the Ohio Funeral Directors Association.

Jerry G. Spears, Sr.

During Spears' tenure of office, the association adopted a Code of Ethics and Manual of Professional practice which involved a survey of all such codes, not only of funeral associations but of other professional groups. Since its adoption in Ohio other state associations are using it as a basis for study and revision.

Spears also assisted with the draft of a Code of Autopsy Procedure which has been adopted by the association and will be presented to the Ohio Medical Association, the Ohio Hospital Association, and the Ohio Pathological Society for their consideration and possible adoption.

Spears is an embalmer and funeral director of 28 years experience, with a wife and two children and a son-in-law in business with him. He is past president of Hilltop Lions Club in addition to serving on the executive boards of the Hilltop YMCA and Community Chest. He is a Protestant, having been active for many years in the United Brethren Church He is a Mason, having completed work in the Scottish and York Rites, as well as the Shrine.

Y-Teens and GAA's Work Concessions

Now that a chill is in the air, and it's October, football season is again well under way, and, of course, what is a football game without eats?

This year, as before, the G.A.A.'s and Y-Teens are doing their parts to feed the crowds that jam our stadium, and believe me, it's work!

Thirty-four G.A.A.'s sold behind the counters, and checked in the 59 Y-Teens who sold in the stands. These girls aren't just donating their time as they get one-half service point for each game worked. Selling at one game is necessary in order to belong to Y-Teens and a girl must sell at two games as one of her requirements for G.A.A.

Hilltop Women Are Lauded By "TB" Society

Hilltop clubwomen were lauded today by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society for their "valuable contributions to the 1951 Christmas seal sale preparations" on Work Day, held last week at the State School for the Deaf.

More than 100 clubwomen from 20 Columbus organizations devoted last Wednesday to affixing address labels to Christmas seal mail. Working from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m, the volunteers labeled 135,000 letters. The Christmas seal sale is probably Franklin County's largest direct mail appeal and furnishes the entire support of the local tuberculosis association.

Mrs. Dorence S. Cowles, 51 S. Westgate-av, and Mrs. Elva Clark, 2523 Ridge-av, served as hostesses at the Work Day luncheon, whose entire menu was contributed by ten Columbus food companies.

Among other Hilltoppers volunteering their efforts were Mrs. E. H. Robinson, 3181 W. Broad-st, Mrs. Herbert Deems, 26 S. Algonquin-av, Mrs. Ben Knepper, 2672 W. Broad-st, Mrs. Warren Van Dorn, 139 N. Westmoor-av, Mrs. Frank Strapp; 856 Sullivant-av, and Mrs. Wilfred Sloter, 77 N. Westmoor-av.

The mass effort was headed by Mrs. Victor J. Warken as chairman and Mrs. Frank J. Lausche as honorary chairman.

Six Yanks were crouched in a Korean rice paddy when an enemy shell landed nearby, spraying them with mud and rice. "We're in a tight spot here!" growled one of the soldiers.

"Brother," said a young man who had been twice married and divorced, "You're always in a tight spot when they start showering you with rice!"

Prizes included two Nash Rambler automobiles, five Kelvinator refrigerators, five deluxe Kelvinator electric ranges, five Kelvinator home freezers and 50 $10 cash awards. Fire Prevention Week

Each year, the week in which Oct. 9 falls, the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire, is set aside to focus attention on the tremendous toll taken by fire each year.

Harry J. Callan, state fire marshal, today stated—The needless loss of life and property caused by fire each year in Ohio could be greatly reduced if the public could be awakened to the facts of fire and how to prevent it.

Now is the time to inspect your home and get rid of the accumulation of useless articles in basement and attic that are a breeding place for fire.

A careful check should be made of the heating plant before cold weather begins and metal cans should be provided for ashes.

The electrical circuits and wiring should be carefully inspected and a competent electrician should be consulted if any doubt exists as to the safety of the electrical wiring.

The Fire Departments of Ohio are efficient and ready, but if the public made every week Fire Prevention week, many hours of anguish and suffering and millions of dollars of valuable property would be saved for the future of Ohio, Callan concluded.

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 300 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

Dear Editor

Today we are faced with the biggest and most dangerous enemy ever to confront our country—Communism. Our enemy is desperately trying to undermine our way of life and add us to its ever-growing list of "liberated" nations. They are trying to destroy the very foundation on which our government is founded—the Constitution of the United States. If they do this, we are putty in their hands.

It is time that we take every means at our disposal to stop them. It is time that we sell Americanism to Americans. Too many of us take this country for granted. Too many of us expect great gifts from our government and, at the same time, refuse to do even a small task to insure our God-given liberties.

There is one symbol of Americanism that we should all display—the American flag.

It is my conviction that the American flag—which led our forefathers through so many battles to victory—should be displayed in every possible place; in our shops, plants, our places of business, on our legislative buildings, business buildings and plants and, more important, in front of our homes and on our automobiles.

If we do this we are all playing an important part in this campaign against the foes of Christianity and our country. Little things like this could easily bring about the downfall of Communism.

Let us all place our American flags where they will be seen. Those who see them will know that there is an American who is proud of America and who opposes any action against the Constitution of the United States.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

There is much talk of inflation in Washington, and this is grist for the bureaucratic mills. Bureaucrats love to shut their eyes to the real cause of any danger, and exploit it fully to raise more taxes, impose more controls, or in some other way lead the nation into regimentation.

C. W. Marcher

A perfect example of this policy is shown by the chaotic newsprint situation. Newsprint is a vital commodity to the American life.

• • •

Every resident of a community depends on his local newspaper to keep him informed about his community. The local merchant depends on the paper to promote trade.

• • •

Yet the price of newsprint, the biggest cost item in publishing a newspaper, has soared from $60 to $122 per ton.

• • •

Naturally, if a free press is to survive, independent publishers must increase their rates.

• • •

This increased rate, in turn, must be paid by small businessmen who are prevented from increasing their profit margins by weird pricing regulations.

• • •

There has been a lot of talk at higher level about this shortage of newsprint. The talk always dwells on higher labor costs, and other factors.

• • •

However the 26th report of the Marshall Plan, covering the period through May 31, 1951, shows how inflation has been accomplished in newsprint prices.

• • •

• • •

This Marshall Plan report shows that American taxpayers have donated $134,500,000 worth of newsprint to Europe. 60 per cent has gone to England, where it is used largely to propagate the new British Socialism. England has received almost four times as much paper as Western Germany, whose government is the most pro-democratic people in Europe.

• • •

Of course, this amount of paper does not nearly equal the $642 million worth of tobacco given away with American taxes, but on the basis of its importance to the American economy, it is more startling.

• • •

The amount of paper given away even based on present inflated prices, would supply every independent American weekly newspaper for twenty years.

• • •

But the interesting facts about this situation do not end there. Newsprint supply is largely a Canadian monopoly. $60,300,000 worth of the paper given away by the Marshall Plan was purchased in Canada.

• • •

Yet just recently, Canadian newsprint mills raised the price to American publishers $10 per ton. So there is the queer situation of monopoly in one part of the British Empire profiting because of gifts bestowed on another part of the Empire.

• • •

There seemed to be some hesitancy on the part of the few major American producers to follow suit. Perhaps this was due to investigations being made of the newsprint scandal by Sen. Sparkman's Senate Small Business Committee, but now American made newsprint has been brought up to the Canadian price.

• • •

So inflation in the newsprint industry is explained. A Canadian monopoly, plus the Marshall Plan has created the inflation. A close check would find that the same deal has created inflation in many lines.

Humor

Grandma Jones had lived alone in her spinster's cottage for many, many years. She seldom ventured farther than the front gate and that was only to get the mail. She seemed, however, to enjoy her life of solitude.

"But how do you stand the everlasting silence, Grandma?" asked one of the neighbors one day.

Grandma looked fondly at two kittens that were playing with a ball of twine on the floor. "Oh," she said, with a ghastly glare in her eyes, "when it gets so quiet that I can't stand it any longer, I just think back out of one of the cats!"

West High's eastback Charlie Hunter is pictured at the bottom of the pile as he plunged three yards to score the first Cowboy touchdown of the evening. South's Ron Callander (11) and Don Wirtz (80) strive to halt Hunter while Thomas (93) of West comes up fast to assist his teammate.

The West High Cowboys sent a highly favored South High football team home last Friday on the short end of a 33-13 score. The West Siders make few mistakes and staged a great comeback in the second and third periods, to completely demolish any hopes that the previously unbeaten Bulldogs had for victory.

Sparked by the spirited blocking of the boys up front, Chuck Hunter scored all five of West's touchdowns. He undoubtedly played the outstanding game of his career as he put on a great show for nearly 8000 surprised football followers. Charley displayed terrific "chips down running" as he upped his point total for the year to 48 points.

Statistics reveal that West gained 281 yards on the ground with Hunter going 107 of these and Whitey Smith romping 94 yards. Jerry Johnson completed four of five passes for 122 yards and Jerry Trabue made his one pass good for 17 yards. Hunter scored on runs of two, five and 31 yards, a 70 yard pass from Johnson, and a 55 yard runback of a pass interception.

South scored first on a drive of 38 yards with Don Wirtz going over for the score. Morbitzer converted.

West fought back and set up Hunter's first score when a Johnson to Trabue pass netted 20 down to the two. Trabue's kick tied the score. When Eddie Gleibs intercepted a South pass, the Cowboys promptly marched about 70 yards, 48 of these being made by Smith, with Hunter spinning over from the five.

The next time West gained control of the ball Jerry Johnson threw a long 48 yard pass to Hunter who outran the South defenders the remaining 25 yards to the goal-line. Trabue converted.

Jerry Johnson (on ground) throws a key block to clear the way for West's County Bayse (61) in the second quarter of last Friday's game. Blocking, tackling and good team work began to take its toll from this stage on to count up another West victory.

Don Wirtz of South shows some fancy stepping in this photo as a team-mate neatly blocks out a would-be West High tackler. John Whalen (97), coming up from the rear, hauled down the slippery Bulldog ball carrier after an eight yard gain.

Early in the third period the Cowboys struck again with Hunter racing the final 31 to end a drive of 73 yards. In the fourth quarter Hunter intercepted a Chuck Robeson pass and behind the blocking of "Chappie" Chapman, went down the sidelines for 55 yards for his fifth score of the night. Trabue kicked his third extra point.

Grove City Falls To Hilliards By 20-0 Score

Hilliards' football team earned the name Hill-Yardians last Friday as they initiated their new stadium with a 20-0 win over Grove City. Grove City entered the new edifice undefeated in two games and a favorite to win.

Kenny Evans went 60 and 70 yards for his two T-D's with Bill Holden backing him up with a 40-yard dash for the third Hilliards' plunge into the end zone.

Armstrong scored the extra points.

Bowling League Is Planned By Hilltop YMCA

Instruction of Hilltop boys and girls in the finer arts of bowling by some of the city's best bowling experts is one of the major events on the agenda of the Hilltop YMCA for this fall, according to "Y" Secretary Jack Downing.

Plans are now being formulated by Downing, Paul Leighninger, program chairman and Kenny Mettle, popular alley manager of the Hilltop's new Old Trail Bowling Lanes, for the start of this program.

The course of instruction is planned to start on Saturday, Oct. 19. At the end of the instruction period both boys and girls leagues will be formed to compete weekly in supervised league bowling which will likely be sanctioned by the Junior American Bowling Congress. A big season's-end banquet plus a Christmas head-pin party is included in the plan.

To aid the Hilltop "Y" in formulating this new recreational program, parents of all boys or girls living in the community, between the ages of 12 and 18, who are interested in having their children participate are asked to call the Hilltop YMCA office. This cooperation of the parents, it is pointed out, will enable the planners of the program to secure an adequate number of instructors.

SPORT SLANTS

By "Buck" Jaques

Mac Pemberton was a very happy man after his West High football team upset a highly rated South High eleven last Friday. He had good reason to be, for as he said himself, "the blocking and tackling were 100% better than in previous games." Mac probably lost 10 pounds in that hectic second quarter. He has often commented on the fact that football coaches gain weight in the off season only to lose it during the football season. The only two coaches who don't seem to be affected by this are Herman Hickman of Yale and Dave Randall of West.

The Boosters served a box lunch to players of both teams after the West-Marion game. We don't know whose idea this was but they should be commended for it as the boys really appreciated it.

Congratulations are also in order for Bill Corley of Station WBNS and Bert Charles of Station WVKO for the fine job they did of broadcasting the game last Friday. A lot of people who couldn't make it to the game, commented that the game sounded like two colleges were playing instead of two high school teams.

West now has a bench reserved for the sports writers who cover their games each week. It is located close to the field on about the 50-yard line. One of the biggest mysteries around West High and the Hilltop is what happened to the new pressbox that was to be built about five years ago.

The Cowboys came out of the South game with only a few minor injuries and all should be ready to go against Central. This Friday's game will probably draw another crowd of seven or eight thousand so get out to Magley Field early and watch the Cowboys tangle with the Pirates of Central High.

Here's Something New For Record Readers

Westway Postscripts

WE TOOK AN OATH, REMEMBER?—National "weeks" have become so numerous that the average person is "cold" to the appeals. For instance, candy week; apple week, etc. There is ONE "week" in which every member of the VFW should have a vital interest, and which should have the support of every patriotic citizen — NATIONAL EMPLOY THE HANDICAPPED WEEK—Oct. 7 to 12. To help in this effort to find proper employment for our disabled comrades and for all handicapped persons, is a fine way to live up to the oath we took when we were accepted into the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Edna Wolford announced today that she and her committee will have the Christmas boxes ready for shipment overseas before the deadline date of Oct. 15.

Past presidents of the auxiliary of Westway honored 11th District President Martha Lee, with a buffet luncheon at post headquarters last Sunday afternoon. Among the guests were these familiar personages: Olive Phillips, Department of Ohio secretary-treasurer; Lela Burke, president Franklin County Council Auxiliary; Past Council President Madge Weimer; Valley Ford, Department of Ohio hospital chairman.

On Friday night, Oct. 5, the following ladies will be received into the auxiliary: Bertha Thompson, Bessie Bergman, Fern Davis, Helen Prahl. Don't be nervous ladies this old goat has asked the degree team to be lenient.

The post will be in session again Friday night, Oct. 5 at 8 p. m. at post headquarters. The post would like to have your council in the transaction of its business. So long, see you Friday.

Dean Jachius Is Kiwanis Club Speaker Thursday

The Columbus City Hall is the news-gathering territory preferred by Dean Jachius, principal speaker at Hilltop Kiwanis' Thursday meeting. He is considered by many city officials as an expert on all phases of civic affairs.

A native of Newark, he was born in that city in 1921. He attended Newark schools and after high school entered the Ohio State University School of Journalism. World War II interrupted his education, and he entered the U. S. Marine Corps as a private in August, 1941.

"I weathered six major campaigns and innumerable shore leaves," Jachius declares, and his war record shows that he saw combat action in Guadalcanal, Tarawa, Bougainville, Saipan-Tinan, Iwo Jima and Okinawa, winding up in the occupation troops in Japan.

His decorations include the Silver Star, two presidential unit citations, a Navy letter commendation, three Purple Hearts, and theater, occupation and victory medals.

Discharged as a captain in 1946, he was retired later because of injuries with the permanent rank of major, but he is still subject to recall.

After the war Mr. Jachius started working part time with The Dispatch while he completed his education. He received his journalism degree in June, 1947.

Jachius will speak before the Kiwanis Club Thursday in observance of National Newspaper Week.

NEAR GREAT

That day his star was high and clear.
The world acclaimed his story;
For that one day he hovered near,
Very close to glory.

If he had fallen where he stood,
Beyond his blazing bridges,
The coldest sea, the darkest wood,
The mountain's bleakest ridges
Had heard how brave he was; how good.

He fled the temple's very eaves,
The fates were still at quarrel;
The one that spins, with her that weaves
On which chaplets floral
Befits him most, the myrtle leaves,
Or bays or oak or laurel.

From The London Prison Farmer: After a written examination the student was told he must sign a statement to the effect that he had received no help. The student, with a straight face, explained that he couldn't very well sign as he had repeatedly asked God for assistance during the course of the past hour. The professor glanced quickly over the written sheets and remarked, "Don't hesitate to sign, son. You didn't get any help."

This space-filler has brought me many nice things—calls from old friends; notes of appreciation, ad infinitum. Among the "nice" things is one of Ye Early Worm's garters, which I am glad and proud to have. If you haven't seen them, they have—you guessed it — a worm and the initials of Irwin Johnson, and are made of white silk and lace. Very lovely.

My Severest Critic very patiently explains about sea-level and all that technical stuff, every time I say the hills in southern Ohio seem higher than Campbell Hill near Bellefontaine. But all the atlases and my S.C. can't be wrong, especially my S. C., so Campbell Hill must be the highest point in the state. I still say the hills are high down along the river.

HIS BIRTHDAY

So that I might see how tall he'd grown,
He often stood against the door;
I measured him and marked the place,
Then bent to kiss his upturned face.

He always said "Oh, Mother, see
How tall I am!" Today I saw
The marks I made. (There have been no more Since the birthday he was four.)

God, if You've a doorway there
Where You measure little boys,
He would be proud if You would say
How tall he has grown—he is ten, today.

NEW FIELD OPENING
By Bob Comeans

Friday night, Sept. 28, marked the opening game on the new athletic field at Hilliards. This field will undoubtedly be one of the best in Franklin County. This stadium and field are the result of work by the Hilliards Boosters, board of education, school officials and others. Contributions of people in the vicinity have made it possible for the Boosters Club. The construction part of the job was started this summer and is now nearly complete. With this new athletic field and stadium we hope for success of the present teams and teams of Hilliards in the future.

RESERVE FOOTBALL
Charles A. Tillman

Reserve football got under way a couple of weeks ago under the supervision of Coach Richard Emmelhainz.

There are 35 boys out from all classes except senior. Last year they had just a freshman team, but Coach Norman McElheny thought it better to have a reserve team so that boys who don't get to play varsity will get some experience. Their first game will be with Grove City Reserves in the first week of October.

STAR INJURED

Darrell Armstrong, hard charging fullback of Hilliards High School, injured his right shoulder on Sept. 26, in a scrimmage. Five weeks ago he separated his left shoulder but recovered quickly enough to play against Gahanna Lincoln in the opener.

Will You Look In The Mirror?

When we gaze into a mirror it gives back the truth, coldly and impartially. The mirror cares not whether the image be as fair as an adolescent dream of love — or ugly as squalor. It stoops to no flattery, is not moved by compassion, cannot err. Remorseless as Time, it throws back dispassionately the thing that IS.

Most of us have become accustomed to seeing the same old countenance day after day. If it is unprepossessing we've become used to THAT too, and reflecting surfaces hold no terrors for us.

There is another mirror, however, into which few dare look. And that is the mirror that reflects the true state of our financial arrangements for our dependents in the event of death.

It is a happy — and a rare — man who can do so and be reassured by what he sees.

Too many of us are content to insure ourselves for an amount that SEEMS like a lot of money. Unless you translate that sum into terms of income replacement for your dependents in the event of your death, you will not have the true picture. Make the test now. I shall be happy to review your insurance with no obligation whatsoever to yourself. DARE you look in the mirror?

A-Bomb Protection For Your Home

What You Can Do To Safeguard Your Family And Yourself In Case Of Atomic Attack

What Is The Danger?

(Part I)

How will your home stand up against an atomic explosion? That depends mainly on how close you are to the blast center. Within that "zero area"—from dead center to one-half mile away—there will be complete destruction of all buildings. Within a one-mile radius all buildings except those of concrete or steel frame will be gutted or destroyed. Up to one-and-a-half mile radius most old-style brick and frame buildings will be destroyed, and modern buildings will be seriously damaged. If your home is within two miles of the blast you can expect moderate damage due to concussion and secondary fires. Beyond that radius damage will depend on shock waves and how well your home is protected against fire. Glass and plaster breakage can be expected up to eight miles.

The necessity for preparation against an atomic attack has not been brought home fully to most Americans, but perhaps one important fact will help establish the seriousness of the situation:

Of the 106,000 men and women killed at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, more than half would be alive today if they could have prepared for the attack—if they had known what to do and had had the opportunity to do it.

These are the facts we are giving you here and now. Precautions you can take immediately in your home, others to observe when the sirens sound, and finally steps to take after an atomic bomb has exploded.

Right now—today—you can prepare for survival: Though it isn't spring, housecleaning is the first on the docket. Clean out all newspapers, magazines and other combustible rubbish which has collected in closets, the attic, basement or garage. Don't let them accumulate; they become just so much more fuel. Waste paper should be kept in metal containers and emptied frequently. Any oily rags not thrown out should also be kept in metal containers.

Gasoline, benzine and other highly flammable liquids should not be stored in the house; paint cans and turpentine jars should be kept in a cool place. Electric wiring, extension cords and electrical appliances should be kept in good repair. An electrician will check your wiring for a small charge.

There are four factors resulting from an atomic explosion which are responsible for most damage: blast, heat flash, radiation and fire. The blast causes a shock wave which rocks across the ground, creating winds up to 800 miles an hour, smashing buildings, trees, cars and anything else in its path. The heat flash causes extensive damage up to two miles, starting fires and causing serious burns. The effects of the heat flash can be felt up to five miles from "zero area."

The danger from radiation has been overplayed. Actually everyone is exposed to radiation every day of his life in the form of cosmic rays, but it is only when extremely powerful rays hit a large portion of your body for an extended length of time that radiation is fatal. Three seconds after an atomic explosion the biggest part of the harm has passed, and the danger then is from radioactive mist, fog, dust and from whatever objects may have been contaminated by exposure to the radioactivity.

Avoid touching anything which could possibly be contaminated, and—whatever you do—don't eat or drink anything which was uncovered or exposed during the blast.

Fire Most Dangerous

Finally there is fire, which causes most of the damage and therefore constitutes most of the danger to your home. The tremendous concussion of an atom bomb would dislocate furnaces, stoves and other heating appliances and get fires started. If you are in the range of the heat flash, that will start fires also. Unless your home is equipped to extinguish these fires quickly and easily, it will burn down; there will rarely ever be a fire department around to come put it out. The minimum fire-fighting equipment necessary consists of a five-gallon hand pump, hose, several buckets of sand, and a shovel. Keep the buckets filled and located throughout the house where they can be conveniently reached.

The greatest protection against an atomic bomb is concrete between you and the explosion—the more of it, the better. Your cellar, therefore, is the place you'll be safest. Clear out a portion of it and stock it with a first aid kit. You might also add a radio so that you can be informed of the latest instructions, and a hatchet would be a valuable asset if the explosion jams the door. Canned foods might be stocked there as well as drinking water in closed containers.

In Case Of Attack

Once you have established your "shelter area" and equipped it fully, remember what to do when the siren sounds the alarm. Move your family to the "shelter area" and have them lie down near the basement wall which affords the greatest protection. Shut off all utilities where they enter the house: gas, electricity, water and oil burner. Close all windows and outside doors; this blocks flying fire sparks, infiltration of radioactive dust or mist, and protects you from flying glass, which causes more individual casualties than any other factor. Closing venetian blinds and drapes may also block shattering glass.

Make sure that all open flames are out in portable heaters, fireplaces and candles. Then go to your "shelter area" and stay there. Keep your radio turned on—remember, you'll need a portable if you've turned off your electricity—so as to keep posted on instructions from civilian defense authorities.

If a blast should go off, there is one cardinal rule that pertains under all conditions: DON'T GET PANICKY! Calmness is the best assurance for survival in an atomic attack.

If there isn't much damage to your home, you can nail drapes over any broken windows to keep out any radioactive particles. A thorough scrubbing will wash away radioactive particles on your body. If you have to leave your house, a handkerchief will keep harmful dust out of your mouth. If there are no fires in your house, check at your neighbors to see if you can help him in case his house is on fire. Don't try to use your car or your telephone. Watch out for falling wreckage.

If someone in a building is injured, remove him only to save him from fire; otherwise wait for a doctor. Don't let yourself get trapped in your home by a fire, but don't run off and let a little one burn down your house. When you search your home for fires, start at the top floors and work toward the basement. If you must go through thick smoke, crawl—don't walk. Stay near the walls where the floor is strongest, and remember to attack fires at the closest possible range. Use sand or foam on oil fires, and never direct water on electric wiring.

These directions may seem complicated and extensive, but when following them may mean the preservation of your home and the survival of your family, they are worth careful study.

Bible Comment:

Worried World Needs Spiritual Faith in Future

OFFICES of psychiatrists are filled today with people who have worried themselves into an unstable state of mind because of various reasons.

It is very probable that a general survey would prove most people who have harried themselves into such a disturbed mental condition that it calls for psychiatric treatment have worried mostly about things that never happened.

Anxiety has marked men since the very beginning of Christianity itself. And in this atomic day and age people tend to be more anxious, more doubtful than ever before.

It is impossible to say how many times "the end of the world" has been predicted and the equal number of times those who predicted such a catastrophe were shown to be false interpreters.

Jesus warned his disciples not to put too much confidence in "signs" and to be wary of false messiahs. He spoke often of troublous times ahead.

Since Jesus spoke these words there have been many wars and tumults that could fit into the category of trouble He mentioned.

Was Jesus predicting some definite day of catastrophe? Or was He speaking in general terms of the struggle between good and evil?

Whatever the future, Christians must be prepared for it spiritually. They will then have inner strength to meet it unterrified or worried mentally and physically. It would be better if we were to strive to follow the example of Jesus in word and deed instead of spending time and energy speculating about doubtful matters — things that could worry us to distraction for no good purpose.

The uncertain future tells us nothing in these days of turmoil of what may befall us tomorrow, or what tomorrow may be like. But the word of the Lord shall not pass away. There is our place of anchorage and faith.

If we but hold fast to God's word, and do our duty, that, then, is the best preparation for whatever is to come.

Simple as ABC

A new world is growing up before your young man—the world of ABC . . .

He's had his blocks for some time. But today's the first day he's gotten interested in the big letters on their sides. Those big, round eyes just focused on one a moment ago. What was it there for? He picked up the "C" block and looked at it again. Still a puzzle . . .

That's when you felt the light, little tug on your arm. And when you turned, there he was, with the block clutched tightly in the tiny, pink fist and a big question in his eyes.

He knew his mother would have the answer . . .

Yes, the questions will be coming thick and fast from now on. That's the reason for choosing his Sunday School—now.

For his Sunday School is ready to help you with the ABCs of his religious education—an education that should begin with the fundamentals of faith and teaching and belief. He's ready for this early in his life—yet the knowledge of God's word that he receives in Church will support him all through his life.

Yes, they'll welcome his questions in Sunday School. And he'll get the answers to them there. It's that simple . . . as simple as ABC.

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." — Proverbs 22:6.

BEAUTY PLUS STABILITY

If you are looking for a cemetery with a proved record of STABILITY as well as one of acknowledged BEAUTY, we suggest you visit SUNSET on Route 40, 5 miles west of the city limits where it has been serving the people of Central Ohio for over a quarter of a century and still has room enough for expansion to take care of all needs during the next one hundred years or more.
You will find SUNSET a beautiful place, beautifully landscaped and beautifully kept; a cemetery where not one foot of ground can be sold without PERPETUAL CARE. It is just far enough away from the noise, confusion and the dust and grime of the city to make one realize that he is somewhere out in "God's great out-of-doors" where the air is pure, the surroundings restful and all is quiet and peaceful. You soon come to FEEL that this is truly a Retreat of Beauty and Uplift rather than a place of gloom and despair.
Your visit to Sunset will confirm our every assertion.

1—Information

JOE BRIGGS SAYS:

You can be sure that if you laugh at your troubles you'll never run out of something to laugh at.

It is no laughing matter, however, to have someone drop a lighted cigarette on the living room rug and burn a big hole in it and then wake up to the fact that you don't have your household goods insured. Fire insurance coverage on household goods is so low in price you can't afford to be without it. We'll be glad to explain in detail if you will call us.

Star Recipes

As Told to Betsy Blake

BING CROSBY, soon to be seen in Paramount's "Here Comes the Groom," can never get enough of his favorite dessert, Coconut Chiffon Pie, according to his lovely wife, Dixie. "Bing is simply crazy about it," said Dixie, who gladly let me in on the recipe, "and so are the boys. It takes at least two whole pies to satisfy their growing appetites."

COCONUT LIME CHIFFON PIE

2 teaspoons gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
3 egg yolks
⅓ cup lime juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
3 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lime rind
Few drops green coloring
1 baked 9-inch pie shell or graham cracker crust, chilled
½ cup cream, whipped and sweetened
½ cup shredded coconut, plain or toasted

Combine gelatin and cold water in mixing bowl; mix well. Beat egg yolks until light. Add lime juice, salt, and ½ cup sugar. Cook in double boiler over hot, not boiling water, until thickened. Pour over gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened.

Beat egg whites until foamy, add ¼ cup sugar gradually, and continue beating until stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Add lime rind and green coloring. Pile lightly in pie shell. Chill until firm. Just before serving, spread with whipped cream and sprinkle with coconut.

Delicious Rice Dish Costs Little

Easy to prepare and sure to please is this thrifty main dish of rice and eggs. A small can of deviled ham gives extra flavor.

Let rice help your burdened food budget. Rice—an inexpensive food—is an excellent stretcher of expensive foods. Take this main dish for example; pre-cooked rice, even more economical in a new 15 oz. package, stretches a small can of deviled ham and four eggs into 5 or 6 delicious servings at a total cost of less than a dollar! The remaining rice in this thrifty larger package will be the basis of two other equally good dishes; try it with creamed chicken, fish or vegetables.

Deviled Ham 'n' Egg Special

1½ cups packaged pre-cooked rice
1½ cups water
¾ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 can (2¾ ounces) deviled ham
1½ cups milk
4 hard cooked eggs, cut lengthwise

Combine rice, water, ¾ teaspoon salt, onion, and celery in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing gently once or twice with a fork. Simmer 2 minutes. (Do not stir.) Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt butter in saucepan. Add flour, mustard, ¼ teaspoon salt, pepper, and deviled ham. Blend. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over low heat until mixture is thickened. Add eggs and heat thoroughly. Serve on the rice mixture. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Local Designer Eagerly Awaits Reports On National Christmas Seal Design Contest

"Christmas Greetings" may seem like a startling message at this time of the year—particularly so when they relate to the 1953 holiday season. This is the original design for the 1953 national Christmas seal, submitted by Hilltopper Don M. Thatcher, to the contest sponsored locally by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society. Designs were sent to New York for judging on Saturday.

er were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Albert Mathias and Zelda in Columbus.

Mrs. Mary Kidwell of Columbus was the Thursday evening supper guest of Mrs. Katie White Rings and attended the Grange meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Cash Walker spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker at West Liberty.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hatcher of Washington, D. C., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Weaver and family Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rings and children of West Jefferson spent Thursday evening with their father, William Rings.

Professor and Mrs. M. D. Hartsook and Father A. S. Hartsook visited the latter's brother, John Hartsook, at Rio Grande, O., Sunday and attended commencement at Rio Grande College.

Robert McCormack, Hilliards, accompanied several other men from the Central Breeding Association to Boston the past week.

Randy, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormack, underwent a minor operation at Children's Hospital Wednesday.

The past matrons and patrons of Level Chapter OES held their regular meeting Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Van Schoik.

Mr. and Mrs. Cash Walker are vacationing in Kentucky this week.

Gretchen Roberts and mother, Mrs. Maud Roberts, motored to Prospect for dinner Sunday and visited the President Harding Memorial at Marion. Enroute home they visited Mrs. Mary Miller, near Dublin, and the Conservation Lake, Columbus.

Louis Rings and Rev. E. H. Joost called on Chris Sammet at the Wilson Rest Home, W. Broad-st, Wednesday.

Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Noethlich were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Patterson and sons.

The "Room For One More" class of Hilliards Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Kate White Rings Wednesday evening with 16 members present. Following the meeting nice refreshments were served.

The "Ye Faithful" Class met Tuesday evening at the church with 48 members present. Bertha Jacobs of Columbus was the guest speaker. Her topic was "Inasmuch" and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Hilliards Methodist Church will observe World-wide Communion service at the worship hour Sunday, Oct. 7, at 10.30. Preceding the Lord's Supper new members will be received into the church.

She: "I've changed my mind."
He: "Does it work any better than the old one?"

The Columbus Tuberculosis Society crossed its fingers for luck last week and dispatched 43 original Christmas seal designs, by Franklin County artists, to New York.

From this crop, plus others submitted from all over the United States, the national Christmas seal for 1953 will be chosen.

Among local designers was Don M. Thatcher, 235 Guernsey-av, who has been a patient at Benjamin Franklin Tuberculosis Hospital since February. For him the Christmas seal contest to select the 1953 national seal held particular interest since his illness was discovered through a routine chest X-ray. The Columbus Tuberculosis Society gives thousands of such X-rays every year, financed through the annual sale of Christmas seals. Formerly a furniture salesman, Mr. Thatcher has taken up drawing and lettering since his hospitalization.

The person whose design is selected as the 1953 official stamp will receive national fame and remuneration up to $500 from the National Tuberculosis Association. The Christmas seal, which was the original seal in this country, is still the sole means of financial support for most of the 3000 tuberculosis associations across the country. Its annual selection, therefore, is based on its appeal for use on holiday mail.

Making steady strides at Benjamin Franklin Hospital, Mr. Thatcher was allowed to attend church, for the first time since his hospitalization, on Sunday and played the piano for the services.

A Hilltop Record subscriber, Thatcher is a native of Columbus and he and his wife began Hilltop residency in 1923 when they went to housekeeping as bride and groom.

His design was unique, among those submitted, for its patriotic motif. Other designs ran the gamut of the traditional, the abstract and the whimsical motif. Their authors were no less varied and included professional artists and housewives, librarians, Sunday School teachers, and business persons. Ages ranged from 18 to 78.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Remember last summer when JOE SCHRIMER said he never expected to marry? Ha! Well, he's engaged now, and the date is set for Thanksgiving Day. BETTY LOU STEENAN is the future bride.

At the game last Saturday MIRIAM SCHOOLER cheered for SMU and Ohio State, both. She didn't care who won. She was in a football pool and wanted one side to score another touchdown—she didn't care which.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ingmire are up in the clouds with their new infant daughter. Both are home from the hospital and are doing nicely.

Effortlessly, DON SMYTHE hiked with his last year Cub Scouts a full two and one-half miles. When they got to their destination all the youngsters wanted to "thumb" back. DON was the only spry one. "Life begins at 40."

DICK BOOTHE was seen up at the Zoo Sunday with the monkeys. He was having quite a time getting away from them. His two boys were really having fun.

With the push button control electric stove MARGIE BAILEY just bought, her husband says that now he expects excellent meals. We know TED is kidding, MARGIE, since you were a good cooking teacher before you married.

Did you ever visit Castalia? That's where you throw your pennies in the Blue Hole Wishing Well. SOPHIE and BOB SCHWINNE took their children there last week and they had fun throwing coins and wishing for luck.

Recovering from torn ligaments, a fractured knee and a broken wrist, MRS. TOM HALPIN is just as sweet as she always was. Never a lament from her suffering. She missed stepping down a curb on her way to church and ended up in bed instead. She's everyone's friend so let's all go over to 2177 Union-st and visit another Hi-Ridger.

See you next week, folks!

Heir To Millions

The man who inherits wealth is often singled out as a child of fortune.

Of course, you can also hit the jackpot in a "Stop Something" program!

Every citizen of our country by his citizenship inherits a great legacy. To our shores come men and women from every country, each contributing something to a great social and spiritual treasury.

Our Founding Fathers said that "all men are created free and equal." Our rights, they said, come from God and man's relation to God.

We Americans are not afraid to render public thanks to God on Thanksgiving Day, to open sessions of Congress with prayer.

Our form of government is primarily religious and moral. We strive to wed political power to moral purpose.

This then might be the last will and testament of our forefathers:

"We bequeath to every American of whatsoever race or creed the right to live—not that it comes from us but of God, human life has intrinsic dignity. We must likewise respect the right of others to live.

"We bequeath to every citizen the legacy of freedom. Each man must be free to educate himself, to pray, to explore his homeland and to experiment with ways of living which are not in conflict with the laws of his country or of God.

"We bequeath to every citizen the duty to work for justice, freedom and charity toward all; to distribute the temporal wealth of our country for the common good, to insure all men access to these goods by honest labor.

"We bequeath to each citizen the mission of protecting, with his life if necessary, the right to elect his own public officials, to make laws based on justice, to hold up the torch of a just and free country to a world challenged by worship of the State."

That, then, is our heritage. In America, the state exists for man; not man for the state.

Life, Liberty, Personal Dignity! Let these be the watchwords of our struggle for justice and lasting peace.

Whatever foes challenge us abroad, we must ever fight prejudice, misunderstanding, intolerance at home.

In our country, love of God and love of country go hand in hand.

SHALL we preserve our inheritance as citizens?

The answer lies in your own heart.

The above contribution was sent in by "Doc" Campbell, from Sloane House "Y", New York City.

We had hoped that we might never witness it at Magly Field, but it happened last Friday night at the West-Central game. First a near free-for-all between the players on the field and then as the teams left the gridiron for half time rest the display of poor sportsmanship on the part of local fans in booing the Central team. It's not the right kind of spirit as we've been taught to observe and it most assuredly left a bad impression with old grads and parents who sat in the stadium the other night.

Camp Chase Legion Post Plans Open House Soon

Basing their program upon a year-round project of participation in community activities and service to the community, Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion this week announced plans for an open house and formal dedication of Hilltop War Veterans' Memorial Home at 3211 W. Broad-st on Nov. 10.

According to Post Commander William D. Ferguson the entire week of Nov. 5 through Nov. 12 and will be set aside by the local American Legionnaires as "Open House Week" with the public welcome to visit the new post home and participate in "American Legion Week" activities.

Armistice Day will be observed by the local post on Nov. 12, Monday, along with other veteran organizations, by the traditional Armistice Day breakfast at the new post home and at the same time signal the peak of the local post's membership drive which has also been a traditional affair locally.

In an effort to bring the Camp Chase Post to the forefront in Ohio Legion activities, Camp Chase Post has set a voluntary membership quota of 800 members as its goal by Armistice Day, Nov. 11. This voluntary quota is far in excess of the state quota of 520 members set by the Ohio Department of the American Legion and reflects the desire of the Hilltop Legion to make their post a completely community organization.

At the present time teams of the post are conducting an intensive campaign to top the state set quota of 520 members. Old members and former members of the post are being contacted in an effort to reach the 800 membership mark by Nov. 11 and to really make the dedication of the new Memorial Home a 100% effort on the part of the community and local legion membership.

A 10-member committee has been appointed by Commander Ferguson to carry out the open house and dedication program in addition to the current membership drive. This committee as announced this week is composed of C. H. Campbell, C. C. Hartley, Reynold H. Greene, George M. Lemasy, Lyan C. Baker, Larry G. Scales, Vernon C. Fiscus, Clarence C. Fuhr, John W. Rhyan and Elmer A. Young. The latter is chairman of dedication day activities which are scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 10.

It was pointed out that through the week of Nov. 5-12 the new Legion Home will be open to the public both night and day.

45 Acre Lewis Tract Rezoned For Industry

In a meeting held Tuesday night the Franklin County Zoning Commission granted permission for the rezoning of the tract of land at the southeast corner of Valleyview-dr and Wilson-rd to a heavy manufacturing classification. In granting the rezoning order the commission, however, wrote in an exception to the classification which would prevent the establishment of any obnoxious business in that location.

Although representatives of the Camp Chase Civic Association were present at the meeting, there was no opposition voiced against the action of the commission.

Wednesday the commission in writing its order for the reclassification of the lands also established a setback line so that there would be no encroachment on the roads in the vicinity.

The land affected by the rezoning order is known as the Lewis tract and comprises 45 acres.

Kiwanis Window Painting Contest Rules Are Announced By Competition Committee

It's window painting time again and this week the Hilltop Kiwanis Club through its Halloween Committee announced the details of the annual contest for Hilltop elementary school children.

The window painting contest which has found much favor in this community as well as throughout the city of Columbus is now officially open with Oct. 19, the deadline date for all entrants to sign up with their schools.

Any Hilltop elementary school students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades are eligible to enter the window painting contest in which the top prize is $25; second prize is $15; third prize, $10, and 25 honorable mention prizes of $1 each. Best of all is the fact that duplicate awards of the first three prizes will be given to the schools attended by the winning contestants.

Students should secure an entry blank from their school and obtain permission from a Hilltop merchant to decorate a window. The blanks should then be completed and returned to the school Friday, Oct. 19. Paints for each contestant will be delivered to the schools by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and the windows should be painted during the week-end of Oct. 27.

Judging of the various window decorations will be made Tuesday, Oct. 30 by three well-known Columbus newspapermen, Johnny Jones of the Columbus Dispatch; Ben Hayes of the Columbus Citizen and Clyde Moore of the Ohio State Journal. Award of the prizes will be made on Halloween night at the Hilltop Community's annual party at West High School.

Entry blanks are now available at all Hilltop elementary schools, according to Art Walker, chairman of the Kiwanis Club window painting committee.

Hilliards To Dedicate New Stadium Friday Nite

Formal dedication of Hilliards High's new football stadium will take place Friday night, Oct. 12, when the Hilliards team plays host to Worthington's grid eleven. Pictured above is the new stadium, erected through efforts of the Hilliards High Boosters, Inc. The structure will seat 1200 persons. The ceremonies will start at 8 p. m.

Huge Coach Snake Is Discovered On N. Hague-av

Dr. Edward S. Thomas, curator of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Museum, believes that the seven foot, one and a half-inch coach whip snake found Tuesday on N. Hague-av, is one of the largest snakes of that species ever seen in North America.

The snake, discovered near Fisher-rd, had apparently been hit by an auto when the curator saw it being examined by Roosevelt Mitchell, 441 W. Goodale-st. It died on the way to the museum.

The coach whip snake is a harmless inhabitant of the southeastern states. The largest on record for the species is a little over eight feet or just one foot longer than the local specimen.

New Television Center To Be On West Side

A site for the construction of a new television center for WTVN has been purchased by Edward Lamb, president of Picturex Waves, Inc.

The property consists of about three acres at the southwest corner of Harmon and Griggs-av, three blocks south of W. Mound-st.

The land was purchased from Nate Berlin, president of Berlin-Wolf Motors.

The new center will have two large studios, one containing more than 3000 square feet of floor space. WTVN will retain its transmitter and antenna on top of the LeVeque-Lincoln Tower. Equipment and offices, however, will be moved to the new center.

Teacher Gets Fractured Jaw At Ball Game

Edna Windom, seventh grade teacher at Skidmore School on N. Hague-av, likes her baseball, but right now regrets that her enthusiasm drew her so close to the field of play. Miss Windom now is recovering in University Hospital from a fractured jaw.

It seems that the Skidmore teacher was watching a game between the "Skidmore Terriers" and the "Briggsdale Bulldogs" when suddenly one of the youthful batsmen took a vicious swing at the ball in good Joe DiMaggio form, but missed and lost his grip on the bat. Said bat zoomed in the direction of Miss Widnom and connected with her jaw.

West Faces Rough Tilt With Hamilton

West High School's Cowboy grid eleven this Friday are apparently heading toward another tartar when they journey to Hamilton to tangle with one of the strongest teams in the entire state. Hamilton Public, the Cowboy foe, thus far in the season has rung up four impressive victories without loss while West will enter the fray with a three won and one lost record.

Hamilton this season has beaten Cleveland Central 59-0; Steubenville Central Catholic, 53-0; Cincinnati Elder 34-6 and Cleveland Benedictine 55-26. The Big Blue has amassed a total of 201 points in the win column and given up only 32 to opponents this season. In state ratings they rank just behind powerful Massillon for top honors.

The Big Blue's defensive team has been particularly outstanding in yielding only 180 yards to both running and passing attacks in the games played thus far. They've gained 770 yards passing and 740 yards rushing the ball.

End Phil Lillard leads the scoring of the Big Blue with six touchdowns, Alfonso McGuire has a 30 point record and Don Newhall 26. The pre-game dope on Hamilton would indicate that they have a wicked passing combination by virtue of the fact that more than 70 percent of their touchdowns came about as a result of the aerial attack. Another pointer is that of 55 passes thrown, 32 have been completed.

Lillard was All-State last season with Don Newhall and Dave Weaver on the honorable mention list of All-State. Bobby Lakes, the quarterback of the Big Blue, to their current passing ace, with Neil Roberts and Newhall also rated as deadly passers.

Offensively the Hamilton team uses a spread "T" formation and employs a two platoon system as well. In the offensive lineup are Dick Heasley and Phil Lillard at ends, Carl Hampton and Tom Hanlon at tackles, Dave Weaver and Regan Henry at guard, Jess Cotton at center, Bobby Lakes, quarterback, George Hahn and Otto Swanner, halfbacks, and Don Newhall at full.

Tickets for the Hamilton Public-West High School football game are now on sale at West High School, according to George Williams, faculty member in charge of ticket sales. Student tickets are available at fifty cents while adult reserved seats cost $1.25.

Safety Director To Be Kiwanian Speaker Thursday

Hilltop Kiwanians have a treat in store for them at their regular Thursday noon-day luncheon meeting when they'll get an insight as to how the safety department of the city is operated. Donald D. Cook, current Safety Director of the City of Columbus is slated as the featured speaker for the meeting, which is chairmaned by Leo Phillips.

Donald D. Cook, who was appointed by the Mayor to the position of Public Safety for the city of Columbus on June 16, 1950, is a native of Central Ohio, having been born at Chillicothe, O., where he lived until his senior high school year which was completed at Columbus North High. He then entered Ohio State University and became a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. During his university years, Cook played on the Ohio State football team.

On leaving Ohio State, Cook entered training in the State Highway Patrol where he remained for four yeags, when he was accepted into the Federal Bureau of Investigation and worked on security assignments during the war years. He resigned from the FBI to enter the employment of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, assigned to Columbus area. He obtained a leave of absence from that organization to take his present appointment.

The Department of Public Safety, which is now administered by Director Cook, is composed of the Divisions of Building Regulation, Smoke Regulation, Traffic Regulation, Weights and Measures, and Columbus Workhouse, but he is especially suitable for his position because his major responsibilities are the Division of Fire and the Division of Police for which he is well-prepared by having had practical experience in law enforcement in the Highway Patrol and FBI, and gaining knowledge of fire control and its problems from his work with the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

With his wife, a former Chillicothe girl, and his six-year-old son, Joseph, the director lives at 792 Kenwick-rd.

West Broad St. School News

The boys and girls in Miss Ryerson's 5B class will observe Columbus day by presenting the play, "Columbus" in the school auditorium Friday, Oct. 12.

Betty Newburger will take the part of Queen Isabella with Joe Jacobs as King Ferdinand, while Howard Hicks will carry the role of Columbus. Other members of the class will take part as sailors or Indians. Children from Miss Boland's class will give a dramatic recitation of the poem, "Columbus," by Joaquin Miller.

For assembly at West Broad School, Oct. 5, the third grade of Room 104 presented "Belling The Cat," a playlet with music, in one act.

"Belling The Cat" is a famous Aesop Fable. Eleven mice have a conclave to plan to do something about the mean old cat that has caused them so much grief and worry.

The program was as follows: the flag salute; "God Bless America"; "A Harvest Prayer;" "Belling The Cat"—a playlet, and "America the Beautiful."

A little girl came running into the house crying, "Mother, daddy's lying on the porch, I think he's unconscious. He is holding a paper in his hand and there's a round box beside him."

"Oh that's wonderful," answered the mother, "my new hat has come."

WITH THE NEW A-B-C-O-Matic COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC WASHER

IT'S NEW— IT'S DIFFERENT— IT'S BETTER!

Never before in the history of washers has there been such a remarkably efficient washer developed. Entirely new in conception, new in washing action, new in rinsing principle, the ABC-O-MATIC leads them all in washing and rinsing ability. Don't expect just another automatic washer. This new ABC-O-MATIC was developed by industry men who helped pioneer the first power-driven washer.

JUST LOAD IT... SET THE DIALS AND WALK AWAY FROM WORK!

LESS VIBRATION No Bolting Down

AMERICA'S FINEST AUTOMATIC WASHER

Cleaner Washing

"CENTRIC" AGITATION

A sensational improvement in washing action. Up to now, the standard agitator represented the most effective way of getting clothes clean. Now "centric" agitation is an important improvement. Instead of two-way start and reverse action, "centric" agitation is a continuous washing action—easier on the clothes and more effective because of even clothes distribution. It does not reverse—it pulsates.

DISTRIBUTES CLOTHES EVENLY

It makes no difference how you place clothes in your ABC-O-MATIC. "Centric" agitation action will quickly distribute the clothes evenly in the tub—automatically. The result is better, cleaner washings.

This washing principle causes clothes to circulate counter-clockwise and are surged from the bottom upward and down again every 30 to 50 seconds.

- There is no tangling of clothes . . . no balling . . . clothes are flexed, gently rubbed and squeezed.
- Clothes are swirled by the washing action . . . washing with, instead of against, the agitator. This means clothes are washed with more safety and far less wear and tear.

Better Rinsing

REVOLUTIONARY 3-STEP RINSING FOR CLEANER CLOTHES

1. DEEP POWER SPRAY RINSE — While tub fills with fresh water, the agitator is loosening all dirt and soap scum from the clothes.
2. FLUSHING OVER-FLOW RINSE — After the agitator stops, water continues to flow, over-flowing tub and carrying away dirt and soap scum.
3. SPLASH-AWAY POWER RINSE — With tub full of water, the agitator splashes water up and out of the tub . . . dirt can never circulate back through the clothes.

SPINNER DRYING — ABC's wide tub allows greater centrifugal force to get clothes dry faster. Clothes are dry in a minimum of time, wrinkle-free, easy to iron.

Greater Satisfaction

THESE ADDED FEATURES MAKE THE AUTOMATIC AN EVEN BETTER BUY:

SIGNAL LIGHT — Shows when washer is operating. A convenient and step-saving feature — when light goes off, it indicates washing cycle has been completed.

AUTOMATIC LEVELIZER — Self-leveling device that compensates for the differences in floor level. This provides sturdy footing to eliminate excessive vibration even during the spin cycle of the washer.

LESS VIBRATION . . . NO BOLTING DOWN — Harmful vibration is reduced to a minimum without additional mechanism for balancing. "Centric" agitation washing principle in the ABC-O-MATIC distributes clothes evenly automatically, and provides a better balance of clothes in the tub during the spin period. Therefore, no bolting down is required. This feature alone adds years to the life of your washer.

Boy Scouts Go Western

The Boy Scouts of America has gone "Western." Until the end of the year while its "National Round-up" is in progress, its ordinary terminology will be replaced by the language of the great open spaces.

In a big cooperative program, with lots of excitement and enthusiasm and with every member and leader having a job to do, the "Round-Up" is aimed not only to get all units into high gear after the summer break in weekly meetings, but also to bring Scouting to additional thousands of boys who want it.

Scout officials say that they know from past experience that many boys do not come into Scouting merely because no one took the trouble to invite them. Through the "Round-Up' 'many boys will receive personal invitations to enjoy the high adventure of Scouting. Many boys for whom no local Scout Unit may now exist, will fine one organized.

For the duration of the "Round-Up," each Cub Scout Pack, Scout Troop and Explorer Unit will be known as a "ranch;" its unit leader known as the "ranch foreman;" the boy leaders as "ranch top hands" and the boy members as "cowhands." The chairman of the unit committee, representing the sponsoring or parent institution, will be the "ranch boss."

Why Get Chest X-rays?

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease which strikes without warning and rarely makes its presence known to its victims before the disease reaches an advanced state and grave damage is done.

Any one of us can get tuberculosis. Last year 651 persons were discovered in Columbus and Franklin County. The signs of tuberculosis can be detected in an early stage by means of the chest x-ray. The x-ray is the first step in searching out the disease. Once the x-ray shows suspicion of illness, additional tests should be made to determine if the person has active tuberculosis.

Since the x-ray does have this power, it seems strange that so many people neglect getting an annual chest x-ray, a practice that would give a person his best chance of finding TB, should it strike, in an early stage.

Some who neglect chest x-rays do it through procrastination. People keep putting them off because they have "more important" things to do. Yet these things would have gone undone if ill health intervened. A few moments before the x-ray machine once a year may prove to be the "stitch in time."

Another type of person gambles on his outwardly healthy appearance. A person may know a number of people who have been stricken with tuberculosis and yet feel "it can't happen to me, I'm too healthy." Tuberculosis can happen to anyone, healthy or frail. As a matter of fact, many people look and feel healthy when TB first attacks — until the disease becomes advanced.

A third type of person might neglect x-rays because he thinks tuberculosis is inherited and he has "never heard of TB in the family." No one inherits TB. It is passed on by people who have the disease to those who are well.

Some won't bother with x-rays because they think tuberculosis is incurable. Such people feel that it wouldn't do them any good if TB were found, and what they don't know won't hurt them. But tuberculosis can be cured even in advanced stages, although the disease is easier to cure when found in an early stage.

If every unknown case of tuberculosis were found and placed under treatment, we could eventually stamp out tuberculosis in this country. And these cases of tuberculosis would be found if every adult 15 years of age and over formed the habit of getting an annual chest x-ray. Insist that your family physician give you a chest x-ray the next time you visit him.

Use luke warm water for washing corduroy, and gentle soap. Rinse and hang on hanger, soaking wet, to dry. This keeps wale, or pile, fluffy and new. Stretch seams and smooth collars and cuffs with the fingers. No pressing will be necessary.

College girls can go fur coatless this year (51-52) without a sign; the new cloth-coat story falls into four equally smart parts: The fitted coat (big collar, big skirt, bright lining); the wrap coat huge shawl collar, no buttons in sight—only for the very sophisticated); the little barrel coat (as cute as its name, ending just at the hip, curved of sleeve, in a furry fabric, best over slim skirts and slim legs); the box coat (softer and prettier version of the box silhouette that almost every college girl agrees never really goes out of style).

Any girl about to be married or even just day-dreaming will be surprised to learn that October Mademoiselle says there's a new way for brides to look and still be as traditionally beautiful as ever: MMLE introduces the champagne bride, champagne being the newest color for a formal or informal wedding. And for a truly champagne taste (on a ginger ale budget, of course!) a touch of mink on a simple afternoon wedding dress!

America was better off when we had more whittlers and fewer chiselers.

Pre-washing treatment helps remove ground-in grime from collars and cuffs, dark stains from children's socks. This treatment consists of wetting the area, and applying one of the easily dissolved soaps or detergents with a brush or finger. After this, wash in customary manner.

Cover both hands with wool socks when you wash venetian blinds. Dip in washing solution and rub back and forth across surface of blind. Protects hands, especially if blinds are metal.

SMALL BUSINESS

Never let it be said that the Federal Trade Commission lacks thoroughness in little things, even if seemingly negligent on anti-trust matters.

• • •

The lone FTC area reached to the little village of Stanton, Orange County, California, to deal with a serious crisis.

• • •

Perhaps through this stern action, FTC has saved the nation from a danger that probably 150 million Americans never realized existed.

C. W. Harder

• • •

A man named Earl Wilson has a small rabbitry in Stanton. It is a small rabbitry because all rabbitries are small. So far, no big rabbit combines, or rabbit monopolies have been formed. The rabbit business is left pretty much to small enterprisers.

• • •

And probably, because there is this lack of monopoly practice in rabbitries, the industry fell under suspicion.

• • •

From enthusiasm, or perhaps from actual experience, Wilson had been claiming that Angora rabbits can be raised easily and cheaply. The FTC took a more stand in the controversy, and Wilson has now agreed to quit saying that rabbits can be raised easily and cheaply.

• • •

It is not known how the FTC reached such a world-shaking conclusion. It is felt perhaps FTC has staff people who can talk to rabbits, and they interviewed rabbits who protested strongly any claim of this nature being made on their behalf.

• • •

The entire matter could be laughed off as ridiculous. It could be charged off as just mere monkeyshines, or, rabbitshines, with the taxpayers money. But it is tragic because the (National Federation of Independent Business) FTC is supposed to be protecting American independent business from monopolies growing stronger illegally every day.

• • •

The last FTC activity report covers the month of June, 1951.

• • •

This report shows at the start of the month, the agency had 56 cases of alleged violations of anti-trust laws carried over, and received 178 more cases during the month. Yet during the month, the FTC only closed 31 cases.

• • •

Obviously, officials spending a great deal of time chasing rabbits to study their reproductive and dietary habits, have little time left to enforce laws that keep small businessmen from being driven out of business.

• • •

In California, wild rabbits are a serious pest to farmers. So it can be assumed that while investigating, FTC officials also engaged in wild rabbit chases.

• • •

In Washington, FTC claims manpower is needed to vigorously enforce the anti-trust laws.

• • •

But a special report of the Joint Congressional Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures finds that in May the FTC received pay increases averaging $50.82 per month per person, and in June 70 more people were added to the staff.

• • •

Yet the report of FTC activity for June shows far less than 10% of the cases on file in which violations of the anti-trust laws are involved were handled.

• • •

It is on the basis of such records as this that the Senate Small Business Committee headed by Sen. John Sparkman (D. Ala.,) is launching an investigation as to just why the nation's anti-trust laws are not being enforced. And with the thoroughness with which this committee probes, it is a certainty it will produce facts, not rabbits.

STOMACH ACHE" OR Appendicitis?

The appendix is that little tube at the lower end of the large intestine, like the finger of a glove. As far as we know, it serves no useful purpose. Appendicitis is caused from germs or some substance becoming lodged in the appendix, and setting up an infection.

The first apparent symptom of appendicitis is a "stomach ache," and not necessarily in the right side. This "stomach ache" persists and progresses into the more acute symptoms with temperature and nausea. Taking purgatives is one of the MOST HARMFUL AND DANGEROUS things you can do. You might some time save a life by remembering this.

When a "stomach ache" persists more than half an hour, go to bed. It is safe to take soda water, hot water or an enema, but if the pain persists, call your doctor and follow his advice implicitly and promptly.

An operation for appendicitis by a competent surgeon, is comparatively simple when not delayed. A high percentage of appendicitis fatalities result from taking violent purgatives, or delaying operation until the appendix has burst and spread the poison into the abdominal cavity. Do not endanger the life of a loved one by DEBATING, when your Physician advises an operation for appendicitis.

Central High Pirates Corral West's Cowboys By 26-7 Score

IT'S CASSADY—First score of last Friday night's tilt between West and Central was made by Hopalong Cassady, caught in the above photo as he hurtled high into the air over the defending West line. This was the first of the Cassady splurges for points during the encounter.

IT'S HUNTER—Loose for a nice gain is Galloping Chuck Hunter of the Cowboy eleven as he cuts around his own right end. Hunter, the leading scorer in the City League, was held down to a lone touchdown gallop in last Friday's annual grudge battle between Central and West.

WHOA THERE — Seems an appropriate caption to this shot of the Central-West game as a Central player grimly hangs on to the West ball carrier. The main theme of the rough and tumble game seemed to be that of "stop them any way you can, but stop 'em."

FUMBLE—A Central ball carrier sits disconsolately along the sidelines as West players scramble all over one another in an effort to recover the loose pigskin in last Friday's rock 'em sock 'em encounter at Maply Field.

The West High Cowboys were knocked out of the undefeated class last Friday, as they bowed to a spirited Central High eleven, by the score of 26-7. The Cowboys line was outcharged for most of the night, as the Pirates' forward wall completely dominated the play. It was anybody's game during the first two periods as the teams left the field at halftime with the score tied at 7-7. However the Pirates broke the game wide open in the second half when they notched three touchdowns while holding West scoreless.

Led by Captain Howard Hopalong Cassady, who tallied three touchdowns while piling up 64 yards passing and 98 on the ground the Pirates also played a sparkling defensive game as they stopped West's ball carriers and knocked down several passes.

The Cowboys gained 179 yards on the ground as compared to 155 for the Pirates. The story of the game lies in the fact that Central hit 10 of 19 passes for 189 yards while West only completed three out of nine for a scant 26 yards.

The Pirates scored first when a Cassady to Alexander pass connected for 33 yards down to the 15 yard line. Clark cracked down to the 5 from where Cassady went off tackle for the tally. Clark passed to Hairston for the extra point.

The Cowboys came back with their lone touchdown late in the first period. When a Jerry Johnson pass hit for a first down on the 48. Two plays later Charles Hunter went around left end for 52 yards for the score. Jerry Trabue kicked the point after touchdown. The two teams fought to a standstill the remainder of the first half.

Early in the third period, Central climaxed a 42 yard drive with Cassady again going up the middle from the 4 yard line for the score. Clark passed to Jones for the extra point. Later in the period a West pass from center sailed over Trabue's head and the Pirates recovered for a touchdown. Near the middle of the fourth quarter Clark hit Cassady for a 43 yard pass to end the scoring for the evening.

London Slaps Hilliards By 40 Points

London's Red Raiders rolled to their second Mid-Six league victory Friday night as they steam rollered Hilliards by a 54-14 margin. It was the second straight win by a 40 point margin and Hilliards' first loss in Mid-Six competition this year.

Simpson and LeBeau were the big guns in the Raiders' attack with the former counting three touchdowns and LeBeau passing for two and returning a punt for 65 yards to set up another.

Three Hilliard passes were intercepted with one being returned for a touchdown.

WHAT'S WRONG? — Might be the question West's Coach Max Pemberton is asking one of his charges during the West-Central game. Mistakes in blocking, tackling and furnishing interference for runners seemed to be lumped into one package for the Cowboys as they went down to defeat 26-7.

By "Duck" Jaques

Last Friday night, West was upset by an underdog Central High School eleven. There were many possible reasons for this loss, some of which we will mention. First of all, there was an obvious lack of fundamentals, which cannot be blamed on the coaching staff, for the Cowboys can block and tackle very well, if they feel like it. West's line was outplayed for most of the evening, which really was the deciding factor of the game.

Some of the boys seemed to be looking forward to the game this Friday with Hamilton, instead of worrying about Central. We heard numerous boys remarking about what West's chances were against Hamilton, but none seemed worried about the outcome of the Central game. This is a good example of the very apparent case of overconfidence that the Cowboys had.

Near the end of the game two boys were ejected for fighting. This could happen in any game, but some of West's players were doing more fighting than playing football. Oddly enough, the boy who was removed from the game for West is not one of this kind. As one of the players remarked to me after the game, a team can't win a football game and fight at the same time. It's all right to get fighting mad, but a player should never depend on dirty football tactics to show his team and the grandstand how tough and rough a football player he is.

To sum it all up, the Cowboys were outcoached and outplayed by a Pirate team, who were fired up for this game, while West showed very little spirit or will to win.

This Friday, the Cowboys travel down to Hamilton to meet the team which was rated second in the state this week. We're looking for West to rebound this week and give the Big Blue a lot more than expected.

IF YOU HAD A FIRE
Would YOU Have Enough Insurance To Cover Your Loss?
. . . Perhaps, you say to yourself . . . "Oh, I have enough insurance if fire should damage my house or its contents." BUT HAVE YOU? ARE YOU SURE? You know of course that at today's prices most things you own could not be replaced with your present insurance—granted, that insurance WAS adequate when taken out, but times have changed—See your local insurance agent and talk things over. His advice will help you to determine just how much insurance you should carry to adequately protect what you have. Remember . . . it's better to have insurance and not need it than to need it and not have it.

A-Bomb Protection For Your Home

What You Can Do To Safeguard Your Family And Yourself In Case Of Atomic Attack

PART II

In Case Of A Sneak Attack

In case of a sneak attack get the best protection close at hand. In the kitchen or dining room, drop to the floor and seek cover under a table. Keep your exposed skin covered as much as possible. In the living room, when the explosion is your first warning, drop to the floor near whatever will give you the most protection. Cover your face with your arms—and don't get up for at least 30 seconds.

After The Attack

Broken windows should be covered with blankets to keep out lingering radiation. A detergent is recommended for washing walls, furniture and clothing. Dipping canned foods in detergent suds before opening will guarantee their purity.

Don't use your telephone! While you're calling to see if Aunt Minnie is all right, the man next door may die because the lines are tied up and he can't phone for help.

DO SCRUB after an atomic attack. Radioactive particles may be clinging to the skin and a mild toilet soap should be used to wash them away.

If You Are Away From Home

Should the alarm sound while you're out driving, pull over to the curb. Roll up your windows and then get your family to the best shelter nearby.

If you're driving and there is a sneak attack, drop to the floor of your car. Again remember to shield as much of your face as possible, to prevent burns from the heat flash and radiation.

Dirt will also serve as cover against the A-Bomb, so lying in a ditch will offer good protection.

Hiding behind a tree will cut down your chances of serious injury. With your back to the blast you will get less of the heat flash and radiation, and the tree will block flying debris.

The outside walls of a house are good protection if you are caught outside during an atomic explosion. Lying prone along the walls is best, but shielding your face is most important of all.

Wherever you are, don't start rumors or pass them along. Rumors start panic, and panic means lives lost uselessly. Unless it's official, keep it to yourself!

Preparations To Take

Waste paper and other inflammable rubbish is a fire hazard, but it is even more dangerous if an atomic explosion should start a fire in your home. Clean it out now, or keep it in metal containers where it won't turn a small fire into a big one.

Fire fighting equipment and its use should be familiar to everyone in the family. Make sure the equipment is kept in good condition and ready for any emergency.

All utilities should be shut off where they enter the house when an alarm sounds. If Dad isn't home during an attack, someone else should know how to turn off the electricity, water, fuel oil and gas. This will prevent dangerous leaks should the pipes be broken.

Open flames must all be extinguished when the alarm indicates danger of an attack. If a pipe should be broken and fill your cellar with gas, a coal stove would make an explosion possible.

Five Keys To Household Safety

1. Strive for "Fireproof Housekeeping". Don't let trash pile up, and keep waste paper in covered containers. When an alert sounds, do all you can to eleminate sparks by shutting off the oil burner and covering all open flames.

2. Know your own home. Know which is the safest part of your cellar, learn how to turn off your oil burner and what to do about utilities.

3. Have emergency equipment and supplies handy. Always have a good flashlight, a radio, first-aid equipment and a good supply of canned goods in the house.

4. Close all windows and doors and draw the blinds. If you have time when an alert sounds, close the house up tight in order to keep out fire sparks and radioactive dusts and to lessen the chances of being cut by flying glass. Keep the house closed until all danger is past.

5. Use the telephone only for emergencies. Do not use the phone unless absolutely necessary. Leave the lines open for real emergency traffic.

Six Survival Secrets

1. Try to get shielded. If you have time, get down in a basement or subway. Should you unexpectedly be caught out-of-doors, seek shelter alongside a building, or jump in any handy ditch or gutter.

2. Drop flat on ground or floor. To keep from being tossed about and lessen the chances of being struck by flying or falling objects, flatten out at the base of a wall, or at the bottom of a bank.

3. Bury your face in your arms. When you drop flat, hide your eyes in the crook of your elbow. That will protect your face from flash burns, prevent temporary blindness and keep flying objects out of your eyes.

4. Don't rush outside right after a bombing. After an air burst, wait a few minutes and then go to help fight fires. After a water or ground burst, wait at least one hour to give lingering radiation some chance to die down.

5. Don't take chances with food or water in open containers. To prevent radioactive poisoning or disease, select your food and water with care. When there is reason to believe they may be contaminated, stick to canned and bottled things if possible.

6. Don't start rumors. In the confusion that follows a bombing, a single rumor might touch off a panic that would cost your life and the lives of many others.

You need good, thick suds to get clothes clean. If suds break down before the end of a washing period, dirt will be re-deposited on the clothes. To prevent this, use more soap or special detergent when you see suds begin to disappear.

Stove Explodes, Causes $10,000 Damage

The two-story frame farm house of Mr. and Mrs. Delmas Conley, 2½ miles northwest of Harrisburg, was damaged to the extent of $10,000 Wednesday when a kerosene cooking stove exploded.

Mrs. Conley who was alone in the home, narrowly escaped injury when she walked to another part of the house after filling the stove with kerosene. The Conley's two children, Beverly 9, and Gregory, 4, were not at home.

The fire was fought by the Harrisburg fire department and the Grove City fire department. Much of the damage could have been prevented, according to Harrisburg Chief Frank Braley, if there had been an adequate water supply. As it was the two companies alternated in hauling water from Harrisburg.

The fire which broke out at 4:20 p. m. resulted in $6500 damage to the house and $3500 to household furnishings. Wesley Turner of Harrisburg is owner of the house.

Society Editor Gets A Taste Of Society At Recent Luncheon

By Judy Masters

When I was a little girl I had the impression that newspaper work was very glamorous and exciting, an opinion which was substantiated by the epics of girl reporters which unfolded in numerous "funnies." And since the beginning of my journalism career I have known that some day I would surely get a taste of the glitter in an opportunity to interview a celebrity or, in our present day vernacular, a VIP. This Monday that opportunity came and "pore little me," just a society editor, went out "among 'em" only to find that VIP's are just the same as everyone else. A bit more glamorous perhaps, but still just people.

The VIP's in question were congregated at the Athletic Club for a luncheon honoring the Golden Jubilee of Movies, with Jeanne Crain, lovely star and homemaker, to tell us a little of what goes into a movie.

We all had to wait for Actress Crain to arrive, escorted by her husband. She made a very dramatic entrance wearing a bright navy blue suit with a stand-up collar and a perk sailor hat to match. Although very sweet and dignified she didn't radiate the personality like vivacious starlet Geraldine Brooks. Miss Brooks who was there even before yours truly, seemed very informal and smiled and smiled, mostly at the men (at least it seemed that way, maybe they were more susceptible). The reason I liked Miss Brooks was because she was the only other lady present besides your reporter who did not wear a hat!

Also from Hollywood were Ernest Pascal, well-known writer, and Keefe Brassells, a good looking 28-year-old movie newcomer who commented that his one claim to fame in Ohio was that he knew Vic Janowicz and Tony Curcillo (all three from Elyria, O.). George McCready and Fletcher Markle also came from the movie capital.

Governor Lausche tried Miss Crain's feat of arriving late and although he did receive a nice welcome he was too late to get anything to eat. He apologized to everyone and I'm sure if he'd been hungry they would have scared up something for him to eat.

Highlights of the menu served to about 200 were the crisp shrimp popovers with cheese sauce and good lemon chiffon pie.

Heine Koontz, president of city council and a Hilltopper, was at the luncheon as was George Wing, former teacher at West High School, and present mayor of Worthington.

Among the big-names present were Fern Sharp (daughter of Mrs. C. E. Sharp, 2263 Broad-st), Ben Hayes, Johnny Jones, Gordon Kuster, Irwin (the Worm) Johnson and Chet Long who did some emceeing. Mayor Rhodes and numerous other well known Columbusites were also there. Oh yes, and ME!

Westway Postscripts

Wood-Langhorst Post will be host to the VFW 11th District Conference at Raymond, O., Sunday, Oct. 21. Post Commander James Anderson announced that the townsfolk have gone all-out to make this meeting a memorable event.

Recently there has been a fad and it is hoped that it is only a fad and that is the promiscuous display of the Confederate flag. There is only ONE, the AMERICAN FLAG. Unloyal Americans will sieze upon the display of other flags in place of "Old Glory" as a gain in the undermining campaign that they are so earnestly trying to foist upon us. Let's keep Americanism a part of our daily life. When you take the AMERICAN out of it all you have left is a dangerous "ism."

"Oh, I feel so stupid!" said one glow-worm to another. "I've been talking to a cigarette butt for the last five minutes!"

In Passing

By KATHRYN BRADLEY

AUTUMN'S DEBUT

When pixies, elves and leprechauns
Are filled with playful tricks,
And Jack Frost's stole of white chiffon
Drapes around his walking-stick;
When black the night, and cloudless,
And the stars all promenade
In their gold and silver dresses
Along the milky Way,
And when the burnished leaves festoon
A cradle for autumn's birth,
It is then the first full harvest moon
Looks down upon the earth.

Ruth Evelyn Carr.

This poem was sent in by Miss Carr at the suggestion of a mutual friend, Mrs. Sally Baughman, of North Hague-av. Miss Carr, a recent rheumatic fever patient, has now recovered sufficiently to do a very good job of writing and correcting copy, writing ads for magazines, writing material for a house magazine and being an efficient secretary. I'm grateful to Mrs. Baughman and to Miss Carr for their kind interest and friendship.

Planting mums along W. Broad-st reminds me it is about time to take that trek down to a certain farm in Licking County where they make apple butter in the old copper kettle that has been in the family for generations. You don't mind a bit if you cut your fingers peeling apples or get splattered with hot apple butter while you are stirring it, and the wood smoke gets in your eyes. You can always look across the road (gravel) to the hill that is a gorgeous, colorful sight.

Somebody was kind enough to send me a pamphlet which gives all the information necessary (it says there) for having your songs published. If anyone is writing songs and wants them recorded or published, he might write to United Music, Inc., Triangle Bldg., Seventh-av and Smithfield-st, P.O. Box 808, Pittsburgh 30, Pa. And good luck.

From "Tonics and Sedatives" (AMAJ): "Getting out a magazine (or column) is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't they say we are too serious. If we clip things from other magazines, we are too lazy to write them ourselves. If we don't, we are too fond of our own stuff. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius. If we do print them, the page is filled with junk. Now, like as not, someone will say we swiped this from some other magazine. We did."

Autumn seems loveliest when I look up
To see the foliage curve with the sky
Like tealeaves patterned in a gypsy cup
I like to read them, here from where I lie.
The willows launch their golden galleons
Down gentle wind-ways; maple leaves, now free,
Bright with the cargoes of the summer suns,
Flushed with adventure, spiral down to me.
Acorns and pine cones plummet to my feet;
Between the spicy boughs the sky is sunny;
The last ripe pears are ponderous and sweet.
I watch them hang like giant drops of honey.
Thus I have access to October's keys.
When I look up to autumn through the trees.

Skidmore School News

The seventh and eighth graders played two games of baseball the past week. The first one was played with South Perry on Wednesday. The score of the boys' game was 4 to 10 and the girls' score was 27 to 8, Skidmore winning both games.

On Thursday, Briggsdale came up and played three games. Results were as follows: Skidmore's boys' first team won with the score 11 to 6, and our boys on the second team made a winning score of 10 to 2. Our girls lost 14 to 9.

During the game with Briggsdale, Edna Windom, seventh grade teacher, was severely injured when a flying baseball bat struck and fractured her jawbone. She was taken at once to University Hospital where she is improving.

The Skidmore Lions Club met Wednesday night, Oct. 3, for a dinner meeting in the school auditorium. Seventeen members and visitors were present. Plans were made to start the school patrol in the interest of safer road crossings for the school children.

Members of the club have repaired the swings and merry-go-round for children of the primary grades.

Our school is working hard to get a television set by saving Albers' receipts.

Pat and Norma Glass, two of our pupils, are leaving us to move to Worthington where they will enter school. The sixth grade honored Pat with a party Friday afternoon and the fifth grade gave a party for Norma Monday afternoon. We will miss the girls.

Don't forget the school fair to be held Oct. 19.

The boys and girls in Mrs. Buel's room have already collected $10.25 for the Skidmore Fair Fund. Canned goods are being donated by many parents for the food baskets. Only two more weeks 'til the big event.

A waitress asked a gent what he wanted. "I feel like a sandwich," he said. She said, "Just give me your order. Don't blame me if the place is crowded."

False Faces and Festive Foods

By BETTY BARCLAY

Children enjoy masked parties. So do adults—no matter how strongly they may deny it. Ah for party foods—here are some that will appeal to "children" from six to sixty:

Quick-Frozen Orange Juice Concentrate

Quick-frozen orange juice is a sure favorite at a children's party. Doughnuts, rosy apples, nuts and raisins and plenty of orange juice are good Halloween fare.

There's a big secret about reconstituting quick-frozen orange juice, according to Howard Lochrie of Birds Eye, to bring out its best qualities. Be sure to restore air as well as water, for air was withdrawn, as water was, when the juice was concentrated. The best way to do this is to add water to the frozen juice—three cans of water to one of concentrate; and then shake vigorously, in a well-stoppered milk bottle or in a shaker, for a few seconds. This shaking does the trick—forces the air back into the reconstituted juice, adding sparkle and flavor.

Quick-frozen orange juice concentrate isn't used only as a breakfast beverage. It has found a big place as a recipe ingredient. Punch and ades and frosted drinks, fruit cups and compotes, frozen desserts, puddings, frostings and gelatin desserts, all use it for its convenience and its can-ripe flavor.

Heavenly Hallowe'en Cake

2¼ cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup salad oil
4 egg yolks
⅝ cup water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
8 egg whites

Mix and sift first four ingredients. Make a well and add in order, salad oil, egg yolks, water, lemon rind and vanilla. Beat with spoon until smooth. Add cream of tartar to egg whites. Beat until egg whites form very stiff peaks. Gently fold first mixture into egg whites until well blended. Fold, do not stir. Turn batter into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake in moderate oven (325° F.) 70 to 75 minutes or until cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. Immediately invert pan over funnel or bottle to cool. Let stand until cold. To remove from pan loosen side of cake with spatula. Frost with "No-Cook" Marshmallow Frosting.

"No-Cook" Marshmallow Frosting: Add ½ teaspoon salt to 2 egg whites and beat with electric mixer or rotary egg beater until frothy. Gradually add ¾ cup sugar, beating until smooth and glossy. Slowly add ¼ cup light or dark corn syrup and continue beating until frosting stands in firm peaks. Fold in 1½ teaspoons vanilla. Tint about ¼ cup frosting a delicate shade with green food coloring and reserve. Tint remaining frosting orange and frost cake, rounding sides, to resemble a pumpkin. Peel a ripe banana and place in hole in center of cake. Frost with green frosting to resemble pumpkin stem.

Coconut Frosted Doughnuts

3 tablespoons heavy cream
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
6 medium doughnuts
¾ cup shredded coconut

Add cream gradually to sugar until of right consistency to spread, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla. Tint with vegetable coloring, if desired. Spread on top of doughnuts and dip in coconut.

Tapioca Jack-O'-Lantern

2 egg whites
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg yolk
2 cups milk
2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Dried currants, raisins, or cinnamon candies
8 halves canned cling peaches, drained

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in very soft peaks. Set aside.

Mix egg yolk with small amount of the milk in saucepan. Add 1 or 2 tablespoons sugar, salt, tapioca and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly—this takes 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour small amount of hot mixture gradually on egg-white meringue; blend. Add remaining mixture, stirring constantly. (The better the custard and the faster it is blended in, the thicker the pudding will be.) Add vanilla. Cool, stirring once after 15 to 20 minutes. Chill.

Press currants, small raisins, or cinnamon candies into rounded side of each peach half to make eyes and nose of jack o'lantern face. Use a thin slice of unpeeled red apple for the mouth. Place chilled pudding in dessert dishes. On each serving, place a peach half. Makes 4 servings.

Orange Peanut Dessert

2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package orange peanut powder

Set out 4 or 5 dessert glasses. Warm milk slowly until lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of your wrist frequently. When it feels comfortably warm (110° F.) and hot, remove at once from heat. Stir in entire contents of package of peanut powder at one time. Mix until powder is dissolved—not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid into dessert glasses. Do not disturb for about 10 minutes, while milk sets. Then chill in refrigerator until serving time.

Quick-Frozen Vegetables

A vegetable plate can be as fresh and colorful as a spring garden if you follow the rules of the famous restaurants that make a specialty of these popular meals. Choose something baked, fried or broiled, something raw, a variety of colors, a sauce, a condiment or skillful garnishes and, most important of all, quality vegetables. You can be sure that the vegetables will be delicious if you use the quick-frozen kind, for their farm-fresh flavor is sealed in by quick-freezing right after harvesting. And they are work-free, too, ready to pop into boiling water, still frozen just as they come from their cartons.

A combination as appealing in color as in taste consists of stuffed baked sweet potatoes, quick-frozen mixed vegetables, quick-frozen golden sweet corn served Creole style with peppers and tomatoes, and celery stuffed with seasoned cottage cheese. The addition of cheese to any vegetable plate adds protein value as well as taste appeal.

Creole Corn

1 box (10 oz.) quick-frozen golden sweet corn
¼ cup chopped onions
¼ cup sliced green peppers
4 tablespoons butter
1 cup strained, stewed or canned tomatoes (juice and pulp)
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Sauté frozen corn, onions, and green pepper in butter, covered, until corn is thawed and vegetables are tender, stirring frequently. Add remaining ingredients and cook until thoroughly heated. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The Gate Post

By Pat Martindale

Girls' activities at the Glenwood Recreation Center are increasing. "Dee" Cooperider has a fine program mapped out for the girls, varied and interesting, with everything from tap dancing to bowling and basketball to tumbling, soccer and speedball.

With the addition of Norma Goldman to the staff the craft program will be highlighted by new craft interests.

Information on all activities can be obtained by calling Glenwood Center, RA. 7416, after 2 p. m. daily.

Boys' activities are varied as usual with the touch football leagues being the main interest at present. There are three leagues in operation at present and 16 teams playing.

The gym floor may be scheduled for basketball practice by calling the center.

In a few weeks the call will be made for pre-season basketball league organization.

The October issue of "Glenwood Echo" is now available at the center. Many new schedules are listed in the center's paper.

All teen-agers participating in the center's activities are asked to attend the Newspaper Club meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Social Room. A new program is being planned.

Attendance of the first Golden Age Club meeting was limited. Next meeting will be held Oct. 16 at 2 p. m. at the center.

Junior Choir Makes Fall Debut Sunday

The first Sunday appearance of the Burgess Avenue EUB Junior Choir for the fall season will be this Sunday morning at 10:30 a. m. with Mrs. William Clifford directing, Mrs. Elmer Brophy and Mrs. Dale Baughman assisting. Marilyn Mathews will preside at the organ.

The choir was recessed for two months and will now be appearing each month on the morning worship program of the church.

A new host and hostess system will go into effect for the rallying of Church attendance this Sunday morning. It will continue for a month. Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Goon and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Carpenter are the two couples.

The Youth Fellowship will have its "October Special" Thursday night, Oct. 11, at 8 p. m. in the church basement. The meeting will decide the age group departments to be acting on Sunday nights from now on. The meeting will consist of discussion, recreation, and refreshments. The executive council will help decide policy for the ensuing years.

Chart your Course

Sixty-three feet of boat, a belief that the earth was round, and faith that God was with the ship.

That was the Santa Maria of Spain, 68 days out at sea . . .

It had been a terrible voyage. Black nights when great waves crashed on the decks and dug green fingers into the seams. Calm days when the sails hung motionless from the spars and the men threatened the calm man at the helm. Days of doubt when it seemed that land would never come.

But the course was charted, the faith was kept, the Santa Maria plunged on.

An Italian sailor named Christopher Columbus had discovered the New World . . .

We, like Columbus, must chart a course of our lives if we are to discover the new world that all of us seek. It can only be possible through the spiritual help of your Church.

For it takes spiritual assistance to chart the course. It takes spiritual courage to keep the course. And these your Church can give—if you give it the chance.

Fifteenth century or twentieth century—the course must be charted and kept. You and your Church will do it—together.

"Draw nigh to God and He will draw nigh to you." James 4:8.

THESE FIRMS INVITE YOU TO ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE.

1—Information

JOE BRIGGS Says:
Sometimes it's a race to see which will boil first . . . the coffee or the husband.
You can be sure of one thing—you won't be the one to boil if you have a fire loss and are adequately covered with good insurance. In these days of high prices your old insurance program is not adequate to cover a loss that you might incur today. We invite you to take advantage of our service in making a survey of your insurance to determine if you have adequate coverage. You are under no obligation.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Give the fellow a break, GENE. Maybe the person who stole the gasoline from your car last week needed it to get to the game Saturday. GENE BROWNLEE says he's going to wire the gas cap to the battery and give the next thief a shock.

It would be a pleasure for MARLENE WHITNEY to go to the store some week and for once NOT to forget something. She says she supposes she should make up a list beforehand.

Did it pay KATHERINE WATTS to win that $250 in the contest she entered? She went out and bought new furniture and spent a couple of thousand, we think. It was such fun. Now they'll have to win more contests to pay it off. "You only live once," they say.

More power to MISS HELEN MORGAN the next time she goes down on Broad-st to shop. She prefers the Hilltop stores because it's so convenient near home. She is afraid of downtown traffic. At 73 years of age she's one of the spriest grandmas in the Hi-Ridge section.

Not more than six weeks ago BILL TODD said he'd never pat another dog on the head since he got bitten by one in so doing. Now he bought a puppy for his little son, HARLAN. So he's forgotten his hatred.

Expertly tailored is ESTHER BROWNIE'S new fall suit. She has a fur piece that goes right with it. She looked sharp as a tack as she went to church Sunday morning.

Returning from Memphis, Tenn., where they were visiting both their parents, the southern couple, PAUL AND MOLLY CLAYBOURNE were glad to get back to their home over here on Springmont after two blowouts the last 100 miles.

"I'll come to bed in just a minute", BILL McWILLIAMS called to his wife, Friday night. It was a long long minute. He fell asleep in his chair with his TV running after all programs went off: A 3 a m. BILL awoke and climbed into bed.

If I climbed into bed that late at night my wife would think I slipped out on her. She don't trust me no how.

Teamwork Paid Off In This Project

Last Friday evening a capacity crowd sat in the new concrete stadium at Hilliards High School athletic field and watched an inspired Hilliards team defeat the Worthington team to a score of 20-6, on the new well lighted field.

The most remarkable thing of the evening was not the fact that Hilliards defeated Worthington (but it really was a surprise).

The thing that stood out most was the fact that here were all these people sitting in the new stands and watching the game from the newly lighted field that only a few months before was merely in the planning stage.

On July 15 some 25 people of the community were called together to see the need of these facilities. Out of this meeting was formed the Hilliards High Boosters, Inc. In a period of about two months they set about their business of raising funds and came up with over $12,000 which made the whole construction project possible.

This is one of the finest examples of team work and cooperation this community has seen in many a year. All who participated in it are to be congratulated.

Three Hilltop organizations, the Hilltop Lions, Hilltop Kiwanis, Hilltop Business Association, are especially to be thanked for their part.

Georgesville needs an additional three mills for five years; Norwich Special needs two mills additional and 1½ mills renewal for five years; and Prairie Local two mills additional for five years, all for current expenses.

TV Set Theft Is Reported

Mrs. Thomas Mathews, 23, 193 S. Hague-av, was a victim of a comic-strip-following thief who, posing as a repairman, carted off the Matthews television set valued at $200.

Mrs. Mathews told detectives she telephoned the Hilltop Appliance Co. Sept. 29 to send a man out to fix her table model set. On Thursday, Oct. 4, a man arrived in a truck and asked to check the set. Mrs. Mathews naturally assumed he was a result of her telephone call. After checking the tubes the man said the set required work in the shop and away went the set.

Not until eight days later when the Hilltop Appliance repair man arrived to fix the Mathews set was the error discovered. Detectives are trying to learn how the imposter learned Mrs. Mathews called the Hilltop Appliance Co.

Mound St. School Contract Awarded

Columbus Board of Education, Tuesday afternoon cleared the way for construction to begin in the near future on the new West Mound Street Elementary School when it authorized contract bids for two additions to the new structure.

General contract award on the West Mound Street School which will soon rise on the present site of the portable building was made to Krause & Pagura Inc. The bid, lowest of nine submitted, was for $229,217. Plumbing and heating contract was given to the Piping Contractors Co. on a bid of $62,798.

Inasmuch as all contracts granted thus far have been made to union firms it is expected that the construction of the new school on the Hilltop will not meet with labor difficulties and delays which have hampered other school projects.

It was pointed out that work on the new structure would begin in the very near future and that the 14-room building will be ready for occupancy by next September.

In the meantime construction has been resumed on the new Westgate School where work was delayed by union picketing following the award of electrical contracts to a non-union firm.

A. E. George, general contractor of the Westgate project, said today, "We are going good now and if we can continue at the present rate the building should be finished ahead of schedule."

George said that at least 16 union men were on the job as a result of the picket having been removed by the Columbus Building Trades Council.

NEW SHOES!

Elizabeth Willis DeHuff, in "Adventures in Poetry."

This poem is reprinted especially for my small neighbor, Jackie Wackernagle, who started to school this year. Jackie not only has new shoes but new sweaters and everything. And Jackie will tell you he likes school and that he is learning lots. He likes his teacher and life is swell for Jackie. Life must keep on being swell for all the little Jackies.

The author's name was inadvertently omitted after the poem entitled "Near Great" which appeared here Oct. 4. This poem was written by Earl Byrd, outstanding local poet, and was reprinted from The Columbus Citizen verse column. Very sorry.

Dr. Grover E. Swoyer, former Mansfield, O., pastor, now pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Pittsburgh, sent a clipping of Charles F. Danver's "Pittsburghesque" in The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette of Oct. 9. The columnist says: "Dr. Grover E. Swoyer says you could have knocked him over with a pentameter when he read here that Marie Tello Phillips had written a book of poetry called 'Pittsburgh Saga.' It was a surprise to learn that Mrs. Phillips, whom he has never met, had hit on the very same title. Now he'll call his saga something else. He figures it will be wholly different from the other. Dr. Swoyer was an 11-letter athlete at Wittenberg College, football coach and army chaplain in World War I. He has published two books and about 100 poems." Dr. Swoyer has many friends in Columbus and central Ohio and we will all be eagerly awaiting Dr. Swoyer's "Pittsburgh Saga," no matter what he finally calls it. He is what I admire—a minister with a wonderful sense of humor. Remind me to tell you a story he told me about his youngest daughter!

Postmaster, this gray, rumpled stamp
Has not been cancelled; it just lay
Within a small seersucker suit
Before it reached my hands today.
Wedged in with marbles and a bit
Of writing charcoal and a tile,
It felt the swiftly beating heart
That guarded second base a while.
Brought to me on a grimy palm,
It's not, I hope, too creased to use.
That dark, I think, is chocolate bud.
It isn't canceled. Please excuse.

Looking Ahead with J. W. Worrel

Just the other evening I got a new slant on my job. I was visiting an old friend and after dinner we sat reminiscing. Our talk shifted, after a while, from the past to the future and we spoke of our plans and dreams for our loved ones. After one particularly lengthy pause, my friend suddenly said, "There's one thing that makes me very happy, and that's knowing that if anything happens to me, you will look after the insurance and see that Mary is all right." Later, I got to thinking about that remark. My friend was heavily insured and I had handled all his policies, so I would come into the picture as a matter of course.

Now here's the point that struck me. Despite my assurance that — for friendship's sake — I would do everything I could for his wife, I couldn't, for the life of me, see anything I could do for her that I would not automatically do for ANY beneficiary under ANY Sun Life policy. It is a routine service with me to ensure that all beneficiaries of my policyholders fully understand the terms of the policy and are aware of the generous optional settlements available under Sun Life contracts. My advice, based upon highly specialized training, backed by years of experience, is at their service. And, of course, Sun Life claims are settled promptly and with a minimum of technicalities.

Sure, I'll look after Mary . . . just as I look after all my beneficiaries.

Shades of Lil Abner -- Dogpatch Comes To Life

Feil Ambulance Service Increased

William F. Feil announces the addition of two more ambulances to the equipment of the Feil Funeral and Ambulance Service, 225 King-av.

The three straight ambulances are all canary yellow in color representing the latest in modern equipment. Mr. Feil said his firm is the only local one having three cars used exclusively for ambulance service. The fleet is composed of two Buicks and a Cadillac.

Mr. Feil recently celebrated his 17th year in business on the North Side. Educated in the Columbus schools, he began business at the King-av address May 8, 1934. Since then Mr. Feil has enlarged his quarters until the firm occupies two buildings joined together with a Permastone front.

Mother, Son Attend Same School Class

A mother and son employed at Seiller's Department Store are attending school together, but they are not learning one of the usual academic subjects. Mrs. Harry Graham and son, James, 17, are learning the art of fitting shoes at Franklin University's Shoe Fitting School.

The strictly new course is taught in a class restricted to 30 pupils. According to Harry Graham, head of the juvenile shoe department at Seiller's, too many shoe salesmen never learn how to fit shoes properly and the public suffers.

The Grahams are, of course, one family and are associated together at the local store.

Helping the Soldiers Fight

In many ways Americans are pretty much alike. We're a great people for taking things for granted. So much has been done for us for so long that we assume that there's nothing we have to do. That's the attitude of many men and women in very union. It's also true of a good many American citizens.

No one, for example, takes greater pride in how well our Armed Forces clothe, feed and equip our men overseas. We want it that way. If there is anything our fighters need, we expect the Government to buy it for them. So it comes as something of a shock that our fighting men are lacking in the one item that insures them a better chance to come home alive. Former Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall disclosed that the Armed Forces blood bank is just about exhausted. Plasma supplies are so scarce that some of the soldiers in Korea are giving blood to each other.

Blood plasma obtained by separating red cells from human blood has never been artifically made. It is manufactured only in the human body. Assembly lines cannot produce and money cannot buy blood. Supplies for the blood bank can only come from individuals, healthy men and women from 18 to 59. This is something the Government can't supply.

Most of us know this. Most of us are able and ready to give a pint of our blood. Yet the fact is that recently collections have dropped to 35,000 or 40,000 pints a month. The Armed Forces need 270,000 pints a month for the next 12 months.

Millions of Americans gave their blood during World War II. They have neglected the job since the end of World War II only because they forgot and nobody has reminded them very loudly. We believe that most of us will only need this one reminder. One pint and a few minutes spent in a Red Cross station and some man who is fighting our battle somewhere will have a better chance to come home alive.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Announcement in Washington that censorship is planned of all government agencies is creating a storm of protest.

• • •

Reasons advanced for such a move on the grounds of security bring forth a contemptuous snort. Security for whom is the question asked. The nation's [illegible] secrets have already been given away as revealed in the Alger Hiss trial.

C. W. Harder

• • •

Bureaucrats principally want this plan of censorship. The wrath of an aroused people, speaking through their Congressmen, is giving many of them nightmares.

• • •

It is being revealed how one group of bureaucrats, following the British pattern, have been working for Socialism in America. Another group is working to build up monopolies.

• • •

A perfect example is one of the least publicized of the Marshall Plan activities. The Marshall Plan was set up to help Europe get on its feet.

• • •

Now it develops the Marshall Plan is actively encouraging the involvement of American corporations with European monopolies.

• • •

The greatest "lead pipe cinch" deal in history has been set up.

• • •

An American firm that wishes to form a subsidiary with a European firm to produce with cheap labor needs only to make an investment abroad, and the Marshall Plan will insure that firm against any losses arising from war, revolution, or expropriation.

• • •

One of the first of this guaranties was given to a firm for establishment of a subsidiary in Berlin, a city where the residents can't know from one day to the next who will be giving the orders. Yet, American taxes are involved in this risk.

• • •

Yet, bureaucrats while making the world safe for big investors abroad, don't worry how to provide any type of security for independent American businessmen at home.

• • •

Today there is a strange contrast. Some 200 large American corporations have the big share of 2,000 foreign affiliates scattered all over the world.

• • •

Yet at home, [illegible] bankers are worrying about the problems of aiding and encouraging American small business. They want to aid small business, but with the lack of enforcement of anti-trust laws, and with the lack of fair trade laws, they must of necessity hesitate to loan money to small firms that may be driven out of business by monopoly practices. And small businesses, seriously damaged by taxes to support Marshall Plan fiascoes are unable to build up reserves to self-finance their expansion.

• • •

But of course, bankers are reliable people who realize they loan other people's money.

• • •

But bureaucrats never seem to realize that they, too, are pledging other people's money. They risk the taxpayer's money at the drop of a dividend.

• • •

This is the background as to why many bureaucrats want censorship.

• • •

You, of course, expect a highwayman who is trying to put his hand in your pocket wants to cover his face with a mask. Bureaucrats are learning they have nothing to fear but the people. And the people are becoming more and more aware of the true facts.

STRICTLY FRESH

A 75-year-old pauper of Atlanta, Ga., who for years had lived on left-overs from friends' dining tables suddenly died and police found $1205 on his person. Gad! —just when he was on the verge of having saved enough for a good restaurant meal.

• • •

And the real reason for the meat price raise is to make beef prohibitive thus eliminating the need for and discouraging the acceptance of deep freezers by government officials.

• • •

A Brooklyn lad, three-year-old Patrick Hourigan, got into his mother's purse and swallowed a ring, a charm, the metal top of a lipstick and a medal with chain attached. Mom, however, refused to get excited. Either the stuff wasn't very valuable or she must have been comforted by the fact that everything was down Pat.

• • •

Sen. Taft talks as if he would rather be right than President—and acts as if he'd rather be anything than left.

• • •

"Is heroic plan of glorious military leaders that we will fight to the last man," says Kim Il Sung, adding sotto voce: "Fortunately, I am first man."

It's better to get bent from hard work than to get crooked trying to avoid it.

SPORT SLANTS

By "Duck" Jaques

This is a big week at West High School, with the homecoming game against Aquinas and the dance Saturday night. The Cowboys have dropped two straight games but are hoping to rebound against the pass-minded Terriers.

If a stranger saw the game last Friday he might have mistaken the Hamilton team for a college team. They not only have spring practice at Hamilton, but they also have a summer camp in which the boys go through rigid drills every day. The Big Blue are always represented with good football and basketball teams, but when you have 6000 in the school you don't have to hunt so hard for material. Think of the teams that could have been formed in the last few years if West, Arlington and Grandview were all one school.

Another factor which helps to develop Hamilton grid teams is the Junior High League in which all the fundamentals are taught to the boys. These youngsters are put into action under real game conditions, which is a good reason that the Big Blues have the poise that is so needed in playing sports.

They have one of the best football fields that we've seen, fully equipped with a press box, a huge electric scoreboard, a good public address system and a high stepping band which is second only to the West High marching band.

The Cowboys go back into league action this Friday against the up and down Aquinas Terriers at Magley Field. There are a few Hilltop boys who hold down starting positions on the Terrier eleven this year, so some of you will probably be pulling for an upset. Whoever you are behind, don't fail to come and watch these two teams as they renew their annual rivalry.

West Reserve 11 Defeats Central

West High's Cowboy reserve football squad achieved some measure of revenge for their big brothers last Thursday afternoon over a Central grid squad by defeating them 13-6 in a contest played on Central's field.

Jimmy Vincent of the West Reserves intercepted a Central aerial toss and romped for 60 yards to a touchdown in the final quarter of the contest. Until Vincent's interception the tilt was a nip-and-tuck affair.

West Harriers Continue Wins

West High's cross country runners last Thursday racked up their fourth consecutive victory when they edged out Worthington by a 29-30 score. The cross country meet was held over Beacon Light Golf Course.

Individual winner in the meet was Bob Blackburn of Worthington.

West-Aquinas Game Tickets Available

Tickets for the West-Aquinas game, scheduled for this Friday, are available at Sensenbrenner's Office Supplies, 2467 W. Broad-st; Goodwin Pharmacy, 2772 Sullivant-av; and Spang's Pharmacy, 2788 Sullivant-av, according to George Williams, faculty ticket chairman.

West High Boosters will be admitted to this, the homecoming game, free, if they have with them their West High Boosters membership card.

PTA WILL SPONSOR DANCE

By Mary Story

The annual fall dance sponsored by the PTA for Starling pupils and former students will be held on Nov. 16 this year. The hours will be from 7:30 to 10:30, with music by Kieth Brink's orchestra.

The date was advanced from the usual one in October so that it would not conflict with the Central and West football games at home.

Hilliards Dedicates New Stadium By Whipping Worthington 20-6

At half time during the Hilliards-Worthington clash of last Friday night the new stadium built by Hilliards High Boosters, Inc., was formally dedicated. C. Corlton Hartley, president of the Boosters at right) is shown as he presented the stadium to Robert King, president of the school board. Joe Winkler, president of the student council, is in the background. (Dispatch Photo)

Hilliards High Wildcat eleven last Friday night gave the Hilliards High Boosters Inc. a rousing "Thank You" for the new stadium and athletic field by soundly trouncing the Worthington Cardinals by the score of 20-6. The win marked Hilliards second win in the Mid-Six League and placed them in a tie with Westerville and Marysville for second place. The Wildcats had previously been defeated by the league leading Raiders of London.

Kenny Evans and Bill Bowen, two of the Wildcats hard hitting halfbacks sparkplugged the Hilliards lads to their win. Evans early in the first canto cut back over tackle for the initial score following the blocking of a Worthington punt by Dave Leppert and Joe Winkler on the Cardinals five yard stripe.

In the third quarter the Cardinal's quarterback Paul Malley, heaved a 34 yard aerial to Dixon for the Worthington lone score to tie up the contest. Hilliards came roaring back with a 63-yard sustained drive with Winkler plunging over from the one yard marker. Another 34-yard drive with Evans going the last three for a touchdown iced the game for the Wildcats in the final quarter.

Hilliards chalked up 17 first downs to the Cardinals six. Worthington attempted 12 passes and completed eight as against Hilliards attempt at three with no completions.

Oak Table Yields $960 Cache When Sold At Auction Sale

Mrs. Helen Mansbarger of Grove City bought an oak table and five chairs for $5 at a recent auction and could have had a "bonus" of $960. Paul E. White, mayor of Grove City, sold Mrs. Mansbarger the furniture as he closed the estate of Jacob Garver who died last spring.

The cache was discovered when the heavy table was tipped in the process of moving. Two billfolds containing the $960 fell from an underneath crosspiece.

Mrs. Mansbarger turned the money over to White, rather dazed by the affair. "I'm glad I didn't keep the money," Mrs. Mansbarger said later. "Some think I should have but it really didn't belong to me."

Hamilton Big Blue Routs West 54-21

The West High Cowboys put up a game fight last Friday against a powerful Hamilton Public eleven, as they went down to defeat by a score of 54 to 21. The Big Blue displayed many reasons why they are rated the second best team in the state. They put together a great running and passing attack that could not be stopped by West's defensive team.

The Cowboys threw a scare into the Blues as they, at one point led 7 to 6 and held them even 13 to 13 at the end of the first period. However the Big Blue settled down and proceeded to score 28 points in the second quarter to sew up the contest.

Hamilton was paced by their shifty halfback, George "All the Way" Hahn, who scored four touchdowns, and the passing of Bobby Lakes, who threw for the four scores.

Hahn scored on Hamilton's second play of the game as he romped around West's left end for 36 yards. West came back and went ahead 7-6 when Count Bayas recovered a Blue fumble on the 3 yard line. In two plays Jerry Johnson rammed across for the score. Trabue kicked the extra point. Hahn put Hamilton back in front by racing 65 yards through the defenders for the touchdown. In 11 plays West tied the score with Johnson again scoring from the one yard line.

The rest of the game was all Hamilton as they put together precise blocking and hard tackling to score six more times. Early in the second period, Lakes passed to Heasley to make the score 20-13. Hahn broke away for 43 yards and the fourth touchdown for the "Big Blue." Lakes passed to Lillard for two more scores later in the period.

About the middle of the third quarter, Hahn went off-tackle from the five to run the score to 40 to 13. "Chick" Ealy scored two points for West when he blocked a punt in the end zone. The Cowboys' final marker came late in the game when Dick Orr went up the middle from the five. Hamilton's big fullback, Don Nuxhall, ended the scoring with a seven yard sprint around the end.

Jamison, 397 Nashoba-av.

The biggest team of volunteer workers ever to take part in a fund-raising drive here including a large group from the West Side was poised and ready today to embark next week on the biggest single annual campaign ever to be held in Columbus and Franklin County.

Over 7,000 men and women solicitors for the United Appeals and Red Cross campaign with Community Chest, USO, Cancer Society and Heart Association will be striving from Oct. 22 to Nov. 15 for a goal of $2,154,780.

Fourteen divisions of the campaign organization have held their kickoff meetings the past two weeks, and over 3000 solicitors already have been calling on some business and industrial contributors.

Some 3,500 volunteers in the Women's Division will have completed their plans for the drive and will also swing into action next week in all areas.

United Appeals now makes it possible for the first time here to give to 70 separate agencies cooperating in one combined annual drive. In former years, donors gave to each of these separately when individual drives were held during the year.

Of the total goal, $1,500,960 is to go to Community Chest for its 66 health, welfare and recreation agencies. Serving in almost every area of human need, Red Feather agencies promote better health, family and child welfare, youth services, aid for the handicapped and aged, and sponsor neighborhood recreation and culture through settlement houses.

The Red Cross goal is $425,000 to carry on its blood program for military and civilian needs, to expand services due to the defense program, and to continue its disaster services, home and field services for the armed forces, safety training, nursing program and nine volunteer services.

USO's share of the goal is $104,000 asked by the United Defense Fund to add 125 more clubs, canteens and camp shows to the 181 now operating here and overseas. Part also goes to help civilians hard hit by defense mobilization, and to send clothing to Korean refugees.

Cancer Society, which wages the battle against America's No. 2 killer is seeking $75,000 as its part of the total goal. Half the money raised will go into research, the other half into education and service to patients.

Heart Association's share is set at $49,820, with two-thirds of it going for research to find better methods of treatment and possible cure. Heart disease is the No. 1 cause of death today. Nine million Americans have heart disease, including 500,000 children.

The complete list of all agencies included in the "70 campaigns in one package" includes:

Cancer Society, Red Cross, USO, Heart Association, Community Chest, Big Brother Association, Big Sister Association, Boy Scouts, Boys' Club, Camp Fire Girls, Camp Wheeler, Catholic Welfare Bureau, Central Community House, Children's Mental Health Center, Columbus Association for the Blind.

Columbus Cancer Clinic, Goodwill Industries, Columbus Hearing Society, Columbus Urban League, Community and Veterans Information Center, Community Gardens, Council of Social Agencies, Family and Children's Bureau, Florence Crittenton Home, Friends Rescue Home, Friendship House, Girl Scouts.

Jewel Thief Satchel Located On Hilltop

It can logically be theorized that the Hilltop was visited by a big-time jewel thief since the suitcase that held the diamonds worth several thousand dollars, stolen from the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, was found west of the city Tuesday morning.

Sheriff's deputies said the suitcase contained the diamonds when it was taken from the hotel more than a month ago. It was empty when found by a farmer in a lane near W. Broad-st.

In the rear are F. R. Truax, 638 E. Dominion-blvd, identification; and Frank Morgan, 97 N. Terrace-av, president of the Columbus Chrysanthemum Society.

The Highland Garden Club and the Columbus Chrysanthemum Society are making final plans for the Hilltop Chrysanthemum Cut Flower Show which they are sponsoring Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 20 and 21.

Those plannnig to enter might like to know that a bulletin compiled by Mrs. Howard E. Hamlin for the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs says a well designed arrangement of flowers is dependent upon balance, scale, harmony and rhythm. Those planning to submit entries should also keep in mind that there is no organized way to prepare an arrangement.

It is suggested that the first step should be to picture the finished product either in mind or on paper. Next gather and harden plant material; choose containers, holders and accessories; place the longest and strongest stems to give the outline of shape and size, then anchor them well. Other scoring will take into account the use of a focal point and originality and distinction.

Hilltonia EUB Observes Silver Anniversary

Rev. Glendon Herbert

The members and friends of Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church are planning a big day, Oct. 21, celebrating their silver anniversary.

Glendon Herbert of Portsmouth, a former pastor at Hilltonia, will be the guest speaker at the morning service. There will be special music by the choir and a solo by Carol Lee Robinson, accompanied by Mary Alice Preston.

The morning service will be followed with a dinner at the church. A special table will be laid for the visiting ministers and their wives as well as honoring the charter members, who 25 years ago saw a vision which, through faith, trust and hard work, has become the start of a new edifice. The goal is to complete the building in 1953.

The afternoon program is devoted to greetings from the visiting ministers; music by the Brotherhood Chorus, a quartet, an instrumental trio, a duet by Carol Lee Robinson and Susie Willis, and a solo by John Campbell.

The evening service is also musical; a guest soloist, William Cady of Summit Station, will sing a number or two and a special number by the choir.

The morning service will start at 9:30 and there will be no Sunday School session, just a short intermission for attendance taking. Afternoon service will be at 2:30 and the evening service starts at 7:30. Everyone is invited to attend any or all services.

Men's Day Service Planned Sunday At Burgess EUB

The men of the Burgess-av EUB Church will rally anew as they enter into an interesting Men's Day Service this Sunday morning at 10:30 a. m. A Men's Chorus will furnish special music.

A committte has been set up to arrange the order of the service and to correspond with prospcts for the day. A goal of 100 has been set, which includes men and boys. The pastor will deliver the morning sermon, "Gideon and His Standing Army" with an appropriate text to go with the subject.

The host and hostess system has worked well in the morning service thus far, with a good response from last Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lutz and Mr. and Mrs. L. Cosad will be the two families for this Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Heber Beverly have been appointed as the chairmen of the committee system.

Prof. J. E. Newell has been selected as delegate from Burgess to attend the Second Brotherhood Congress at Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 26, 27 and 28. Topnotch speakers and key men of the Evangelical United Brethren Church will attend this meeting.

W OF M SCHEDULE CHRISTMAS NIGHT

The purpose of this meeting is to provide Christmas gifts for the children at the Mooseheart Home, in Illinois. Each person attending is requested to bring clothing, toys, or accessories, suitable for children of either sex from infancy to 18 years, and tree ornaments.

Mrs. Ethel Bryant, senior regent, will preside for the initiatory work of a large class of candidates following the open meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Sunset Club Will Be At Mrs. Michel's

The Sunset Literary Club will meet with Mrs. C. W. Michel, 2917 Crescent-dr, Oct. 24. She will be assisted by Mrs. W. H. Mann and Mrs. Stanley Colburn.

The choir, which is under the direction of Foster McElfresh, Jr., will be accompanied by Mrs. Marguerite Paul, organist, and Mrs. John Graves, pianist. The soloists will be Blanche Naus, James Osuga, Earl Lust and Wilson Bolon.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

A proud papa was JOHN NANSER when he brought his wife home from Doctors' Hospital with a brand new daughter. We are happy for them both. Congratulations.

And speaking of hospitals, CONRAD MARSILI was released from one, shortly after treatment for minor cuts and bruises. He was one of several hurt in a two-car collision.

I don't know whether she ruined her bowling ball when she dropped it over on Wrexham last week, but MONA DICKSON thinks she nicked it quite a bit since her average dropped itself 10 points lower Friday night.

Nickels are handy gadgets to have, but don't give them away, neighbors. Absent-mindedly HELEN SMOTLEY took a nickel from her purse when she parked her car on W. Broad to go to Seillers'. When she stepped from the car, however, she realized only then, there are no parking meters. She knew it all the time, but she quotes, "Sometimes we wonder why our brain doesn't click."

Concentrating on the radio broadcasting the Wisconsin-OSU game Saturday, PETE STEDMAN was in his garage working on the motor in his car. He forgot to work—and just listened. As a result, the motor hasn't been put together yet.

"It's the best blade there is." Yep, that's what DON HILLMAN was dancing around for and acting a clown testing a new razor and ouch! He cut a slice out of the side of his face. Next time he'll leave these antics to the TV ads.

We received a card from DAVE and MAURA THOMPSON who traveled south the last three weeks. They are due back Thursday just in time to read here, "Welcome Home," MR. AND MRS. THOMPSON.

Bible Comment:

Paul's 'Propaganda' Devoted to Noble And Spiritual Ends

THE disciple Paul, who was in many ways Christ's greatest follower, is an ideal subject to illustrate the point that although propaganda is sometimes thought to be a form of deceit, it can be spiritually elevating if used for dignified and lofty purposes.

Before he became a Christian, Paul was intolerant with persons who held differing views from his and he closed his heart and mind to the fact that those who thought differently than he might be right.

However, after he had accepted Christ, his heart opened with compassionate understanding for all views and his preaching, as a result, had a humbleness in it that made it convincing.

Paul's conversion on the way to Damascus, when he linked his new Christian faith with the prophetic truths of the Old Testament, evolved into a truly revolutionary experience that shaped his future life.

His wish and plan from that time on was to lead others into the way he had found.

Paul argued that faith can enrich and enlarge one's life. Using tirelessly his great energy, he assisted followers and persuaded them of the rewards of spiritual goodness.

Since those early days, millions have discovered from the revelations of Paul numerous new ways of loving and cherishing beauty. And from such an appreciation of the sublime they learned what it meant to "grow in grace."

Paul was neither an eloquent nor an overpowering preacher, but because of what he said he was an effective one. As a propagandist he succeeded through indefatigable tenacity.

He did not cry his doctrine as a huckster but presented it with dignity and a convincing faith.

In his search for acceptance, support and an application of his beliefs he gave to succeeding generations "propaganda" that has made living the better for it.

Footprint ON THE Sand

For this was the moment that Robinson Crusoe saw the footprint in the sand.

Until this moment, he had been safe. He had survived shipwreck, hunger, loneliness, and the thin chance of rescue. But when he recoiled in horror at the sight of the cannibal footprint and the grim bones by its side, he realized that there was only one source to which he—in his loneliness—could turn.

There are no longer uncharted islands in the world on which men may be cast adrift. Yet disaster in modern times strikes just as surely, just as swiftly. There is no known insurance against it.

But there is one sure relief: Prayer. It was from prayer that Robinson Crusoe gained the strength and the assurance he needed that God was by his side. It is from prayer—our own, as well as those offered in our behalf in our churches—that there comes the vigor to overcome disaster and make it into a stepping stone where we may again reach for the stars . . .

Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will harken unto you.
Jer. 29-12

JOE BRIGGS Says:
The most wonderful thing ever made by man is a living for his family.

Sometimes the most difficult thing for a man to face is the fact that his job of making a living for his family is all the harder just because of an accident he was in or a fire loss he has sustained and he was without adequate insurance. It is a lot easier to include a set amount in the family budget for insurance than it is to start out from scratch and rebuild what has been lost. We'll be happy to talk over your insurance needs and assure you there will be no obligation on your part.

HILLIARD5 School Notes

BAND TIME

The Hilliards High School Band has been working hard to prepare for the football game performances. All band members and majorettes have been cooperating very well with their new director, Robert White.

The head majorette is Grace Hoffman, and the three majorettes are Iva Walker, Harriet Morton and Carolyn Kidwell.

Band members for this year are as follows: right guides for formations are Lowell Johnson, Deanna Holcomb, Douglas King, Helen Kidwell, Gail DeWolfe, Harold Brown and Malcolm McFarland; other members are Wilma Wengert, Barbara Summers, Janet Pierce, Patty Rings, Judy Holcomb, Margaret Wolpert, Bill Upperman, Louisa Potts, Bruce Holder, Dick Hiner, Karen Myers, Nancye McFarland, Suzanne Flickenger, Joan Woodin, Lee Holt, Bill Walker, Doris Brown, Patty Hart, Malcolm Pennell, John Humphries, Ruth Owens, Jerry Frazee, Janice Brown, Nancy Ridenour, Marilyn Horst, Eddie Upperman, Bob Windle, Alice Ray, Bill Morris, Marion Kreiger, Wanda Sherwood and Edna Wuertz.

So far the band has performed at two games: at Dublin and at our first home game with Grove City. Formations for the Dublin game were to honor Dublin with the formation of a shamrock while playing "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and then made a letter D. From this we went into an H for Hilliards and played the school song, "Loyal and True". For the first home game in the new stadium, the theme was "Beverage Time". The formations and pieces played were as follows: a well playing "Old Oaken Bucket", a milk bottle playing "Old MacDonald Had a Farm", a tea kettle playing "Polly Put the Kettle On", and a jug playing "Little Brown Jug." The band ended by forming an H and playing the school song, "Loyal and True."

One of the future formations which are now planned for the Marysville homecoming game, Oct. 19, is a Queen's Special, with the theme of "Red Letter Days." The dedication of our new football field was held Oct. 12 when we met Worthington. The band honored the group which sponsored the new field. Parents' night with Hamilton Township on Nov. 9 will find the band members honoring the parents in song and formation.

This is appropriate, as the band, parents and Music Boosters Club have been very active in assisting the band. One of the Music Boosters' activities is a concession stand which is open for the home games. It is located under the stadium. The Band Boosters and Mothers' Club both serve hot and cold refreshments. They have recently purchased several new band uniforms in larger sizes.

The Music Boosters held a meeting on Oct. 12, at the high school. Additional information was given by Mr. Pickens on coming school mill levy vote. All attending the meeting were urged to vote for the mill levy because of the urgent need. The club also hopes to purchase choir robes for the chorus. For this they have several money-making projects. One of these is the selling of Christmas cards.

Mr. Reall's fifth period civics class had a hot debate on whether or not United Nations troops should stay in Korea.

Those in favor of troops staying were Bill Boden, Dave Leppert, John Gardella, Larry Hetrick and Bob Burns.

Those in favor of pulling troops out of Korea were Jim Lamb, Harry Ball, Charles Kaiser, Phyllis Ball and Stella Butcher.

HOMECOMING ELECTIONS

Hilliards High School was busy the second two weeks of October, preparing for its annual football homecoming, which will be Oct. 19.

Tuesday morning, Oct. 9, girls were nominated from sophomore, junior and senior homerooms for the football queen and court.

Wednesday morning there was an assembly for the purpose of introducing the candidates to the school. After the assembly everyone went back to home rooms to vote. The result was as follows: queen, Margie Wagner; senior attendants, Helen Scott and Patty Rings. Junior attendants were Nancy Donley and Bettye Grooms. Sophomore attendant is Mary Jane Slagle.

CHAIN GILT AWARDED

William Gibson, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson, 3424 Bethel-rd, and a member of the Hilliards chapter of the Future Farmers of America, will be the 1951-52 link in a chain of Hilliards FFA members who will breed and raise purebred Duroc-Jersey hogs.

Gibson was chosen by the Hilliards chapter gilt chain committee from all freshmen and sophomore FFA members as the boy most deserving and likely to succeed in raising swine.

If gilt chain operation a boy is given a free, outstanding purebred gilt ready for breeding. He is then under obligation to follow approved scientific practices of pork production in handling the gilt. At the end of his first year of ownership he must deliver a gilt equal to his original stock in quality and size, to the chapter gilt chain committee. The committee then selects another freshman or sophomore boy to continue the "chain".

The donor of the gilt given to Gibson and the boy who received the Duroc-Jersey chain gilt last year was Robert Hooper. Hooper purchased the gilt he returned this year at the Ninth Annual Hilliards FFA and YFA Purebred Swine Sale, held at the Franklin County Fairgrounds Oct. 3.

The gilt was consigned to the sale by David Horst of Amlin, well known breeder of Duroc-Jersey swine. Horst is a former member of the Hilliards Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

MAGAZINE ASSEMBLY

The annual Magazine Assembly at Hilliards High School got under way Wednesday morning, Oct. 3.

Mr. Pickens, the principal, introduced the speaker, Mr. Webb, of the Curtis Publishing Company.

The profits from this sale will be used as follows: 25% will go to all-school functions. It will sponsor the homecoming dance and other activities. The other 75% will be divided among the four classes on the basis of magazine sales for each class.

JUNIORS SELECT PLAY

"Cheaper by the Dozen" by Frank B. Galbreth was selected by the Hilliards High juniors for their class play, to be given Tuesday, Nov. 20.

This is a new play written this year for high school students. The story is a lively comedy of family life and contains many clever situations. The public is cordially invited to reserve the evening of Nov. 20 for a real treat with the junior play.

STUDENT TEACHERS ARRIVE

Newly arrived at Hilliards High School are several new student teachers. The prettiest by far is the new Home Ec. student teacher, Helen Stahl, from Newcomerstown, O. She is a senior at Ohio State University. Also there are three gentlemen who are student teachers in the Ag. Department. They are Robert Leonhardt, from near Marietta, Merle Schutz and John Burkey, both from Coshocton County. These men are all seniors at OSU.

Broken Phone Cable Interrupts Service

When a shovel operator sliced through a telephone cable in the basement of a home being built at 2201 W. Broad-st, Tuesday, Oct. 9, about 100 phones in that locality were put out of service for more than four hours.

Residents in the affected area were informed of the mishap by a loudspeaker on a truck. Those losing service were located south of Broad-st.

West High School Prepares for Possibility of Air Raids

Air raid drills as a precautionary measure to safeguard students in the school were worked out this past week at West High School. Should an attack ever be made here, at least parents may feel assured that the children are being protected. Principal I. F. Young is pictured above as he sounds the siren warning students to take previously assigned stations.

After the siren sounds the students take this position in hallway stations which have been set up throughout the entire school. Teachers immediately check and report students in position and accounted for.

Deputy Wardens Jim Brown and Clarence Bateman report to Air Raid Captain Cyrus Sedgwick. By a plan of placement of students at various stations an accurate and positive count is quickly established and reported. (Continued on page 2)

What Are The Needs Of Our Community?

Everywhere one turns individuals are bemoaning the fact that "these are busy times", or "there just aren't enough hours in the day", or "everywhere you turn you are asked to work on a committee or something."

It certainly is a fact that the usual run of busy people are very busy as usual. If you take a job with an organization and have half way decent results with it you are just inviting yourself to turn around and take another job.

We have come in recent months to believe that what every organization in the community needs is to sit down and seriously think about what their real objectives should be.

Many a task that organizations work hard at would have been just as well left undone. In other words, many a group spends hours of time and lots of money on projects that weren't really needed in the first place.

How many groups to which you belong are preparing a Christmas party just because they have always had one? How many will reflect in the small number in attendance later on that perhaps the members didn't really want the party in the first place?

How many organizations are held together merely by their efforts toward raising money? How many of them find that raising the money is oftentimes the easiest task? The difficult job is that of spending it wisely. How many groups take hundreds of hours of time from volunteer workers and spend a lot of money for things that are completely forgotten a year later?

Maybe these are just little personal gripes brought on by a desire to be able to spend more evenings at home rather than in committee sessions. Maybe there are others though who feel the same way and would like to join in saying "Let's determine first what the needs of the community are before we burn up so much time and money trying to do things for people who don't necessarily want or need things done for them." Think it over!

Five persons were injured this week (ending Oct. 21) within the Hilltop area, two of these were pedestrians, one a juvenile. Actually there were only 13 accidents with property damage in 10 cases.

Pranksters Give Witness Real Scare

An "accident" took place at Clarendon-av and Mound-st, about 10 p. m. Monday when a West Side man reported to fire department headquarters, "A man has been struck by an auto at Clarendon and Mound-st." Upon arrival at the scene the emergency squadman discovered a burlap bag stuffed with paper and rags and on the sidewalk a smashed milk bottle.

The man who reported the "hit and run" saw a body hurtled in front of an auto and heard the crash of broken glass. The auto did not stop. The man sheepishly agreed that he had been the butt of pre-Halloween pranksters.

The big gathering of ghosts, witches, goblins, leprechauns and other assorted gentry will be found in all their glory at West High on Wednesday night.

When next Wednesday night rolls around, this community will be abound in ghosts, witches, goblins and what have you, but instead of the sinister figures wandering helter-skelter about the Hilltop, they'll all be heading in the same direction. Our apologies to Mr. Allen for not giving proper credit for his fine photographic work.

Huge Shopping Center Planned At New Rome

Purchase of 125 acres of land adjacent to and east of New Rome by the Westfield Corporation recently has revealed plans of the latter firm for construction of what has been termed as the largest shopping center in the United States.

Plans were revealed for the center at a meeting of the Rome Business Association when a representative of the firm revealed purchase of 75 acres of land from Myrtle and John L. Gates and 50 acres from Jessie D. and Aubrey DeGraw.

The purchase of the lands completed the acquisition of sufficient acreage to establish the shopping center and also to provide a site for the construction of 1400 new homes of multiple unit type for the employees of the huge Westinghouse plant which is now under construction. D. J. Kunz of New Rome is the broker who handled the real estate transaction.

The spokesman for the Westfield Corporation also revealed that at least 20 acres of the land which is now wooded will be set aside to provide a beautiful new park for the residents of the Rome community and the new housing and shopping center development.

Plans are now being drawn for the new shopping center and it is anticipated that work of construction will start on it in the very near future, according to the corporation spokesman.

Wandering TV Set Located After Comedy Of Errors

There was some head scratching going on this past week as two local television dealers tried to figure out just what happened in the case of the wandering TV set of Thomas Mathews, 193 S. Hague-av, which had been reported as stolen. As it turned out there was a mixture of coincidence and errors, but nevertheless the TV set has been located.

Here's what happened.

Mrs. Mathews telephoned Hilltop Appliances Co. that the TV was out of commission and Hobert Stroup of that firm informed her that Russel Seeley the repairman was on vacation for a week and would pick up the set on his return. In the meantime a man called at the Mathews home and said he was there to check the set. Tubes were found bad and the set went away with the man to the repair shop.

When Seeley returned from vacation he called at the Mathews home to find the TV gone and checking at the store he found it also missing. So then developed the story of the wandering TV set.

During the week however, up popped the set again. Wolfe Electric of West Broad-st tried to deliver a set to a Hague-av home but found that the residents already had a set and the one they were delivering did not belong there. It came back and Gene Wolfe remembering the story in last week's Record began inquiring. It seemed that his repairman got mixed up in addresses on a call and happened to stop at the Mathews home, where with the set being out of commission it was assumed that it was the set he had been ordered to pick up.

Wolfe notified police and eventually the whole matter was straightened out and the wandering TV set has been finally located.

NCCS To Sponsor Square And Round Dance Nov. 5

Hank Newman of the Georgia Crackers

The second annual square and round dance to be sponsored by the Columbus Committee of the National Catholic Community Service to aid its voluntary service to war veterans at Chillicothe VA Hospital, will take place on Monday, Nov. 5, at Rollerland, 818 E. Mound-st, from 8:30 to 12 p. m. Music for the dance will be furnished by "The Georgia Crackers," well known radio and recording band now appearing daily on Station WHKC and weekly over the coast to coast Mutual network.

All proceeds of the dance will be used for continuation and expansion of voluntary service programs as outlined by Veteran Administration hospitals for the rehabilitation of disabled war veterans. This is a once-a-year public benefit for hospitalized patients and aids the NCCS to give square dances, ward parties, watermelon parties, picnics, smokers with athletic and musical programs, in addition to gifts and food throughout the year with special emphasis on all holidays like Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, Mother's Day, etc.

During seasonal sports the organization sponsors series of games such as the current program of nine weeks' football playing with bands, drill teams or other entertainment featured between halves. The huge sign on State House grounds at Broad and High each year advertising the annual HOSPITAL DAY is provided by the National Catholic Community Service.

General chairmas for the benefit affair for disabled veterans is John A. McAndrews, 1936 Fairmont-av, leader in civic, religious and entertainment activities. He will be assisted by Harold Breitfeller, 1305 Linwood-av, as co-chairman. Other chairmen appointed by Mr. McAndrews include Margaret Gallen, tickets; Edward O. Ryan, treasurer; Donald Flynn and Michael Murphy, arrangements; Theresa Selegue, hostesses; Mrs. James Farrell, posters, and Mrs. Thomas C. Allison, publicity.

Assisting Miss Gallen with ticket sales is Pauline Albert, 1826 Harrisburg-pk, and acting as hostesses will be Donna Davies, 184 Hayden-av; Mary Frances Scholleprrel, 1050 Sullivant-av; Sally and Pauline Welker, 48 Souder-av; Ramona Gomez, 183 Dana-av; Mary Jane Bartilucci, 145 S. Yale-av; Ann Engle, 432 S. Huron-av; Mary Ryan, 617 Wiltshire-av; Helen Melfi, 215 S. Sandusky-st; Sally De Shetler, 266 Algonquin-av; Helen Monaco, 2501 Sullivant-av; Betty Lee Bias, 409 W. Second-av; Kathryn Saracina, 70 Meek-av; Mary Dorrian, 740 Campbell-av; Mary Antonelli, 812 Binns-blvd. Dan Grassbaugh, 501 Binns-blvd, is aiding the committee on arrangements.

Tickets for the square and round dance, $1 each, tax included, are available at Heaton's Music Store, 50 N. High-st; Cathedral Book Shop, 205 E. Broad-st, from any NCCS member, or at the door on the night of the dance.

The Right Rev. Monsignor Roland T. Winel, is moderator for the Columbus NCCS, and Mrs. Thomas Allison, 2474 Vassar-pl, is chairman.

HILLIARDS WHIPS WORTHINGTON

By Herb Weisenberger

Who is Kenny Evans? He's the speedy halfback who tallied two six pointers for Hilliards against Worthington Friday, Oct. 12.

In the dedication game for the new football field, final score was 20 to 6 in favor of the Wildcats.

Joe Winkler plunged over for the third Wildcat score. Darrell Armstrong made two of the three tries for extra points.

Worthington scored in the second quarter, with a pass play to Dixon, the right end. The Cardinals threatened to score in the third quarter but were halted on the fifteen yard line by the excellent defense of the Wildcats.

Hunting Season Safety Tips

Hunting season is only a few weeks old but already there have been a number of firearms casualties. As in previous years, most of these mishaps occur in the homes, not in the hunting field, according to Edwin H. Davis, President, Ohio State Safety Council.

Every gun should be considered as loaded. Davis said, "No one ever seems to be shot by a gun thought to be loaded. The accidents all seem to occur with a gun that was considered unloaded." So the first safety precaution is to class all guns as loaded.

Guns should be locked up so children can not get to them. Ammunition should be under lock and key, in a place away from the firearm. Guns should be broken open and all loads removed before any examination or cleaning is started. Unload the gun when climbing fences, getting in or our of a car, or when passing the weapon to another person.

Most important, do not point the gun at anything you do not want to shoot. Be sure what lies in front of the arm before you fire. Modern ammunition sends a shot a long way. Do not shoot toward farm buildings or the highway. A person you don't see may step into your line of fire and be killed.

Telephone, electric light and railway companies dread the hunting season. Some of those carrying guns think it rare sport to shoot the insulators on the poles. Every year people suffer inconvenience of power or telephone failure or train delays because some joker shot at an insulator, and broke it or cut a wire or put a hole in an important piece of equipment of a pole.

That's not the worst of it, linemen, repairmen and track workers have been endangered by wild shooting along the pole line or railroad right of way. Even train personnel have had narrow escapes from being shot.

Respect property and other rights of people when you are out hunting. Close gates and climb fences carefully. If you don't damage a fellow's property he won't be so likely to prohibit hunting. Be a good sportsman, ask permission before hunting on occupied land. Be a gentleman and thank the resident for the privilege. Be a safe hunter and never shoot toward anything you do not want to kill.

The Road Back

History teaches that human slavery, ever a torturous form of death itself, is resisted, and is at last rejected, with the unwavering tenacity with which the individual rejects for himself the thought of death.

Thus any segment of the race entrapped in slavery prevails at last against it. That segment then seeks desperately, as did our founding fathers, a pattern of life by which may be avoided a recurrence of the brutalities inevitable in the mounting tyrannies of any planned society.

That pattern of life, to be effective, must offer the individual reasonable opportunity, within its outlines, to manage his own affairs, to seek personal profit according to his contributions, and to accumulate substance against his rainy day.

Without a commonly respected protective pattern of of law within which to work, incentive fails and the road back to the jungle becomes short and certain.

Men of Strength Have Held Torch of Free Press High

For more years than man can accurately record, strong men have freely spoken their minds. And from the day of the first newspaper, strong editors have taken a firm stand to maintain that privilege. Newspapers have lighted the way for freedom.

Where newspapers have failed to remain free, so too have nations and individuals. Great men have recognized that fact with these words:

• • •

Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press and that cannot be limited without being lost.—Thomas Jefferson.

• • •

Three hostile newspapers are more to be feared than a thousand bayonets.—Napoleon.

• • •

Newspapers are the schoolmasters of the common people. That endless book, the newspaper, is our national glory.—Henry Ward Beecher.

• • •

"SMALL BUSINESS"

It is possible the recently signed Japanese Peace Treaty will run into rough water when it comes to the Senate for ratification as required by the Constitution.

• • •

The trend of events may result in one of the biggest Congressional probes yet of the State Department to smoke out what influence worldwide monopolies are having on nation's foreign policy.

C. W. Harder

• • •

Old soldiers may fade away, but the reason for their dismissal is not so easily forgotten on Capitol Hill.

• • •

And twice within 60 days, there have been reports from Japan that the old world power seeking monopolies, interlocked before the war with foreign monopolies, are again rising.

• • •

Many feel MacArthur policies on Japanese economic reform were the real reason why he was at odds with the State Dept.

• • •

Now the British press service confirms this with a report that four of the giant Japanese companies that formed the giant Japanese financial monopoly have announced they will merge again.

• • •

The British report says that these monopolies were broken up by MacArthur.

• • •

Early in the occupation, the report relates, MacArthur set up an anti-trust division to break up these monopolies as they were held responsible for bringing about Japanese aggression through their puppet, Tojo.

• • •

MacArthur was probably too successful in bringing economic democracy to Japan. His success in enforcing anti-trust rules of recent vintage was a glaring contrast to official apathy in this nation toward enforcing long established anti-trust laws.

• • •

All haste was made to conclude the occupation before the Japanese people had ample time to work out a system that would insure continuation of individual free enterprise in their nation.

• • •

MacArthur was the hope of the average Japanese citizen.

• • •

But with that hope rapidly being destroyed, they will undoubtedly turn to a new champion. Whether the new leader will be another Tojo, or Stalin, cannot be predicted now.

• • •

It is possible that members of Congress before ratifying the treaty will want to investigate the strange events concerning Japan. In order they are: the ousting of MacArthur; the breakneck speed with which a peace treaty was held immediately after; and now the reforming of Japanese monopolies.

• • •

And tied to these events is the fact that the Marshall Plan will now insure against loss any American firm that wants to invest as a partner abroad in a foreign monopoly.

• • •

Although the Congress has been largely ignored, Congressmen may use Japanese events as the means of recapturing some of the power given them by the voters.

• • •

An exposure of the forces both at home and abroad seeking to tie all business, finance, industry and agriculture into super-monopolies is in order before anything is ratified, many on Capitol Hill believe. There may not be haste to rubber stamp recent actions.

©National Federation of Independent Business

STRICTLY FRESH

Turned loose in enemy territory, ants with explosives attached to them could help win a war, says Alabama inventor. Enemy picking up ant would automatically press button setting off charge. Latest thing in puss-button warfare.

• • •

Fellow lost in Kentucky argued for half an hour with his wife over which of two steeply curving hill roads to take. He chose one that had been partially washed away, suffered internal injuries as he crashed 140 feet down an embankment. Next day doctors reported he had taken a decided turn for the worse—a statement 24 hours retroactively correct.

• • •

It's odd that so many college tests are held on the days Monday through Friday when you stop and think of all the guys who can't pass unless it's Saturday afternoon.

• • •

There are some people who for reasons of their own think it beneath them to get in line with run-of-the-mill Americans and donate blood for the Armed Services. What's needed are more vein people and less vain ones.

• • •

They can't take everything away from the Little Man by claiming he has Dad's chin, Mom's nose, Auntie's eyes and Grandpa's ears. He most generally makes it plain that he has a mind of his own.

West Stops Aquinas In Homecoming Tilt

The West High Cowboys sent a Homecoming game crowd of 8500 home happy last Friday as they whipped Aquinas 20-0. The Cowboys defensive team played its best game of the season as it stopped all Terrier threats of crossing the goal line. West scored on two spectacular runs in the second period by Charley Hunter and a fourth period pass from Jerry Trabue to Jerry Johnson.

The Terriers threatened only once, when in the first quarter they drove to West's 2-yard line before they were stopped.

The Terriers tried 31 passes but could connect on only six of them. The Cowboys stopped their running game cold as the Terriers line was outcharged most of the evening.

The Cowboys scored their first touchdown, when early in the second period, Charley Hunter went off tackle, cut to the sidelines and behind timely blocking of his mates, romped 48 yards for a touchdown. Later in the period, Hunter took a punt on his own 37 and started to his left, but seeing no blockers, reversed his field and danced through the entire Aquinas team for a touchdown.

On the second play of the fourth period, Trabue faked a punt from the Terriers 32 yard line and hit Captain Jerry Johnson with a perfect pass on the 10, from where Johnson raced into the end zone with the final score of the evening.

West Takes 20-0 Victory Over Aquinas

SPORT SLANTS

By "Duck" Jaques

The West High School football team will be under heavy pressure this week, when they travel up north to meet the in and out North High Polar Bears. North, having already lost two City League contests, has nothing to lose and everything to gain, while West must win this game if they are to have any share of the title. The Polar Bears depend on their running game and will give the Cowboys a rough way to go, if they penetrate the boys who hold up the center of West's forward wall.

Those of you who saw the last two games have noticed that Mac Pemberton and his boys have unveiled a lot of new plays which have been needed for quite some time. The Cowboys now run from a tight T formation, a split T, and short punt with the quarterback as the tailback.

We wonder what excited Jerry Johnson last Friday night so much. It is reported that after kissing the Homecoming Queen, Sally Billingsly, he went on the field for the second half kickoff without his helmet.

The Alumni Association elected officers for the coming year at the Homecoming Dance, Saturday night. They were, Carl Caligeri, president; Ronnie James, vice-president; Sharon Clarkin, secretary; and Yvonne Beard, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Rains, 304 Avondale-av, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen Marie, to John Modlich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Linus Modlich, 2965 Wicklow-rd. The wedding will be an event of Nov. 24. The Rains family are former residents of Harrisburg-pk and Little-av.

A mothers meeting was held at South Franklin School Wednesday. A pot-luck dinner took place at noon with mothers of pupils from Wilson, Briggsdale and South Franklin as guests.

A meeting was called at Briggsdale School Tuesday evening, Oct. 16, to discuss the advisability of organizing a PTA unit there. It was decided to continue as a part of the South Franklin Township group. Briggsdale will, however, have its own Mothers' Club, members of which will cooperate with the South Franklin Township Mothers' Club.

The loss of liberty in general would soon follow the suppression of the liberty of the press; for it is an essential branch of liberty, so perhaps it is the best preservation of the whole. No nation, ancient or modern ever lost the liberty of freely speaking, writing, or publishing their sentiments, but forthwith lost their liberty in general and became slaves.—John Peter Zenger.

Starling School News

Y TEEN JAMBOREE
By Nedji Smith

Starling was well represented at the Y Teen Jamboree held at the YWCA on Monday, Oct. 15. Y Teens from all the junior high schools in the city of Columbus participated. First on the program was group singing led by Mrs. Calhoun, a Y Teen director. Then a skit was presented by Indianola students. A Starling girl tap danced and two girls from Starling and two from Linden McKinley sang as a quartet. The program was followed by games, folk dances, and refreshments.

FUN WITHOUT DESTRUCTION
By Marie Hurd and David Mora

Starling Junior High School is continuing to take an active part in the city wide program of Fun Without Destruction on Halloween. Her two representatives on the committee are Shirley Fyler and Ed Kemper. On Tuesday, Oct. 16, they spoke at the Starling PTA meeting. On Thursday and Friday of the same week they visited Dana, Fieser, and Bellows Elementary Schools and talked to the boys and girls there. This week they are visiting each of the home rooms at Starling to give their speeches on having fun but doing no harm at Halloween.

Poster and jingle contests are also a part of the program. Both are to represent the idea of Fun Without Destruction at Halloween. The two best jingles from each English class were turned in last Friday to be judged. The last day for the posters is Oct. 25. They will be exhibited and judged at the Board of Education Building on Oct. 29.

REPORT CARDS
By Don Friese

Some of the Starling pupils went home on Monday, Oct. 22, with fear and trembling plus a not-very-good report card. Others, of course, were justly proud.

VACATION
By Arlene Sibley

Starling, as well as all other schools in the city, will be dismissed on Friday, Oct. 26, in order that the teachers may attend the Central Ohio Teachers Association meeting held here in Columbus.

ELECT OFFICERS
By Roberta Reinco

Officers for the orchestra were elected on Friday, Oct. 2. They are: Jean Parker, president; Paul Borror, vice-president; and Roger Horch, secretary-treasurer.

Band officers elected on Monday, Oct. 15, are: Roger Horch, president; Fred Hawes, vice-president; and Shelby Shook, secretary-treasurer.

STUDENT WINS AWARD
By Sally Church

Charles Gray, a student at Starling Junior High School, was one of the three people from that school to win a scholarship to the Columbus Art School of the Gallery of Fine Arts. These scholarships are awarded by the Art School to both elementary and secondary students of Columbus and Franklin County.

The two other winners from Starling were Lynda Huber and Marta Stein.

DANCE BAND
By Paul Borror

The new instrumental teacher at Starling is attempting to start a dance band in order to give experience to those who are interested in such a project.

The dance band members are: Roger Horch, Ernie Mawhirter, and Sally Church who play trumpets; Fred Hawes, who plays the trombone; Grace Van Atta and Anita Diller play the violins and Ken Squeo, Bob Masters, Ronald Palmer, and Carl Sally play the saxophones; Jean Parker plays the piano and Paul Borror plays the drums.

They are practicing such tunes as "Unless" 'A Pretty Girl." "Moonlight and Roses," and "Your Beautiful Eyes."

MOVIES IN ENGLISH
By Bessie Lewis

Recently the English classes of Starling Junior High School saw two exceptionally good movies from the Board of Education. The titles were THE FUN OF BEING THOUGHTFUL and THE OTHER FELLOW'S FEELINGS.

The first was about an ordinary family who knew how to be thoughtful and enjoyed the fun of of it. The second one had to do with tessing and how easy it is to forget the other person's feelings when one is inclined to tease.

All the pupils who were able to see these movies enjoyed them very much and each found he could apply the lessons to his own daily life.

Be sure to attend the church of your choice next Sunday.

DESIGNERS STRIVE FOR LIGHT, AIRY EFFECTS INDOORS

A glow of outside radiance is brought into a room when windows are hung with new venetian blinds with softly-tinted slats of a lately developed translucent plastic.

BY EDNA MILES

IN this era of home-decorating, which stresses color and brightness for interiors, furnishings and accessory designers seem to be vying one with the other to see what new creation for adding lightness and airiness can next be contributed.

The outdoors is brought indoors, in effect, with a brand-new kind of coffee table which features a plexiglass aquarium as its base. In this may be kept fish, green plants or fresh flowers, according to the home decorator's whim. A removable plate glass makes the aquarium handily accessible.

Light is again captured as a decorating aid in new venetian blinds which add a mellow radiance to the rooms they adorn. The secret of this magic is a new translucent slat of a special plastic which obscures the outside, but at the same time allows enough light to come through to bathe the room in a glow of color.

These blinds, which are available in a number of soft shades to harmonize with your own color schemes, are said by their makers to be easier to keep clean, since their smooth sleek surfaces have no minute pits for dust catching. Worry about chipping of the blinds is also eliminated, since the color is an integral part of the slats, which are of extreme flexibility.

Reflecting the charm of an outdoor garden pool is this coffee table which features an aquarium base of lucite and a cover of airy-appearing removable plate glass.

West Plays North Tonight . . . Away

West High's Cowboys will meet North at the latter's field tonight instead of Friday night because of the teachers' meeting to be held in Columbus, Friday.

North which was beaten by Central last week by a close 26-20 margin will be "up" to knock West's city league third place into their own hands. The Polar Bears are now holding fourth place.

The Decision Is Yours
FLOYD F. GREEN
Candidate for Mayor

Asks You To Decide Why The Present Mayor Refused To Answer These Questions

1. The "to the point" 22 questions in his "Iron Curtain" pamphlet.
2. Why did he scheme with political bosses to eliminate opposition in the primary?
3. Why the Republican machine has gagged free speech at political meetings, not allowing candidates to talk?
4. Why the administration raised water bills 40 per cent when 25 per cent was all that was needed?
5. Why he has been silent and failed to answer the Property Owners Association on his income over the $6,000 mayor's salary?
6. Why the present mayor has been steadfastly silent in refusing to DEBATE the issues in this important campaign?

There are many more but the administration is strangely silent.

Election of FLOYD F. GREEN as MAYOR will restore FREE SPEECH, honest, independent, efficient and economical government to the City of Columbus.

United Appeals Fund Drive Workers To Report Monday

Volunteer solicitors on the Hilltop who have been working for the United Appeals-Red Cross campaign since Monday morning's kick-off will give reports of their efforts at the first report luncheon to be held Monday noon at the Southern Hotel.

A large attendance is expected at the luncheon meeting to give reports and to hear of the first week's progress in the campaign. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Every worker pays for his own luncheon. There will be entertainment and fun for everyone besides the serious business of the day.

Approximately 7,000 men and women are giving their time to make this first united drive a success. Of this number, 2,500 are women who are ringing the doorbells of 115,000 homes in Franklin County. Their quota of the $2,154,780 goal is $175,000. The men solicitors are calling on 6,300 business and manufacturing concerns.

The United Appeals includes the Community Chest with its 66 agencies, Heart Association, Cancer Society, USO and the Red Cross.

United Appeals now offer everyone the chance to give one pledge for all 70 agencies which will share in the money raised, campaign leaders point out. They add that this privilege carries with it also the responsibility of giving generously enough to meet the needs of all.

Contributors are bearing in mind when making their pledges to set aside amounts high enough to take care of all five—Red Cross, Heart, USO, Cancer and the Community Chest with its 66 agencies. In former years, donors gave to each of these separately when individual drives were being held during the year.

To insure the success of the drive—to give enough at one time for 70 health and welfare agencies—many people are asking "How much should I give?"

If every man and woman with a job will pledge 20 to 50 cents per week, with junior executives giving from one-half to one and one-half percent of salary and senior executives from 1 to 3 percent, drive officials feel that the campaign will go over the top.

A housewife's gift of 20 cents per week pays the cost of 116 dressings for patients at the Cancer Clinic, or a year's recreational activity for a girl at St. Euphrasia School.

A pledge of 50 cents weekly will provide sheltered workshop employment for one week at Goodwill Industries for a handicapped person.

A full day's care for a premature infant by the Hospital Reimbursement Fund will be paid by the pledge of $1 month.

In many cases, persons working in industrial plants and firms will budget their giving over 52 weeks through payroll deduction plans.

Other report luncheons will be held on Thursday, Nov. 1, Monday, Nov. 5, and Thursday, Nov. 8, with the Victory Dinner scheduled for the evening of Thursday, Nov. 15.

United Appeals is a new way for Columbus to support 70 participating health and welfare agencies with one contribution.

In United Appeals-Red Cross Drive, $425,000 will go to the Red Cross, which offers training for emergencies, collects blood for the armed forces, stands ready to aid in disaster.

$1,500,960 will go to the 66 agencies of the Community Chest for services to young and old, sick and well, physically disabled, and to those who have emotional or economic problems.

$49,820 will go to the Heart Association whose funds for research fight the number one killer, heart disease.

$75,000 goes to fight cancer through education, research and service.

$104,000 will go to the United Defense Fund for the USO and other services to American Military Forces.

MRS. WHALEN NAMED PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN

Due to a misunderstanding last week it was reported in the Record that Mrs. James Whalen of New Rome had been appointed as the new secretary of the Rome Business Association. It should have been that Mrs. Whalen had been appointed as publicity chairman of that group to assist the current secretary.

Solicitors will urge contributors to give enough for all, to give generously for this one campaign for 70 causes.

St. Marys PTA Plans Safety Program Oct. 31

Drivers and pedestrians on Hilltop streets would continue ot practice dangerous maneuvers day after day to ther detriment if it weren't for a small group of policemen on the job to correct them. Among this group on such a task is Sergeant Joseph Foster of the Columbus Police Department.

In the specially equipped car provided for the purpose Sgt. Foster waits at street intersections and other critical traffic spots and broadcasts through a loud speaker when some serious infraction has been noted. In this way "on the spot" correction is made possible.

Sgt. Foster will discuss this phase of the Columbus safety program Wednesday, Oct. 31, before the PTA of St. Mary Magdalene Church at the school hall. The officers of the group are making a special effort to get as many parents as possible present at the meeting to hear this prorgam on their own behalf as well as their children's.

Girl Scout News

Many Hilltop Girl Scouts are experiencing the thrill of going camping in October's bright blue weather. Troops 152 and 113 joined to spend a wonderful week-end, Oct. 12 to Oct. 14, at Camp Kenjockety. Most of their meals they cooked over an open fire; the remainder were prepared over open fireplace grills in the lodge. The hills were explored and trails laid and followed. Many campcraft activities were accomplished and there was an impressive Scout's Own Sunday church service in the "Green Cathedral." Members of troop 152 who attended were Jean Walker, Carol Owen, Betty Morris, Norma Ward, Ruth Ward, Carolyn Stickel, Dorothy Fleming, and Barbara Henne. Leaders were Mrs. Raymond Haughn and Mrs. Robert Ward. Troop mother, Mrs. Russell Morris, also attended. Members of troop 113 who went camping were Lynn Bohanan, Janice Butterbaugh, Darlene Eichenberger, Faye Jones, Gail Wills, Doris Dailey, and Rosemary Ryerson. Their leader was Mrs. Mearl V. Weaver.

Troop 113 held a bake sale at Seiller's Saturday, Oct. 20. Chairman was Doris Dailey, assisted by Darlene Eichenberger.

Troop 127 of West Junior High went to Camp Kenjockety the week-end of October 19, 20, and 21. Sixteen girls enjoyed the experience, many completing their Campcraft proficiency badge requirements. Five-year membership pins were presented to Emily Ann Halvorsen, Lois Hunter, and Dorothy Baseler in a candlelight ceremony. Skits were presented by the girls Saturday night before visiting parents. The leaders present were Mrs. H. C. Booth, Mrs. Frank Brady and troop committee member, Mrs. Paul Baseler. The Girl Scouts were Margie Abrams, Anne Brown, Barbara Booth, Beverly Booth, Barbara Brady, Donna Contizano, Barbara Glass, Lois Hunter, Helen Hart, Diane Patton, Karen Reber, Rosemarie Pinkerton, Emily Halvorsen, Judy Robbins, Sharon Rohr, and Dorothy Baseler.

On the 29th of September troop 127 went to the Broad and Mill-st fire engine house. They were given a demonstration on the operation of the emergency squad by the firemen. A surprise followed their trip, in the form of cider and donuts at the Glenwood recreation center.

Of interest to Girl Scouts who are teen-aged will be the square and round dance sessions starting in November at the Glenwood Recreation Center. Boy Scouts and other youth groups will be participating. Watch the Record for further details.

Girl Scouts will be on hand to help dedicate the new Girl Scout shelter at Blendon Woods, Sunday, Oct. 28, 2 p. m. You are invited to bring picnic lunch earlier. Make it a fall outing for your whole troop and bring your parents, too!

West Library To Feature Book Week

November 11-17 is the date that has been set for the 33rd National Children's Book Week, sponsored each year by the Children's Book Council with the help of 31 other organizations such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, and 4-H clubs.

Miss Helen Lumley, librarian of our school library, hopes to have many new books on the shelves by Book Week. She has recommended such books as "That Useless House" by Leon Whitney, which is the story of a dog.

"Born to Trot," a horse story, written by Marguerite Henry, author of "Justin Morgan Had a Horse" and "King of the Wind."

Among the new books is one that is not new but well liked and remembered. This of course is "Black Beauty" the story of a horse's life as told by Anna Sewell.

John Loather George, popular author of "Vision the Mink" and "Vulpes, Red Fox" has a new book title "The Masked Prowlers."

"Duff" is a story about a bear by William Marshall Rush who has written "The Yellowstone Scout" and "Rocky Mountain Goat."

In Passing

ESTHER WEAKLEY

ALWAYS THE HARVEST

Pillage offered a truce to Ceres,
Warning her not to scatter the [illegible]
"Sow in defiance, harvest destruction; Gods who are heedless incur my disdain."

Ceres listened as one who ponders . . .
Fragrance of blossoms will not be [illegible]
Lost in thought, she essayed no answer . . .
Promise of April will not be fulfilled.

Science of war may cripple the seasons;
Nature's elixir has power to renew
Life where the jagged wounds have been aching;
Troops of the harvest will pass in review.

My favorite shutin had one of the biggest thrills of her young life a week ago. It was while she was watching the Big Bear Dollar Derby Show (on WLW-C, new time 2 to 3 p. m.) and the thrill was supplied by Lynn Ballard, popular vocalist on that show. He sang "You Mean So Much To Me," a beautiful song which was written by a dear friend of my f a's, Louise Bare, 4503 Olentangy-blvd, who had asked Lynn to dedicate the song to her. Lynn was accompanied by Mr. Charles Cessner, staff organist of WLW-C. As mentioned here several weeks ago, Lynn Ballard is Circleville's gift to television—and what a gifted gift! Educated at Ohio State, Lynn was in the navy during the war. He attended Sound School at San Diego, then came to Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, graduating from the Conservatory in 1950. He is a member of Phi Kappa Lambda, and has a bachelor of music degree. Lynn has received many high awards, among them The Young Artists's Award in the Great Lakes District. He has sung in the Louisville Light Opera; in the musical show "Red, White and Blue," he soloed and was choral director and understudy lead. He has sung in major concerts in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana, and has also sung in many classical concerts in Mississippi, Kentucky and Rhode Island. Before coming to WLW-C, last June, he was vocalist at WKRC (television) at Cincinnati. Lynn's hobby is music. He says he has no other hobbies. He lives with his parents on a dairy farm near Circleville. He appears daily on the Dollar Derby Show and occasionally on the Sally Flowers Show. We all hope his own show—Lynn Ballard Sings—will soon be resumed on WLW-C. All an old woman is interested in is his talent, with which—in 1951 vernacular—he is loaded. But girls, he is very handsome and has a super personality. (Much as I hate to do this to him, he is single!) Louise Bare wrote "You Mean So Much To Me" several years ago but has not attempted to publish it. She has written several other songs which are equally as lovely. Mr. Ballard and Mr. Cessner are going to record the song, and with that unbeatable combination aiding and abetting, the song should land on the Hit Parade. Louise's hobbies are music and dramatics; she has appeared with Gateway Players. She was introduced on the show when Lynn sang "You Mean So Much To Me", and is a most attractive and charming gal.

Wondering . . . why there still isn't a traffic light at Broad-and-Belvidere, when so many school children cross there to get the bus and employees of the State Hospital (some of them elderly) cross at that corner too . . . why there aren't more shows like "Who Said That?" on tv, instead of so many B films . . . what happens to all the leaves that fall on the State Hospital grounds . . . if Princess Elizabeth didn't think to herself how funny it would be if one of the curtsying ladies at Windsor would fall on her face. The Princess seemed more interested in Detroit than in all the pomp and ceremony taking place behind her—or didn't you watch her on tv? Indian Summer will be a very pleasant bit of weather —

As it has been recently, we use our heating system late at night and our air-conditioning afternoons and evenings. The weather-man, like politicians is likely to change his program for us.

Bible Comment:

Destiny of Man Is Not Found in Technology Books

THERE is a story that seems to illustrate perfectly the tremendous task confronting those who would be followers of the Lord in this speeded-up age.

This tale, which to some may seem irreverent, concerns a preacher, who on his errands for the Lord through the backwoods country, always traveled by horse and buggy.

On one such trip the preacher stopped at a farmhouse to inquire the way to his destination. The farmer who was asked, in his turn inquired as to the nature of the traveler's business and the preacher replied: "I am a follower of the Lord."

The farmer looked over the horse and buckboard rather scornfully and said: "Well, you'll never overtake Him in that outfit."

We can credit the inventive genius of modern-day man for our present standard of living—highest in the world—and for having moved us from horse and buggy days into an historical time of atomic power, wonder drugs and unparalleled industrial production.

And all these things add up to a temptation for many of us to forget the divine power that made all these things possible—that made our existence possible.

What we must remember, however, is that man's destiny will be found not in technological manuals, but in the golden pages of the Bible.

For all our advancement, we cannot reach the Lord in the fastest of jet planes. We cannot make him hear us with the largest of atomic blasts. Our tallest skyscraper cannot touch the hem of His robe.

That leaves us only prayer—since time's beginning our most effective means of reaching God.

It is only in spiritual progress that man can find surcease from the tensions he has created. Faith, hope and charity will bring him peace, and these virtues make up the only buckboard that can overtake God.

Someone has called our century the century of the vitamin pill. Most of these pills sell for a few cents apiece. That's cheap enough for the benefits to our bodies they perform.

But there's one vitamin that's never advertised, never washed down with a glass of water. Yet you can't do without it.

"Next to bread, kindness is the food all mortals hunger for—it is the one essential vitamin of the soul."

If you want to test the vitamin of friendship-kindness and see it at work, visit your church next Sunday. In a world which seems to forget its value—and is paying dearly for its forgetfulness—kindness still reigns in the sanctuary of the church. You can hear kindness in the words of the old hymns; you can feel kindness in the handclasp of a friend or neighbor; you can sense kindness in the ever-glowing words of the gospel of God.

This vitamin is yours for the asking. It is as free as morning sunlight; as clean as summer rain; as limitless as eternity.

Take it only once a week—in church.

II Peter: 1-7

It will make your own week, and the week of all you meet, a better one—through kindness.

THESE FIRMS INVITE YOU TO ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE.

Dry Leader To Speak Here Nov. 1

Sam Morris

Regarded by both friend and foe alike as "the great white hope of the drys", "John Barleycorn's Number One Enemy" and "by far the most dangerous," Sam Morris of San Antonio, newly elected national executive director of the National Temperance League, successor to the Anti-Saloon League of America, will come to Columbus Nov. 1 for the state meeting of trustees of the Temperance League of Ohio, and a public meeting that night.

It will be his first appearance in Ohio since his election as the "number one mouthpiece" of the nation's militant "drys". His pronouncements both at the closed meeting of the trustees of the Ohio League and at the public meeting to be held that night in the Chittenden Hotel, are awaited with extraordinary interest.

Mr. Morris has long been a leader in the movement of which he is now the uncontested chief, following his many years as platform orator and executive committee member of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and the hundreds of churches and conventions he has addressed for the League and WCTU.

He is recognized as the foremost temperance campaigner in America and has spoken to more people over the radio and in person than anyone else in the history of the temperance cause. He is nationally known for his Voice of Temperance radio talks.

He has been vigorous in demanding elimination of the sale of beer and liquor in and near military camps. A leader in the fight against liquor advertising, he told a congressional committee hearing that wine and beer interests are being permitted to advertise alcoholic beverages in dry areas where under local option the people had voted against legalized sale of the products being advertised.

Twirl Away

Ed Gleibs and Jean Mason

New lustre is added each week to our football games, by the rope twirlers. Rope spinning was introduced to West High in 1924 by Mr. E. T. Stone, chemistry teacher.

Each year since 1924 the twirlers have acquired more and more efficiency until today rope twirling has become a large extra curricular activity around the school. There are a number of students enrolled at the present time, including many 7th graders.

The students use their study periods to practice. It is often necessary to practice as long as two years to master one particular spin. Some of the tricks include: the merry-go-round, the Texas skip, coup de loop, the vertical loop, and juggles. Awards are given which include sweater emblems to show the degree of roping obtained. There are three emblems. The senior rope twirlers are presented a pin in their senior year.

The costumes are fashioned from blue denim and red leather. They are made by the girls with the help of the Parents Booster Club which has been recently organized.

GOOD "EATS" FOR HALLOWE'EN

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Lucky! was last week-end for CHARLEY SCOVILLE. He won the football quiz. Winning a Bulova watch, he was most accurate among the contestants in guessing the football scores.

The UNITED APPEALS FUND DRIVE is keeping MRS. R. C. JAMISON on her toes. She's a major campaigning for funds among the Hi Ridgers. Welcome her, homemakers; someday you may have the job to work on yourself.

Good for EDITH STELZ! She's going to make FORREST LANNON of London, Ohio, very happy by saying "I do." They're both travelling in the clouds.

Congrats! are in order for two Hi-Ridgers' families in the way of new arrivals MR. AND MRS. RAY DAVIS are bringing home a daughter from Mt. Carmel, as MR. AND MRS STAN SAMAD are also welcoming a little girl from Grant Hospital this week-end.

Notifying her brother, GERALD MURNANE in the AF, stationed at Denver, Colo., MRS. RICHARD VOGEL writes him she has presented him a new nephew. "Little Joe" they've named the young man.

And when it comes to speaking of young men, only a little older, of course, we've noticed JACKIE PIERSON is taking his accordion so seriously he has his nose to the grindstone.

You know how everyone teases an accordionist that he's going to punch his stomach? Well JACKIE was putting on a clown act for his boy friends, and going thru maneuvers Saturday afternoon, when he pinched his nose.

Folks! do you know what today is? October 25! Only two more months 'til Christmas! Don't forget to look in this paper for our holiday ads at the Hilltop shops. Besides saving money, you save carfare by not having to go down town.

And that isn't all! Look at the time you save by just running around on the Hilltop! Fun meeting all your neighbors, too. We HI-RIDGERS all shop here — how about YOU?

Where Does The Gag Rule Fit In Democracy?

A new streamlined type of political campaigning which prohibits the candidates from opening their mouths, has become the rule in local political camps it seems.

So far in the present campaign and with the election coming up next Tuesday neither candidate for mayor has been granted the privilege of speaking from the platform at the organization sponsored rallies.

It is quite apparent that those who pull the strings in political circles must be afraid of what might be said by either candidate so to protect their stands they keep the public in the dark by keeping the candidates' mouths shut.

Such a gag rule may be an effective way to conduct a campaign but it certainly does not fit in with our democratic system.

Today Is T Day

This is Thursday—and it is T day—for Taxes that is

If you don't already realize what it is going to mean to you, don't be too concerned about it—you soon will. What it means is that starting today any pay checks you receive will be smaller than usual. The government is taking out a bigger slice to help finance its many needless spending projects

It also means that you will pay a penny more for a pack of cigarettes, starting today. And the price will be upped on new cars, gasoline, whiskey, beer, and a host of other items

And this boost wasn't nearly as large as President Truman wanted it to be. So remember if you like the way your pay check looks now just keep him in office a while longer and it will really be a pretty thing'

Today—and every day—is T Day! TAXES that is!

Every time a flight of planes goes over the small shop located at 1095 W. Broad-st, Gene Hays, operator of the shop, now and then will walk over to one of the steel sash windows, look skyward and grin a bit to himself. Some of the men in the shop who happen to observe that grin return it with a spirit of camradie and the knowledge of the cause for it.

Every man in the shop knows that the job he is doing, in some manner or other, is helping to put

Woman Suffers Shock After Fake Phone Call

Georgia Cooper, 28, 535 Belvidere-av, was treated by the Fire Emergency squad at approximately 6 p. m. Tuesday night after she received a fake telephone call that her husband had been killed in Korea.

The wife, at home with her 6-year-old daughter, answered the phone when an unidentified woman, posing as a Western Union employe, told her that her husband had been killed. A check later made by Western Union revealed that no such message had been received there. The husband, an Army lieutenant, has been in Korea for eight months.

Mrs. Cooper was left under a physician's care, suffering from shock.

Many Political Hats In Ring In Rural Area

On Tuesday, Nov. 6, when the rural residents of this community trek to the polling booth the political fortunes and fates of 57 local candidates for office will be decided.

With exception of levies the only race of interest to the local voters is that of County School Board in which neither of the present incumbents have any opposition. C. H. O'Brien of Hilliards is the local candidate from this sector of the county and the interest centers in the complimentary vote which he will draw.

Candidates for other offices of villages and townships in this immediate area, with the number of vacancies to be filled, are:

New Land Planning Group Is Organized

In a meeting held last Thursday night at Franklin Township Hall initial steps were made by a group of representative citizens toward the formation of a land planning group, which has as its object a better planning for future industrial location in the western part of the county.

With the advent of more and more industrial location in this section of the county the group has taken cognizance of the probable rapid growth of this community in the next few years and feels that proper planning will aid both industry and the residents of this area.

At the initial meeting of last Thursday organizational plans were first mapped with D. J. Kunz of New Rome named as chairman, C. H. Campbell, vice-chairman, and Mary C. Demorest, 3370 Brigg-rd, as secretary.

Regional chairmen named were William Maurer, Franklin-twp; Harold Bonham, 11th Ward, and Dr. William G. O'Harra, Prairie-twp.

Norwich Local School District Asks Tax Levy

A renewal of five mills and an increase of three mills to constitute a tax for the benefit of Norwich Local School District will be on the Nov. 6 ballot. The proposed tax levy is for the purpose of current expenses at a rate not to exceed eighty cents or each $100 of evaluation for five years.

The Hilliards Mothers' Club in backing the levy points out that if the issue fails to pass the district will lose $40,657.03 in state equalization funds and will not be able to continue operation.

The Norwich Local Board of Education points out that the increase of three mills would only be $1 per month on a home or farm which is on the tax duplicate for $4,000.

Residents of the district are urged to make every effort to vote and the Mothers' Club is making transportation available to those who couldn't otherwise reach the polls. A list of the Mothers' Club members to call is in another Hilltop Record story.

HBA Requests Twice A Day Mail Delivery

Charles H. Campbell, executive secretary of the HBA, started procedure last week to obtain twice-a-day mail delivery for Hilltop business houses, according to John Young, superintendent of Hilltop Station Post Office

Campbell first wrote a letter to the postmaster which brought him an interview with Glen Moran, assistant superintendent of mails, at the local HBA offices It was decided by Moran that the request merited some investigation and he informed the local superintendent to make a survey.

Young says the survey will check the number of pieces which could be delivered by afternoon mail over a 10-day period. The survey will be completed Nov. 5. According to Young, "A part of Broad Street would be justified" on a basis of what the first few days of the survey have shown. Young points out that this is his opinion and that all decisions will be made after consideration by the post master.

Rubbish, Rubbish! Whose Rubbish?

Pictures don't lie or do they? Floyd Green claims they do.

Tuesday's edition of one of the local dailies printed a large photo which they claimed showed the accumulation of rubbish in the alleys back under the Green administration as mayor.

Friends of Green were quick to discover however, that the photo was one of three used on page one of the same newspaper in May of this year depicting the alleys as they were in May, 1951.

Green stated the newspaper had promised a correction.

Veteran West Sider Floyd F. Green Pledges Planned City Government In Bid For Mayor

"I pledge myself to planned city government in which goals will be set and definite procedures established to attain them. This is the policy of every successful businessman and it is the only way confidence in city government can be restored." Such was the statement issued this week by the West Side's candidate for the post of mayor of Columbus as Floyd F. Green brought his intensive campaign to a close.

Green, in making this bid for the job of running the government of Ohio's capital city, is no stranger to the folk of this community, of which he has been a resident for the past 33 years. He first came to the West Side in 1918 and has continuously resided here since that time. His home is at 3046 Crescent-dr with his wife Esther and daughter Irene

At the time of his arrival in this community Floyd Green was just a salesman working with the Kilbourne-Jacobs Co., handling factory supplies. Subsequently he was associated with the Galion Iron Works, builders of road equipment, and then with Southwestern Portland Cement Co. as district manager.

In 1927 Green made his first bid for public office as a candidate for city councilman. Elected to that position, he served four years and then in 1931 ran for the office of mayor of Columbus against two able opponents, Henry Worley and James Thomas. In his initial bid Green was unsuccessful and both he and Thomas were beaten by Worley.

In 1939 he defeated Myron T. Gessaman for the office. On the taking of office in 1940 he faced the late days of the depression period and for the next four years the turbulence that was occasioned by the outbreak of World War II. During this time he was general chairman of civil defense in Franklin County and later volunteered his services to the U. S. Army for the American Military Government.

Green, in his closing of the current campaign, pointed out that it has been said that he had been repudiated by his party, and answered the charge by saying, "Floyd Green has never been repudiated by the Republican party. He has been defeated in elections but so has his current opponent in the race for governor. If being defeated is a repudiation then my opponent James Rhodes has also been repudiated by the Republicans."

He also pointed out that, "During my administration the charge of gambling interests being prevalent in Columbus was used as a weapon during the campaign and is being used again with the assertion that Columbus is now free of gambling interests. If this be so, why, then, the front page story in

READER COMMENT

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

Recently my wife and I spent seven weeks cruising through parts of Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa.

On this trip we observed that crops were looking fine, farm buildings painted and in good repair. Indications pointed to prosperity among the farmers.

As we noted these things, we wondered how much the subsidies so generously handed out by the Truman administration to the farmer out of the taxpayers' money had to do with this prosperity; also now much influence these subsidies had in the 1946 election.

On this cruise we had access to a number of local papers, and some of the large mid-west dailies.

We followed the editorial pages of these papers and noted the same sharp criticisms of the president and his co-workers as we see in our home papers.

It seems that wherever one goes there is general dissatisfaction and well there may be.

Some of the severest criticisms of Truman are, getting our nation into war with Korea where our boys are being slaughtered or maimed for life; the unprecedented way he dismissed General MacArthur; the twelve pound hams scandal; the corrupt handling of the RFC; the mink coat episode; turning his back on Chiang Kai Chek; indirectly supplying Chinese Reds with war material with which they killed our boys and other things that could be mentioned.

Add to these criticisms about which we read while on our two trip, two recent official orders one of which was that all governmental employes be compelled to publish their income and how they spent it; the other was an attempt to suppress freedom of speech and of the press.

Because some officials in the president's official family are found to be corrupt, dishonest, and have given secrets to the enemy, does it argue that all public officials are corrupt, dishonest and can not be trusted?

Or is it another scheme of his to cover up corruption, and dishonesty and traitors found in his official family?

Both Truman and his predecessor have used pressure politics to make men subservient to their will.

Both have started us on our way to socialistic government.

Both have taken away our freedom.

It is time for a change. The people are tired of being slaves to "power politics."

J. A. Downey

Bill Moone, son of Mrs. E. R. Moone, 152 S. Eureka-av, inclosed the following in a letter to his mother from where he is stationed in Korea:

(FORMULA FOR FREEDOM)
Be happy—be crazy,
Be just a little lazy,
Have friends—have fun,
Have faith in everyone,
Believe in life,
Believe in love,
Believe in everything above.
All these things — I'll guarantee
Will make men brothers,
Will make men free.

No joke, I think this is good. He just now made it up. How about putting it in The Hilltop Record. You folks can tell them that Bill Moone's buddy, Pfc. Hugh R. MacMillian of Olympia, Wash., wrote this in Korea. Smear it on thick and send me a copy if they publish it. Mac thinks I won't send it home.

Bill.

Dear Editor:

To the many hundreds of parents who came to the PTA open house last Tuesday night, Oct. 23, we want to express our thanks.

We regret the trouble of having the lights go out in the midst of your visit. This was due to circumstances beyond our control. Our building engineer was on the job and it was necessary to call the Municipal Light Company to make necessary repairs on the outside pole.

We are grateful for the assistance given by the many persons in securing flashlights, lanterns, etc. Especially R. E. Herbster for his aid and assistance to the engineer. We also appreciate the patience of all those who remained with us until electrical service was restored. Unfortunately, it was reported that light service could not be restored for some time and many people left the building, not knowing that repairmen were on the job.

For all the inconveniences, we are truly sorry.

John Guy Bids For Township Trustee Post

John W. Guy, candidate for trustee of Franklin Township, has been a resident of the township for 81 years. He owns real estate throughout the township and owns and operates Guy's Ohio Co., distributors of poultry raisers' supplies, and Arlington Gardens, nursery and supplies.

Guy is a former postmaster of Columbus and was instrumental in establishing the new Hilltop post office.

He claims he is for the promotion of the welfare of the township by being strictly against the annexation of any part of the area by the city.

In a further statement he said he is proud of the township fire department and would work for the continued expansion of it.

BABS HEER finally says "I do" to her fiance. Her "yes" man is ED REED here on Wrexham. ED, your money was well-spent in buying your marriage license, but that's just the beginning.

We also offer our congratulations to MR. AND MRS. RICHARD ANDREWS. The mother just brought her new-born son home today.

You'll see for yourself that it always rains when you wash your car. Just try it once says HERBERT GLEASON. Saturday HERB washed for the sun to come out, and since it didn't, he got out the hose anyhow; left his car out all night—and you know the results.

Guarding his TV screen from one-year-old MIMI, PAPA HOPKINS tried to remove his golf stick from his baby's hand and in doing so, he dropped his lighted cigaret on the carpet and burned an expensive hole in it. He supposes he should have let the baby alone and let her hit him in the head instead.

The GERALD RENTSCHLERS are proud owners of a Deep Freeze refrigerator. They just bought it last week, and love it. But guess what happened this week!

They won second prize for owning the second oldest refrigerator in Franklin County, and the irony of it is the prize: $75 toward a new one. It's too late now—they gave away the old one just last week.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD WATTS are celebrating today. Presents and cards arrived from all over congratulating them on 10 years of happiness. Yes, their 10th wedding anniversary is today—one easy to remember since it's the day after Halloween.

Getting all these "saving" coupons in the mail for soap, soups, etc., MARIE GILLESPIE took them to the store last Friday and forgot to take her money. It proves these housewives are getting smarter. They don't need dollars these days—only "sense". They'll try anything once.

See you next week, folks!

ATTENTION FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP VOTERS:

It has been a pleasure to have served part of a term as one of your township trustees.

During this period I have been particularly proud of the progress the township has made toward better fire protection. We have established three fine units, well equipped and well manned, with the net result that fire insurance rates locally have been reduced as much as 50% in some instances.

My past experience with the federal government and fire underwriters as a fire protection engineer has been of value in this program. It is my hope to be able to continue to provide such service to our community.

I have been a resident of the township for 28 years, member of Glenwood Methodist Church, Hilltop Kiwanis Club, active in Boy Scout work, Skidmore PTA, attended West High and O.S.U.

If you have been pleased with the progress of the township trustees during the past year and a half, your vote will be greatly appreciated at the election next Tuesday Nov. 6.

It Can't Happen Here? ?

While Americans sit under the banner of freedom and smugly say "It can't happen here," the press is being successfully stifled in many parts of the world.

The fallacy of the "it can't happen" attitude is this: It couldn't happen in Indo-China, Mexico, Columbia, or Argentina, where the Constitution guarantees freedom of the press.

But it is happening in those places — and in many others.

The American Newspaper Publishers Association has compiled a list of significant news items from over the world, entitled "It Can't Happen Here", which points out that it did happen where it couldn't — and that it could happen here, in America.

AP dispatch from Hanoi, North Vietnad, in part:

Hanoi's newspapers — one French daily and four Vietnamese language dailies — must submit their copy before publication to Vietnam government censors, who wield a blue pencil with a heavy hand.

AP dispatch from Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 11:

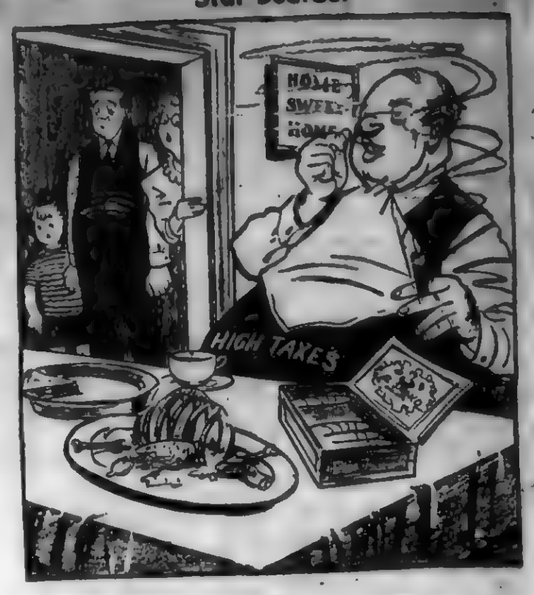
An Arab News Agency dispatch from Damascus, Syria, said today that all newspapers in neighboring Lebanon suspended publication yesterday in protest against recent arrests of journalists who criticized the government and against existing government press laws.

AP dispatch from Caracas, Venezuela, May 12:

The newspaper Ultimas Noticias was fined (about $500) today for publishing political news not previously submitted to authorities for approval. The fine was imposed by the civil and political administration of the Federal District Government. It did not specify the objectional items.

Dispatch in April 6 New York Times from Bogota, Columbia:

The Minister of Mails and Telegraphs cracked down on news broadcasts from Columbian radio stations in a recent degree establishing censorship of all news scripts. Scripts are restricted to facts as determined by the censor, and editorializing and comment are prohibited.



Item in New York Wolrd-Telegram and Sun May 28:

Mexican radio executives accepted complete censorship of their broadcasts without objection. The government decreed scripts written for all stations would be examined to "prevent immorality" and "preclude offensive material — religious or prolitical."

UP dispatch from Salta, Argentina, June 20:

The Salta Province Chamber of Deputies voted today to expropriate the indpendent newspaper El Intransigente, closed since January, 1950. David Michel Torino, co-publisher of the paper and local leader of the opposition Radical party, and his brother Martin Michel Torino, are at present under arrest, charged with contempt of government officials.

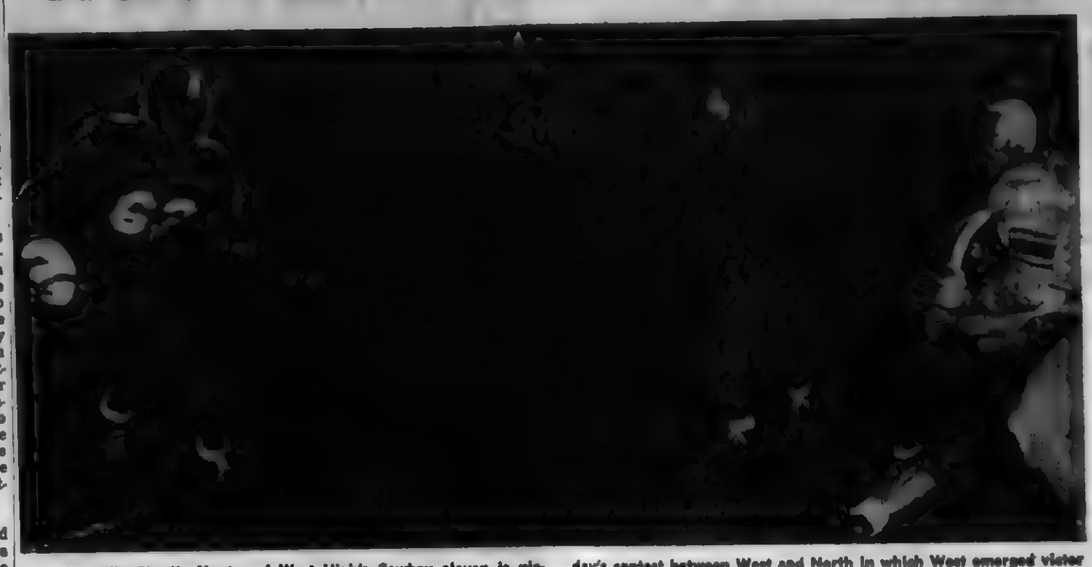
SPORT SLANTS

By "Duck" Jaques

Those of you who saw the football game last Thursday probably will never forget the great catch Jerry Trabue made to win the game for West. This proves that the ball game is never over until the final gun sounds. The Cowboys seemed confident right up until the last play that they could win the game. They didn't give up nor let the pressure get them rattled as they completely outplayed the North team when it counted most.

The touchdown that the junior end, Jerry Trabue, made was his first of the season. We're all glad that he waited until now to score it.

One incident that occurred in the game also proves that not all football players are all muscle and have no brains. This happened when, with about 20 seconds remaining, Jerry Johnson completed a pass to Hunter on the 21-yard line. West had used up all its time-outs so Johnson fell to the ground and faked a leg injury. The referees had to call time out to take him off the field. Dick Orr came in and tried a pass but was unsuccessful. Johnson came right back into the game as though he never was hurt in his life. This bit of brain work is probably what saved the ball game for the Cowboys.



An incident was related to us which shows the caliber of football which is played by the high school teams of our town. As we were told, a couple of men, who were in town for the Ohio State football game asked somebody what there is to do in Columbus on week-ends. They were told to attend the West- North game. After viewing the game, one of the gentlemen remarked "We pay $10 to watch Ohio State play and see nothing. We shell out 75c to see a high school game and see the most exciting contest we ever witnessed."

West Takes Thriller Over North By 20-19 Score

Versatile Charlie Hunter of West High's Cowboy eleven is pictured above as he started on a 50-yard jaunt to pay dirt in last Thursday's contest between West and North in which West emerged victor with a thrilling last second touchdown pass.

The West High Cowboys beat a stunned North High eleven last Thursday night on the last play of the game. With North leading 19-14 and four seconds remaining to play. Captain Jerry Johnson faded back and pitched a 26 yard pass into the end zone, where Jerry Trabue leaped high into the air and tucked the ball to his chest while two North defenders stood by helpless. The game was decided by the two extra points that Jerry Johnson connected on, while Roger Staehle's last two were unsuccessful.

North scored first on the last play of the first period when Don Wiper hit halfback Jay Blackford with a pass on West's 40 and Blackford then outran the Cowboy defenders for the T.D. West came back on the next series of plays when Chuck Hunter cut offtackle and went down the east sidelines behind the timely blocking of his mates for a 51-yard touchdown run. Jerry Johnson's kick tied the score at 7-7.

Early in the fourth quarter Jerry Johnson threw a fourth down pass from the 24 to Hunter who made a leaping catch for another touchdown. Jerry Johnson's kick put West ahead 14-7. North scored back the first time they had the ball when John Weinreich lofted a screen pass to his brother Bob, who sped 68 yards for the score. With five minutes remaining John Weinreich went off tackle and romped 32 yards for a T.D. Staehle's try for the extra point was blocked by Chappie Chapman and Ted Johnson.

West threatened once more before their final thrust, when J. Johnson hit T. Johnson with a pass on the North 31. But West could get no farther than the 11 when their attack faltered. North failed to stall out the final two minutes and that cost them the ball game.

The Cowboys made 13 first downs as compared to eight for North. West gained 169 yards rushing and completed six of 16 passes for 135 yards. The Polar Bears made 96 yards rushing and hit eight of 20 passes for 171 yards.

CAMP FIRE GIRL ACTIVITIES

The Camp Fire Girls and Bluebirds of the West District held a friendship frolic at Glenwood Park Oct. 28. More than 200 girls and their leaders turned out for the event.

A wiener roast was held at noon and this was followed by an afternoon of entertainment furnished by the individual groups. There was everything from an Indian shield dance to a skit on baby-care which a group had taken at the Red Cross.

The get-together was in charge of Mrs. Ruth Stanfield and Mrs. Pauline Cook and plans have been made to make this an annual affair.

The monthly meeting of the West District Camp Fire leaders will be held Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 7, 1:15, at the home of Mrs. Ruth Stanfield, 78 N. Oakley-av.

Columbus Police Department Ranks Among Country's Best

Under the administration of Mayor James A. Rhodes, the Columbus Police Department has become one of the finest law enforcement agencies in the country.

Since 1944 the force has grown from 312 to 534 persons. This includes the addition of several policewomen.

One of the first acts of the new administration was the creation of a modern crime laboratory—something that had been sorely needed for many years. A trained chemist was hired to run the laboratory, and to conduct the scientific work necessary to modern crime detection. A bureau of identification was also installed. This bureau—directed by a trained officer—was added to the crime lab and both were placed in the Detective Bureau under the command of the chief of detectives.

The archaic filing and record system was brought up to date so that it now meets the standards of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the International Association of Chiefs of Police, and the National Safety Council. In this same field, a "modus operandi" — or "method of operation" file—was started. This enables law officers to speed the capture of criminals by knowing the type of crime they commit.

The Juvenile Bureau, dedicated to combatting delinquency and prevention future crime, was increased and its field of operation was enlarged. These trained policemen have been largely responsible for the low delinquency rate in Columbus as compared to other major cities.

In the field of communications, the department has undertaken a program to provide the best possible communications available. A three-way communication system has been installed in all radio cars enabling them to talk to the station, receive calls from the station, and to talk to each other. A frequency modulation radio dispatching station has been installed. This new type of station speeds the handling of calls and permits greater ease and efficiency in the handling of men and equipment. All calls to and from the station are recorded on a wire recorder, cutting down on paper work and needless red tape.

The past eight years have seen a great improvement in medical facilities at the police station and in City Prison. An additional doctor has been retained so as to provide 24-hour medical care. Four new externes have been added to the staff to examine prisoners who claimed illness or injury. A contract has been made with Columbus hospitals to provide hospitalization for all prisoners to sick to be cared for at the prison, and new facilities have been installed in the prison itself to provide all but the most extreme medical care.

For the first time in Columbus' history, a ranking officer has been placed in charge of the Police Academy and of recruit training. The academy—which gives an intensive three-month course to all new recruits—also provides "in-service" refresher courses to veteran police officers. Top law enforcement officials from all branches of government as well as professors at various universities, teach at the academy and bring to Columbus the latest in police procedure and techniques.

In all training great emphasis is placed upon good public relations. In all phases of police work, officers are taught to be considerate and helpful in their dealings with the public. The old time "loud-mouthed cop", is no longer in evidence in Columbus; he has been replaced by a serious, well-trained, hard-working, competent career officer, who has been taught the responsibilities of helping the people of Columbus.

No longer do the citizens of this city just see the police when they are in trouble. Police officials speak at meetings of various organizations, and last year—for the first time—an open house was held at the station so that anyone who wanted to could see how the department operates.

Johnson Seeks Trustee Post

Edward O. Johnson, 677 N. Hague-av, for 20 years a resident of the West Side and current incumbent as Franklin-twp Trustee by virtue of appointment will on Tuesday, Nov. 6, appear on a general election ballot for the first time.

Earlier Johnson had indicated that he might not seek election to the post but his intense desire to carry out to completion the township's fire protection program and plans for road improvements caused him to reconsider and become a candidate for the November election.

Johnson is 38 years of age, married and the father of three boys, Ned, Denny and Paul. He formerly attended West High School and Ohio State University. He is currently engaged in the insurance business.

He was formerly with the inspection bureau as fire protection engineer and plant security inspector with the government during World War II. Active in Boy Scout work, Johnson is also a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Toastmaster's Club.

VOTE NEXT TUESDAY NOV. 6

BRING HONESTY BACK TO THE CITY HALL

ELECT→FLOYD F. GREEN

FLOYD F. GREEN

Voters:

Consider These Points

1. Why has the present mayor refused to answer any of the questions in the "Iron Curtain" pamphlet?
2. Why has a "gag" been placed on the candidates for mayor, prohibiting them from speaking at ward rallies?
3. Why did the present administration raise city water bills 40% when 25% was all that was needed?
4. Why does the administration continue to maintain there is no gambling in Columbus when it is common knowledge that a well controlled gambling syndicate has been in operation here for years?
5. Why has the city operating costs risen from $3,300,000 during Mr. Green's administration to a high of $8,220,000 during the Rhodes administration?
6. Can the voters forget they are financing this huge increase in city government cost with an increase of $5 in the garbage tax, the utility tax, the city income tax, the amusement tax and a 40% increase in water bills.
7. Has there been any explanation of the illegal expenditure of $2,600,000 in 1947 and 1948 for purchases without competitive bids?
8. Why has the mayor remained silent after the inquiry of the Property Owners' Assn. regarding his income over the $6000 mayor's salary?....
9. Why did the city spend nearly $300,000 for consulting engineers for information regarding our water shortage that was already available to them from the army engineers?
10. Why has the city been denied a modern transportation system under the Rhodes regime?

The Gate Post

By Pat Martindale

A sports program has been set up at Glenwood Recreation Center with several objectives to reach. First, the center is attempting to create a wide range of activity with a variety of interests in mind. Secondly, they feel that wholesome group activities engender a fine group feeling of cooperation and third that recreation is the key to positive enjoyment through which an individual may develop healthy habits and attitudes.

Although the new program is in an infant stage the center is encouraged by its progress. Included in the "activity afternoon" are square dancing, folk dancing and all sorts of games on Tuesday and Wednesday from 3 to 5:30 p. m. On Monday from 3 to 4 the hour is turned over to group work in games or music and crafts and from 4 to 5 tap dancing with the opportunity for games and square dancing after 5. Thursday afternoons are open for basketball and at the present time will be devoted to fundamentals and team strategy. Bowling at the Hilltop Alleys is the program for Friday starting at 3:30 p. m. and open to both boys and girls. League basketball will be held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and Tuesday evenings.

On Saturday mornings tumbling and games have been planned from 9 until 11 a. m.

The arts and craft classes are open to boys and girls of all ages. Boys' classes are held on Monday evenings 7-9 and for girls Tuesday evenings 7-9. Thursday and Friday afternoons and Saturday mornings will be set aside for open crafts. Some of the fall projects are, paper mache, textile painting, plaster molding, Christmas cards and gifts.

Plans are being made for a talent play and skit which will be presented sometime in December. Tryouts for a Christmas chorus will be held at a later date. Instrumental as well as vocal groups are going to be formed and anyone with an instrument is encouraged to join the group.

Thursday, Nov. 1, the Glenwood Newspaper Club, publishers of the Glenwood Echo, will meet to assemble the November issue and plan the December issue.

Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 2 p. m. the Golden Age Club will meet. Plans will be formulated for a euchre tournament. Refreshments will be served.

Junior Boys Service Club meets every Tuesday afternoon at 4. Boys 9 to 12 years of age invited to attend. The club will enter a team in the Junior Center Basketball League.

Teen Club will meet Thursday, Nov. 1, to organize and plan the coming season dances, parties and other projects. Meeting begins at 7:30 p. m. and all teen-agers are invited. The regular center dances are held on Thursday nights.

Entry blanks for the Central Ohio AAU cross county meet that is to be held Nov. 10 at Ohio State University Golf Course are now available at the center.

Latvian Cycle Is Planned By Local Church Choir

Westgate Methodist Church under the direction of Neil C. Schleicher will present the Latvian Cycle, My God and I, during each Sunday's worship service through November and December.

The following numbers to be presented by the Westgate choir have been translated and published as the My God and I Cycle, "My God and I", "So Green Was the Hill and the Valley", "Softly and Tenderly," "Upon a Bed of Roses," "At Heaven's Gates," and "Forgiven."

Draper Backs Trantham For School Board

Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, is heading a committee of West Side citizens for Homer Trantham, 120 Overbrook-dr, for the Columbus Board of Education. Other members of the committee are Philip Stout, 2914 Crescent-dr; Noble L. Allen, 2456 W. Broad-st; Kenneth W. Sharadin, 105 S. Brinker-av, and Charles H. Campbell, 91 S. Westmoor-av.

Mr. Draper is retiring from the board after 12 years continuous service. In announcing his support of Mr. Trantham, he said, "It is Mr. Trantham's purpose, just as it has been mine for the last 12 years as a member of the board, to represent the public in seeing that our schools are kept free from any and all influences which would prevent our children from receiving the type of education which will fit them for life and for citizenship in our democracy. I recommend Homer Trantham as one who has the best interests of our schools at heart."

Mr. Trantham has resided in Columbus since he entered Ohio State University in 1919. He has practiced law in Columbus continuously since his graduation from the college of law in 1924. He is a member of Tenth Avenue Baptist Church and has served it as superintendent of the Sunday School, teacher, deacon, trustee and member of the finance and building committees.

Mr. Tantham was an aviator in World War I and is a member of Franklin Post No. 1 of the American Legion, the downtown Lions Club and the various Masonic bodies.

West Reserves Whip Aquinas

The West High Reserve eleven put down the Aquinas seconds 7 to 0 at West last week. The winning TD was tallied by Dana Deshler, Jr., son of a former West High football hero.

Young Deshler caught a Jim Johnson pass to place the ball on the seven-yard-stripe and with three minutes to go in the final quarter he carried over from the seven.

Tom Ongaro kicked for the extra point.

"Taffy's" Gone And Gary's Sad

"Taffy" is gone! Gary Exman, 2432 Westwood-av, is finding it hard to get along without the companionship of "Taffy", a part-cocker pup with short hair and long ears. The dog which is lost should be easy to identify. He has a clipped tail, is a very light blond or tan and was wearing rabies tag No. 356182.

Gary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Exman, say the boy is offering a reward for the safe return of his pal. The Exman's phone is JO. 2028.

Football Fan Overcome By West-North Game

Ruth Plant, 15, 487 Josephine-av, was overcome by the excitement of the West-North game last Friday and collapsed at Arcadia and High-sts on the way home from the North-end.

Many local rooters complained of butterflies in the stomach and watery knees following the spectacular finish which found Jerry Trabue snagging a pass in the end zone with the clock reading 0:00." Most fans had the usual hoarse voice after spiriting West on to the final 20-19 score.

Emergency firemen took Miss Plant home to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Saunders.

Ceremony Opens Physical Medicine Dept. At Mt. Carmel

The largest and most complete department of physical medicine in the city of Columbus will be blessed at Mt. Carmel Hospital by Bishop Ready Thursday, Nov. 1, at 4 p. m.

Part of the multi-million dollar expansion program inaugurated by the Sisters of the Holy Cross at the hospital in 1949, the new department occupies an entire floor of the recently completed eight-story building facing Souder street on the west.

Dr. Selby G. Gamble is in charge of the department and heads a staff which includes registered physiotherapists, aides, receptionist, and secretary. The doctor and his staff offer complete treatment to patients suffering from orthopedic, arthritic, peripheral vascular and neurological diseases.

Therapeutic facilities housed by the new department consist of a hydrotherapy room, one for occupational therapy, a gymnasium, electrotherapy room and individual treatment rooms. The department also contains utility rooms and doctors' offices as well as offices for the secretary and receptionist and waiting room.

The rooms are furnished with the newest equipment that has been developed in the science of physical medicine, including a Hubbard tank, diathermy shortwave units, infra-red heat cradles, ultra-violet lamps, a hydrocollator, paraffin and whirlpool baths, and an electrostimulator. The new department will use this equipment in the treatment of both in and out patients.

The department of physical medicine was made possible by the Timken Roller Bearing Company in honor of its employees.

Doctor Gamble was graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in 1937. He served his internship at Immanuel Hospital, Omaha, Neb., and was a Resident at Michigan State Sanatorium before coming to the Cleveland Clinic Foundation on a fellowship.

Coming to Columbus in 1945, Dr. Gamble was an associate professor of medicine at Ohio State University. While at the University he was director of the department of physical medicine at University and Children's Hospitals and consultant in physical medicine and rehabilitation at Nightingale Cottage, Franklin County Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, and Benjamin Franklin Hospital.

Returning to Cleveland in 1948, Dr. Gamble was director of the department of physical medicine and rehabilitation of the Cleveland Clinic, assistant professor of physical medicine of the Frank E. Bunts Educational Institute, and consultant in physical medicine at the Cleveland Rehabilitation Center.

The public is invited to inspect the new department, from 9-12 and 1-5 on Thursday, Nov. 1.

those planes into the air, for the Hays Manufacturing concern at the W. Broad-st address is engaged in defense work. The firm acts as a sub-contractor for the North American Aviation and Surface Combustion Co. and is now employing seven full time workers in addition to Hays and his wife, Agnes.

The manufacture and precision machining of small parts for aircraft is carried on in this small plant which has branched out from a basement hobby shop at 69 S. Westmoor-av to a thriving young machinery concern.

The parts manufactured here are but one or two integral parts of an aircraft, their purpose is unknown, it may be a finely threated screw calling for extreme close tolerance, a plate that must be steel engraved with certain lettering.

All they know is that eventually the parts they manufacture end up somewhere on an airplane that is composed of millions of such parts and that when all are assembled another warplane is ready for Uncle Sam and they had a part in building it. That's why they grin when those planes swoop low over the West Broad-st plant.

The Hays, Gene and Agnes, are no strangers to the West Side, both have resided here for many years, and the small machine shop which was originally in their basement at home has turned an avocation into a vocation for the pair of them.

Gene said this week, "We are running now at near full capacity and if the orders continue to come in we'll have to put another shift to work by the first of the year. It'll mean a lot more work on our part but it's worth it when you hear those planes and know that you had a small part in the building of them."

the Columbus Citizen of Oct. 26, 1951, which said, 'Organized gambling in Columbus faces extinction because of a new federal tax of 10 percent on gross gambling receipts.'? I call the public's attention to the usage of the words 'organized gambling' and yet my opponent says there is no gambling under his administration.'

"As to the charges of gambling in my administration and the grand jury investigation of 1941, I ask my opponent to show and to prove where any indictment was ever made against anyone in the administration and against Floyd Green. I challenge them to prove the statements they have made."

The popular Hilltop candidate is a member of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church and associated with many civic and fraternal organizations, several of which have honored him with their highest offices, including the Hilltop Business Association.

Among his affiliations are the Columbus Lions Club, Builders Exchange, Hilltop Business Association, Agonis Club, Masons, 32nd degree, Aladdin Shrine, Achbar Grotto, Moose, Elks, Eagles, United Commercial Travelers, Buckeye Republican Republican Club, Columbus Real Estate Board and Columbus Automobile Club.

As to his qualifications for the public office which he now seeks, Green points with pride to a statement by an examiner of the Ohio State Auditor's office, which reads: "In my position as state examiner of municipal accounts during the four years (1940-1943) of Floyd Green's administration as mayor of Columbus, I wish to say, Mr. Green proved himself a very capable administrative public official and conducted the affairs and duties of mayor's office in a manner worthy of the highest commendation. He demonstrated exceptional ability in municipal financing and possesses a keen knowledge of budgeting problems. He has shown that he is properly qualified in ability and experience to solve such financial problems as may arise in connection with city government.

"Floyd Green conducted the affairs of the mayor's office in a very satisfactory manner, reflecting credit upon himself and upon his office, and I do not hesitate to recommend him as a man of proven ability in the field of municipal government."

NOVEMBER

November is the twilight of the year,
A solemn hush before the night descends;
Cold winds blow through the forest dark and drear;
A chill pervades the air as autumn ends.
The icy breath of coming winter lends
A welcome cheer to firesides' ruddy glow;
This is the quiet season when good friends
Should meet and let their happy friendships grow
Before the night locks all the earth with sleep and snow.

A verse from one of my favorite poems, "Each In His Own Tongue," by William Herbert Carruth is timely now:

A haze on the far horizon,
The infinite, tender sky,
The ripe, rich tint of the cornfields,
And the wild geese sailing high,
And all over upland and lowland
The charm of the goldenrod:
Some of us call it autumn,
And others call it God.

Bible Comment:

Without Real Peace A Physical Victory Is Equal to Defeat

ALL over the world today, nations eagerly scan the military reports and news dispatches that bear on the Korean war. Anxious eyes watch the battle which United Nations troops are waging against determined despots and tyrannical rulers who are trying to force atheistic communism on the South Koreans.

Despite Allied successes and the still-possible opportunity for a negotiated truce there is at the moment no actual peace in sight. Many trying days, it is expected, lie still ahead.

But when victory, negotiated or dictated, is finally ours, then will our greatest days of challenge and responsibility begin.

Will we use our triumph or position for peace or for selfish purpose of gain?

Will we act in the spirit of the Good Samaritan and bind up the wounds of war? Or will we let a built-up hate and desire for revenge color our plans for the vanquished?

While there are still nations throughout the world who by their own widely broadcast statements are determined on the destruction of the democratic way of life as we in America know it, then surely it is useless to say that we will embrace peace with the intention of never under any circumstances again taking up arms.

But a victory without peace is a total defeat. Our peace, then, should be composed of preparedness—if we consider it our duty as Christians to fight to restrain evil.

Because one fights an epidemic of disease he does not believe less in good health. America, too, will not stand less for peace if it remains ready to curb potential warmakers.

When victory comes—as it will—we must then try to win the good faith of the defeated. We must strive to instill faith in men's hearts, encourage harmony in all relationships. Should we fail here, hatred and avarice will certainly insure us a victory that is peaceless.

Yet there are those today who argue that there is no such quality as conscience. "Can you prove that it's there?" they ask.

For the sake of argument, we could just as well ask them for proof that it is not there. Actually, these critics refuse to face the facts. How can they argue about the lack of conscience when a world rises up in arms because certain men have denied others the right of free will—the right of conscience? What else makes a person shun temptation for a life that he knows in his conscience to be right?

Our churches teach us that to deny conscience is to deny God. For we are made in God's image. "To thine own self be true" is but another way of saying, "To thine own God be true."

Follow the judgment of your church, and its weekly message. Then we cannot be false to ourselves, or to our fellow-men.

For we are then following our best guide—our conscience—which transmits to us the personal Word of a loving God.

Acts: 24-16

Rev. Miss Nettie Miller

Rev. Miss Nettie A. Miller, evangelist of Columbus, Ga., will open her fifth revival campaign in the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, 850 S. Warren-av, on Nov. 7 through 18.

Since Miss Miller appeared at the local church four years ago she has made a trip around the world and held revival services in Scotland, England and Ireland. Her home is in Columbus, Ga., and her father is the fire chief of that city.

This will be the first revival service held in the upstairs of the beautiful new stone church, now nearing completion. Service will be held each evening at 7:30 through Nov. 18. Sunday services are at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Harris B. Anthony, the pastor, is looking forward to the largest attendance in this meeting that he has had during his ministry at Warren Avenue Nazarene Church in more than 14 years.

Hilltop Coin Collector Speaks At Mound School

John Burton of the Burton Coin Shop addressed a meeting of the Mound Junior High School Hobby Club last Thursday morning on the topic of odd and curious coins. Over one hundred Mound Junior High School students attended the session which was under the direction of Howard F. Wilson, instructor of social studies and sponsor of the club.

Howard F. Wilson is a West High School graduate and lives at 87 Powhatan-av.

Burton, a student of Ohio State University, drew from his personal collection many odd and unusual coins to illustrate his address. Among them were the famous Pine Tree shilling 1652; Hatchet money dug recently from Aztec burial mounds in Mexico; Giesha pennies used for wife buying in Japan and African lead ring money used for the same purpose, were some of the curious coins shown.

Mound students under the direction of Mr. Burton and Mr. Wilson also saw German postage stamp money, bullet coins from Siam, "Panama pill money" resembling aspirins, the shin gold coins of Japan and Spanish Pieces of Eight.

Three Are Honored By Legion Baseballers

Pictured above are the three youths who were honored by their teammates last Saturday at Camp Chase Post Legion Home when the annual baseball banquet was held. At left is Jim Vincent, voted Most Valuable Player. A shortstop, he hit .315 in 18 games, stole 11 bases and had a fielding average of .982. In the center is Ellise Easterly, voted Best Hustler. A second baseman, he fielded at a .978 average in 16 in the center is Ellise Easterly, voted Best Hustler. A second baseman, he fielded at a .978 average in 16 games, hit for .240 and averaged .400 for getting on base. At right is Jim Kimball, voted Most Popular player. A pitcher-outfielder, he hit .375 in clean-up spot. Ten of his blows were for extra bases, one a homer.

A banquet was held Saturday night, Oct. 27, for the members of the Camp Chase-Beasley-Grove American Legion baseball teams at the new Camp Chase 98, American Legion home at 3211 W. Broad-st. The boys were accompanied by their fathers, as everyone enjoyed the fine meal and hospitality of the Legion.

Post Commander Bill Ferguson then introduced Dick Hutchison and Jim Hughes, playing managers of the Senior and Intermediate Knothole teams. The captain of the Legion team, Ellis Easterly, then introduced all the players, and their fathers.

An election which preceded the banquet had the following results. Jim Vincent received the nod in a close race with Jim Smith for the most valuable player while Jim Kimball is the best liked by his team mates and Captain Ellis Easterly is the best hustler of the ball club. Dick Hoover has promised to send the three winners an autographed baseball.

Dick Hoover, who is being called up by the Boston Braves next year, and Chuck Wagner were the guest speakers. Dick talked of his experiences while playing in the minor leagues. Chuck, who was Dick's battery mate when they played for the post and West High School, related a few stories of his playing days.

A drop of grease can take your life. The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce reports that last year over 18,000 people died from falls. So if you see grease or oil spots on the floor, wipe it up immediately. If you can't be sure of your footing, you can't possibly be safe.

Our Schools Must Be Kept Free!

It is HOMER TRANTHAM'S purpose, just as it has been mine as a member of the Board for the last twelve years, to represent the public in seeing that our schools are kept free from any and all influences which would prevent our children from receiving the type of education which would fit them for life and citizenship in our democracy. I am not seeking reelection. I recommend HOMER TRANTHAM as one who has the best interests of our schools at heart.

Norwich Twp. Tax Levy Is Approved

Norwich Township residents turned out a heavy vote, considering the weather, to pass a tax levy of eight mills for the benefit of the school district. The "yes" votes overpowered the "no" by approximately 100 votes.

The eight mills constituted a five mill renewal and a three mill increase to cover current expenses and continue the high standard of the Norwich Local Board of Education.

Homecoming For A Sailor

Korean Veteran Meets Daughter First Time

Freshly discharged from service in the U. S. Navy, Gene Jaquay comes through the doorway of his Fairmont-av home to meet his daughter, Dolores Ann, 3½, wife Mary Kay and little Denise Jean, seven months, whom he is seeing for the first time.

Although his family had not seen him for more than a year, Dolores Ann remembered her Daddy and was so happy to see him that she could do nothing but giggle like a teen-ager on her first date.

The big event in Gene's life was to come the next day, when he met daughter number two, Denise Jean, a shy young lady of seven months whom he had never seen. Denise, however, refused to make up with her dad and Gene admits that he isn't quite sure how to cope with the situation but feels sure he can win her over in due time.

It goes without saying that this was a happy reunion for the Jaquay family and especially for Gene, who has served seven years of the past 10 in the U. S. Navy.

At the age of 17, two days after his graduation from Aquinas High School, Gene enlisted in the Naval Reserves and shortly afterwards was sent to California. He was then sent to Iwo Jima to serve in the invasion and from there to Okinawa.

After his return from World War II he and Mary Kay married and settled down to housekeeping in their present home at 1944 Fairmont-av. Several months before the birth of Denise, Gene was recalled by the navy and sent to Japan and from there to Korea.

Mrs. Jaquay says that this will be the happiest Thanksgiving they have ever had because Gene is now home to stay since he was given an honorable discharge upon his arrival in the United States. As soon as everyone settles down from all the excitement in the Jaquay household Gene will return to the Pennsylvania Railroad where he will complete his fourth year of apprenticeship as a machinist, and added his wife, "he can now help shoulder the responsibility of rearing two daughters."

West High Bands Plan A Colorful Show Friday

Although the West High gridders will be battling with the East Tiger for an undisputed championship of the City League, all of the glory of the evening's festivities has not been set aside for the gridmen alone. West High's colorful band will step out Friday night with a pre-game and half-time show that will rival any in the city.

In the pre-game show which has been designed by Band Director Claire Barnard, the Junior High School band will play during the flag raising ceremonies and then in honor of "Dad's Night" saluting the dads who will be seated along the west side of the playing field.

At half time the West senior bandsmen will initially form a large EAST formation on the gridiron while playing "The Caissons Go Rolling Along". From that formation they will group in the center of the gridiron forming "1803", hondring the year in which Ohio was admitted into the Union as a state, and playing "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

A formation depicting the "Flag of Ohio" accompanied by the popular air "It's a Grand Old Flag" is next, followed by a huge outline formation of the state of Ohio. While in the latter formation the familiar strains of "Beautiful Ohio" will be wafted into the night air.

A tricky formation of "OHIO" is next on the agenda while playing "Across the Field", "The Riddle Song" and the West High "Alma Mater."

A huge "USA" formation then comes up with the familiar "God Bless America", which will be played to both stands on the field. At this point Camp Chase American Legion Post 98 will enter the field with a color guard and firing squad and proceed to the flag pole at the corner of the field. As the last strains of "God Bless America" are played there will follow a moment of silent prayer honoring the American soldiers who have died for the cause of freedom.

The firing squad will then fire the traditional volley of three shots and the haunting strains of "Taps" will be sounded.

The brief ceremony honoring the soldier dead is designed to call attention to Armistice Day and at the same time to bring to public

Ballot Write-In Scores Heavily In County Vote

Tuesday's election in the western portion of the county and villages saw the write-in method of election assuming a major role at the ballot box, especially so in the case of the village of New Rome where the entire slate was a write-in affair. Oddity of the balloting however was the fact that of the two write-in candidates for mayor each took two votes.

Four candidates as write-ins for clerk each garnered one vote to tie; five were write-ins for treasurer and each received a single vote to tie. With six seats open in council each of the write-in candidates won while the board of public affairs with three seats open saw two write-in candidates.

The results of New Rome's election were, mayor, Giddon Roesch 2, Joseph Smith 2. Clerk—Fred Michel 1, Mrs. Joseph Smith 1, Frances Smith 1, Lawrence Karnes 1. Treasurer—Lottie Michael 1, Mae Karns 1, Mrs. Giddon Roesch 1, Lucy Mitchell 1, Mrs. Virgil Thompson 1. Council (6)—Tom Long 5, Elam Carter 4, Mrs. Walter Stouch 4, Charles Bowman 3, Fred Michel 2, Walter Stouch 3. Board of public affairs — Vida Streitenberger 3, Helen Garnett 2.

In other townships and villages the results were:

Prairie—Trustee, Jack W. Erlot; clerk, Grace Lamb; justice of the peace, Momford Smith; constable, William Kiser, and board of education, William G. Lamb and Paul Lahaeri.

Norwich—Trustee, William Van Schoyck; clerk, Thelma Alder; constable, Clyde W. Culp; and board of education, Robert G. King and Bassel L. Johnson.

Brown—Trustee, Harry E. Ingalls; clerk, H. C. Huggett; constable, Albert Price, and board of education, Donald Bynaer and Archie Stump.

Hilliards—Mayor, Edward Patterson; clerk, Jane Chenoweth; treasurer, Virginia P. Shaefer; council, Robert McCormick, Adelbart E. Joost, Paul Kindinger, Edwin Fox, Jack Headlee and Clyde Slone. Board of public affairs, Kenneth G. Love, Ralph J. Woodin and Robert Arnold.

Valleyview—Mayor, Charles J. Ringer; clerk, Cleo H. Balo, and council, N. S. Booth, Karol W. Whitiatch, Louis E. Sauer, James Barnett, Henry Whipple and Ernest Bauer.

Hilltop Community Church Pastor Begins 12th Year

As Rev. J. L. Dean delivers his morning sermon to the congregation of the Hilltop Community Church next Sunday he will be entering his 12th year as pastor of the Community Church.

At the time Rev. Dean was called to serve the church in 1940 the congregation was worshipping in a storeroom at 3060 W. Broad-st. In November, 1941, a basement church was completed as the first unit in the building program. During World War II the building program was stopped for the duration. When building was resumed in 1947 the church adopted the "Pay as You Build" plan.

Just recently new pews and pulpit furniture were installed. The plan used to pay for the pews was that individuals bought and paid for their pew. Credit is given to the Young People's Sunday School Class for the pulpit. The Willing Workers Sunday School Class is credited with the installing of the velvet curtain for the rostrum. The most recent addition to the church was the carpeting of the auditorium and rostrum with Wilton Star Point carpet. The credit for this is given to the Harvest Workers' Sunday School Class.

During the past few years five of the young people of the church have been called into special Christian service, such as ministry, missionary and welfare work. Rev. Dale McClain of Danville, O., is serving in India as the church's missionary.

In addition to the many hours of labor donated on the building by members of the congregation, the church has invested approximately $85,000 in the building. Only a few minor things are needed to complete the church and thus far there has not been one dollar of indebtedness on the church.

Next Sunday morning Rev. Dean will speak on the subject, "Going Forward."

Boosters Meet Monday

The West High Boosters will meet Monday, 7:30 p. m. in room 101 at the school. All members or those wishing to join are urged to attend. A short business meeting will be followed by movies of the West-East game.

Rhodes Wins Mayor's Race By Twenty Percent Margin

Mayor James A. Rhodes will continue to bear that title for the next four years as a result of his victory at the polls Tuesday over his West Side opponent Floyd F. Green. The Tuesday election marked the third time that Rhodes had triumphed at the polls in a mayoralty campaign.

Early unofficial returns indicated the Rhodes' winning margin would mount to more than twenty percent of the vote cast and give to him the honor of matching the record established by the late James J. Thomas who was also a three time mayor of the city.

In a count of 279 out of 464 voting precincts in the city, Rhodes garnered 32,870 votes to 19,141 for Green, to assure winning of the election.

Mayor James Rhodes

In the race for council, Republican candidates scored also, by taking the four seats open to election. Successful candidates were Frank H. Kearns, Robert Oestreicher, Walter R. Snider and Dan J. Whitacre.

Veteran at the city hall and making his first actual bid for the office of Municipal Clerk of Courts, Hilltopper Pearl W. Spence succeeded the mayor as a vote-getter in garnering more than 65 per cent of the ballots cast in that race against another Hilltop candidate, Robert A. Rae. Spence is the current incumbent in office of municipal court clerk by virtue of appointment to fill the term of the late Art Blosser.

Fred C. Dunn, Jr., Mildred S. Bickel and Carl Tresemer incumbents on the board of education made successful bids for re-election while in the battle for the fourth seat Homer Trantham edged out Helen Witherspoon Hubbard.

In one of the close battles in the municipal election Charles E. Pierce edged out John C. Duffy for municipal judge and John H. Mathias, incumbent, was also returned to the bench.

Mayoralty candidates Rhodes and Green both issued statements following the election thanking their supporters for the confidence expressed in the votes to each of them.

John Guy Edges Johnson In Trustee Race

Unofficial returns of the election for trustee of Franklin-twp in Tuesday's election revealed one of the closest races of the campaign when John W. Guy barely edged out Edward O. Johnson by a margin of only 58 votes. The final tally was Guy, 390 votes and Johnson 332.

The only other race in the township developed when Karl Ake as a write-in candidate, challenged John L. Quellette for the post of constable. Quellette emerged as the victor.

Other candidates on Tuesday's ballot who were unopposed and re-elected were Paul Wichterman for township clerk; Walter S. Jones, Sr., for justice of the peace, and Robert A. Jahn and E. O. Cline for board of education.

Kiwanians Name Phillip V. Stout As Lt. Governor

Phillip V. Stout

Phillip V. Stout, Hilltop attorney and charter member of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, this past week was named as lieutenant governor of the Eighth District of Ohio.

The election of the local Kiwanian on Oct. 29 during the Ohio Kiwanis convention at the Neil House marks the second time he has been honored by the Kiwanis Club, prior to his being named as lieutenant governor of the Eighth District, Stout served as president of the local civic group.

HBA Plans Visit To Lennox Furnace Co.

The Hilltop Business Association will meet Tuesday, 6:45 p. m. at the Lennox Furnace Company, 1705 Olentangy River-rd, for cafeteria dinner and to see movies on the advances in heating equipment. They will be taken on a tour through the factory.

The meeting is being arranged by Ray Dethy, chairman of the industrial relations committee.

Carole Price Wins Legion Poster Contest

Carole Price of West High School won the first prize award of $10 offered by Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion for the best poster depicting the Americanism program of the Legion. The contest drew more than 20 entries from the four West Side junior and senior high schools and were lauded by the judges for their excellence.

Second place winner was Beverly Wilson of West Junior High; third went to Ronnie Cross of West Senior High and fourth to Mary Ann Bangert of Holy Family High.

The top winners were selected in elimination of winners at West Senior, West Junior, Starling Junior and Holy Family School. Winners at the various schools were awarded ribbons in each of their schools.

Three winners at West Senior High were, first, Carol Price; second, Irene Batteiger and Ronnie Cross, and third was Jim Coontz.

At Holy Family High, Mary Ann Bangert took first with Mary Ann Simon in second place. Kenneth Bayes won first at Starling Junior High School.

New Rome Home Is Demolished By Fire Tuesday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blair, 734 Buena Vista-av, New Rome, was demolished Tuesday by a $9300 fire. Prairie Township Fire Chief John Richards blamed the fire on a defective hot water system. A hot water tank exploded only a few seconds after they had fled their fireswept home. Firemen said the Blairs barely escaped death in the explosion.

Until they complete plans to rebuild their home the Blairs are staying with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Lamb, 93 Pasadena-av.

Hershey Mowery Reported "Fair" After Accident

Capt. Hershey Mowery, 2936 Crescent-dr, executive secretary of the Ohio Hotels Association, is reported to be getting along fine in Allen Hospital, Oberlin, O., where he has been since his car skidded off a slippery road near Wellington, O., last Friday night.

Mrs. Mowery visited him this week and an operation was planned to insert a pin in a broken clavicle. He also suffered injuries to the shoulder blade.

West-East Game Can Decide Grid Title

Although there's a big question of "If" concerning the status of Central High School's standing in the City League race over the alleged ineligibility of Ted Alexander, West and East traditional gridiron foes will meet at Magly Field with thoughts of a championship in their minds.

The sudden change of the title race which has projected both East and West into the championship picture came about last Friday night when prior to the East-Central clash protest was made by East officials that Alexander is in his seventh semester of schooling.

Last week after the matter had been brought to the attention of H. W. Emewiler, state high school commissioner of athletics, the assertion was made that Central would in all probability have to forfeit all games in which Ted Alexander had participated.

Thus the big "If" concerning tomorrow night's clash between East and West. "If" the youth is found to be ineligible Central's record in the city race would revert from five wins and no losses to one win and four losses. The loss win would be against East because Alexander did not participate in that game. West's record would then be changed to read as five wins and no losses and East to four wins and one loss.

Many Hilltoppers recalled this week, as a result of the Ted Alexander case, that West High School in 1933 lost a championship over the question of an ineligible player, after West had defeated East in Ohio Stadium to take the championship. A protest was made that West had used an ineligible player by virtue of over age for a period of two minutes in the Central-West game which West had won. When forfeit of the Central game was made East then emerged as winner of the title. By strange coincidence the same three teams are again involved in the current controversy.

Hinging on the big "if" concerning Alexander are two other "ifs" that would be a factor in the final count on the city league. No. 1 is that "if" West defeats East in Friday night's fray, the Cowboys would then become the undisputed champions, but "if" East should defeat West the title would then be shared by both contenders.

A decision in the Alexander case probably won't be decided until next Monday, according to Central principal, Fred C. Slager. He said late Monday, "We are still checking school records. It will probably be next Monday before we have completed our check. The investigation in form of a report will be turned over to L. K. Replogle, assistant superintendent of Columbus schools. As to the South-Central game of Friday night, Alexander won't play."

With the strong possibility existing that the East-West game of tomorrow night may decide the city championship, local school officials pointed out that an overflow crowd is expected to flood Magly Field. Anticipating such an event, they announced that tickets for the game are now on sale at Sensenbrenner's, Spang's Pharmacy and Goodwin's Pharmacy. These tickets now on sale will tend to relieve long lines forming at the ticket windows on Friday night.

State Commander Of Ohio American Legion Is Main Speaker At Camp Chase Dedication

This is American Legion Week, and Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion is currently observing the occasion with an open house at the new Veterans Memorial Home, 3211 W. Broad-st, as well as to set aside Sunday, Nov. 11, as the dedication date for the new post headquarters.

Leading up to the formal dedication rites which will be held on the spacious lawn of the new home is a special half time ceremony during the East-West championship football tilt Friday night at Magly Field. A color guard and rifle team from the local post is scheduled to participate in the half time show, with a brief ceremony in honor of Dads' and Veterans' Night and to at the same time pay homage to the war dead of this community.

Commander Whitemyer

Sunday, however, is the big day for the local members of Camp Chase Post when with the Ohio Departmental Commander of the American Legion, C. W. Whitemyer, as the principal speaker of the day, the new Hilltop Veterans' Memorial Home will be dedicated and become a living memorial to the war dead of this community.

Formal dedication ceremonies at the new post home are to begin at 2 p. m. Sunday with a formal calling to order of the meeting by Commander William D. Ferguson.

Invocation will be said by Rev. Joseph R. Sbellhass of Glenwood Methodist Church and will be followed by a brief address on the "American Legion Preamble" by R. E. Greene of Camp Chase Post 98.

Commander Ferguson will then make a few remarks and introduce Elmer A. Young, past commander of Camp Chase Post who is the chairman of the dedication committee. Introduction of guests and dignitaries will then follow.

Lynn Baker, chairman of the permanent home committee of Camp Chase Post will then make presentation of the new Veterans' Memorial Home to Mario Smith, immediate past commander of the post under whose administration the home was purchased. Smith will in turn present the home to the current Commander Ferguson.

Principal address of the day will then follow by the Ohio State Department Commander for 1951-52, C. W. (Whit) Whitamyer of Louisville, Stark County, who is a charter member of one of the county's oldest posts and who in the past

Adventist Church Observes Annual "Week Of Prayer"

Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Church members will join their fellow members throughout North America this Saturday in launching simultaneously the annual Week of Prayer and a stepped-up program of lay evangelism.

The local church members under the leadership of their Home Missionary secretary, Earl Harris, have been organized into 21 bands covering all sections of Columbus for the purpose of conducting a laymen's program of evangelism. The local band leaders are C. N. Brown, Kenneth Coffin, Hayden Mayes and J. B. Reichenbach.

The members of these bands plan to visit the homes of the people in the community Saturday afternoon to distribute a tract on spiritual encouragement for these troublous times and to offer assistance in systematic study of the Bible through correspondence courses or in home classes. They will also offer the services of their Dorcas Welfare organization to families in need. This program of home visitation and literature distribution will be carried on every week for seven weeks.

"Kid of the Week"

Hilltop Youth's Helpfullness To Others Wins Jaycee Award

Tommy Smith "Kid of the Week"

Tommy's been selected "Kid of the Week" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its first week's search for outstanding youngsters, 6-14 years old.

A nomination for the "Kid" title comes from folks in the community, church or school who want to see a youngster rewarded for good deeds and actions. From the nominations, the Jaycees will pick the $500 scholarship winner.

Folks know how Tommy helps his brother Jackie, 4, who's handicapped by cerebral palsy. Tommy spends most of his time dressing, feeding and massaging him.

But that's not all. Tommy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Smith, runs errands or helps neighbors and does it without asking compensation.

A student at Jack Sherick's Dancing School, Jack's used his singing and dancing ability to entertain veterans at Chillicothe Veterans Hospital, children in orphanages and in hospital wards.

"It's this kind of boy we're looking for to represent Columbus for the national 'Kid of the Week' award," said Harry De Void of the Jaycee committee making the selections.

Every week through December, a "Kid of the Week" will be chosen. Nominations can be made through the Jaycee Office, 30 E. Broad-st, or by calling MAin 1321.

READER COMMENT

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

In the early history of Christianity pilgrimages were made by Christians to the Holy City where the feet of Jesus had trod.

In time the Holy Land fell into the hands of the infidel Turk, and Christians were persecuted and enslaved by the infidel.

These crusades were promoted for a noble cause, but they fell into the hands of corrupt and grasping leaders who used them for personal financial gain and dominating political power.

Today our country is passing through conditions similar to that of the crusades.

Our nation is, and has been, ruled by conniving politicians who think more of perpetuating themselves in office, than they do of upholding the constitution and protecting America and her citizens from the encroachments of an enemy whose sole purpose is to overthrow our government.

Through a period of twenty years secret commitments have been made; either intentionally or through stupidity, to appease this enemy.

Twice we have been led into war by leaders who cared not for the financial cost nor for the sacrifice of human lives; all of which was for selfish political interests.

Blunder after blunder has been made. To cover up these blunders, whitewashing methods have been used to keep the facts from the people.

Congressional committees and individuals are brushing off the whitewash and revealing the truth.

It is unnicessary to mention the many acts of dishonesty, corruption, and deception for they have been laid bare and are well known.

Honest men would humbly acknowledge their mistakes instead of attempting to camouflage them. Such methods are the direct road to dictatorship. Slowly but surely we are being led toward socialism. The fact is we are now very near totalitarianism and socialistic government.

Our hope lies in the crusade for honest government and the desire to rid ourselves of unscrupulous leaders with fantastic ideas and fumbling policies of government.

The people are crying out, "We have had enough of this. We want a change. We want initiative and free enterprise restored."

The only way to accomplish this desire is to lay aside partisan politics temporarily and vote for men who will lead the nation back to "the American way of life."

Votes will do just that in 1952.

Scouts Launch National "Round-Up"

The Boy Scouts of America—nearly 2,800,000 strong—are out to do one of their biggest "good turns" this fall and have a lot of fun while doing it. In all parts of the nation they will stage a "Round-Up with a grand array of colorful activities in order to bring the Scout program to the greatest possible number of boys who want it.

Scout leaders recognize that the times demand an even more aggressive program, preparing a larger percentage of the nation's youth for devoted, able citizenship. Since the Boy Scouts of America was established in 1910, more than 18,000,000 American boys and leaders have been affected by its program. Each year since 1910 the organization has recorded steady growth.

In 1916 Congress granted the Boy Scouts a Federal Charter stating that the Movement was "for all boys" to "supplement and enlarge established modern educational facilities in activities in the great and healthful out-of-doors where may be better developed physical strength and endurance, self-reliance and the powers of initiative and resourcefulness, all for the purpose of establishing through the boys of today the very highest type of American citizenship."

The Charter further stated that Scouting was "to promote, through organization and cooperation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

How well these "other agencies" have shared in bringing Scouting to boys in their community is seen in the latest report to Congress. Today there are 80,298 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Units. Churches and Synagogues of all faiths sponsor better than 47 per cent of all these units, while civic and fraternal organizations having national or state organizations stand behind another 22 per cent of the Scouting Units. Distinctly local groups like playgrounds, community clubs and centers, parent clubs, yacht clubs and housing projects sponsor another 14 percent. The schools of America sponsor for 17 percent of all Scouting Units.

Scout leaders say that the great strength of their organization has only been made possible by the support and efforts of the American people and these many public-spirited institutions which use the Scout program for their boys. By organizing and operating Scout Units for the boys in their communities and furnishing adult volunteer leadership and meeting facilities, they have made it possible for Scouting to go forward.

Scouting belongs to the American people who have made it possible. This is thoroughly in accord with democratic ideals and the American way of life, Scout leaders say.

The National "Round-Up" has three objectives. It seeks to recruit more new boys into Scouting, organize new Units to take care of them and to sustain the interest of present members by a broadened program of activities.

SMALL BUSINESS

By C. WILSON HARDER

Despite the heat haze of a Washington Indian Summer often credited with driving men crazy, the Federal Trade Commission continues to toil manfully, piling trivia upon trivia.

• • •

The latest FTC crackdown reaches a new record in trivia, as exemplified by FTC Stipulation No. 5188.

• • •

Gotham Hobby Company sells materials to toy model builders. A popular item is a tiny semi-diesel engine to propel model airplanes or boats for $3.95.

C. W. Harder

• • •

But no longer can this small company advertise the tiny engine for hobbyists as "complete" because it does not come equipped at the price of $3.95 with a fuel tank, or with a flywheel or propeller, the FTC rules.

• • •

Of course, when big heavy duty full size Diesel engines are sold, they are priced without a fuel tank, or propellor.

• • •

It is not known how many man hours at government expense were wasted in this effort.

• • •

The motto of the FTC seems to be, "Neither hail, nor sleet, nor storm will stop us from pursuing trivia, but on major matters we rest".

• • •

FTC has already investigated the strange monopoly tie-ups existing between auto "bigs" and a few tire and accessory makers.

• • •

But no action has been taken on this major matter.

• • •

A nine year FTC study revealed that one auto giant showed a 7.18% profit on cars; a walloping 24.85% profit on accessories, including the spare tire, a monopoly of big rubber.

• • •

The public suffers two ways.

• • •

One is that this volume of business on accessories and tires is shut off from the independent dealers. The second is the public pays higher hidden prices for these accessories than an independent dealer charges.

• • •

One thing that may come out of the probe of failure to enforce anti-trust laws by Sen. John Sparkman's Senate Small Business Committee is that too little men hold down too big jobs.

• • •

For example, the Wage Stabilization Board announces it will not advise during negotiations what limits of wages the government will permit.

• • •

Reason given is that if the employer grants a higher wage than permitted, workers become angry with the Wage Stabilization Board rather than the employer.

• • •

Object of the order is to insure that if labor is to be angry, the anger should be with the boss, never the bureaucrats.

• • •

However, the Wage Stabilization Board, simultaneously announcing appointment of the new deputy executive director, probably unwittingly sheds light on why bureau orders reflect so little maturity.

• • •

The job is now held by an M. J. Cooper, who graduated from Yale Law School in 1948 and had a whole two years of private business experience before joining the bureau.

• • •

His opposite number in the FTC probably arrived at the toy diesel engine ruling.

• • •

West Downs Linden 13-0 In Snow And Mud Battle

The West High Cowboys sent a small crowd of Linden homecoming game fans home very cold and unhappy, last Friday as they dumped the Linden Panthers 13-0. The field was a mixture of snow and mud as neither team showed an outstanding offense.

The Cowboys scored first when late in the first period Count Bayse romped 22 yards down to the Linden 8 from where Whitey Smith carried it over on his second try at the line. Smith fumbled as he went into the end zone and the Panthers recovered, but after a slight debate with the officials West was awarded the touchdown.

Jerry Johnson carried down to the 8 in two plays and four plays later Count Bayse rammed over from the one yard line but the play was called back for a West offside. On the next play J. Johnson raced around left and from the seven for the score. Smith went off tackle for the extra point.

The second half, both teams showed good defensive play as neither team could move over the goal line. The Cowboys did score on a beautiful pass play from J. Johnson to Charles Hunter but the play was called back because of a West offside.

Hilliards Bests Big Walnut

Hilliards' pigskin hustlers met Big Walnut Township's eleven in a postponed game Monday night at Sunbury. Before a crowd of 400 weather-braving fans the local team squelched Big Walnut 39 to 14. Rough weather made the ball a slippery catch and the teams played a loose game.

The last game of the season will be played tomorrow night on the Hilliard gridiron when Hamilton Township travels here. The night has been designated as "Parents' Night" and the mothers and fathers of the ball handlers will be honored.

Ownership Changes At Anderton's

Graydon H. Evans a former Hilltop resident and experienced restauranteer this week took over the ownership of Anderton's Restaurant, 2776 W. Broad-st.

Evans a former manager of the Buckeye Restaurant in the University District and for three years owner of the restaurant at Michigan and Buttles-av, said that at his new location he would feature home-cooked meals, steaks and chops and special noonday lunches.

The new restaurant proprietor on the Hilltop is no stranger to the community since for a period of 12½ years he was agent for the Prudential Insurance Co., here.

Local Man Wins Service Award

In the photo above J. P. Young of 48 N. Brinker-av, at left, receives his 25 year service watch from Robert L. Reeves, general manager, J. S. Ford Division, Wyandotte Chemicals Corp. Young was an honored guest at a banquet attended by more than 600. Mr. Young is a local sales and service supervisor for Wyandotte Chemicals, producer of specialized cleaning materials and industrial chemicals.

SPORT SLANTS

By "Duck" Jaques

The Cowboys of West close their 1951 football season this week, when they meet a strong East High eleven. This game will be of great importance to both teams and should be a wide open contest from start to finish. It will be "Dad's Night" at Magley field which should give the Cowboys a little extra desire for victory.

Last Friday at Linden, there were more spectators from West than from Linden. This is surprising as it was the Panthers' homecoming game. Two of the Cowboy regulars were out of action against Linden. They were "Chappy" Chapman and "Tommy" Thomas. Thomas played the North game with a dislocated shoulder, which wasn't discovered until after the game was over.

The Cowboys played an inter-squad game the Tuesday before the Linden game. Dave Randall's 13 seniors defeated Fred Heish-men's underclassmen by the surprising score of 32-0. The seniors had the complete first string backfield and that made the difference in the game.

Wintry Weather Causes Increase In Accidents

From an average far below 300 for Columbus' weekly traffic accidents, the week ending Nov. 4 saw this figure jump to a thought provoking 325. The increase was felt in the Hilltop area where two persons were injured in auto accidents and one pedestrian was wounded. The area had 17 accidents, all told, 15 of which resulted in property damage.

Local Legion Post Signs Its First Korean Veteran

"Pat" Collins

To Kenneth "Pat" Collins of 249 S. Hague-av this week was accorded the title of being the first veteran of the Korean War to become a member of the Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion. Korean war veterans, it was pointed out by Commander Bill Ferguson are now eligible for membership in the Legion.

Collins graduated from West High School in June of 1948 and in July of that same year enlisted in the Armed Forces. After a training period in this country he was shipped overseas into the Korean conflict as a member of the 10th Field Artillery of the Third Division.

While in Korea on a nine month tour of duty he participated in the battles of Hamhung and Hungnam above the 38th parallel. His outfit was at one time trapped by the Reds during the retreat that occurred in the early days of the conflict.

In July of this year Collins returned to the United States as a corporal and received his honorable discharge from the Army. He is now a student at Ohio State University. As a new member of Camp Chase Post he is representative of one of the many youth of this community who participated in the Legion baseball program, having been a member of Camp Chase team in 1946.

Recently one of the Betty Newtons from The Gas Company came to Starling to demonstrate to the cooking classes how to use this new equipment. "WHO IS IT" CONTEST

By Barbara Fields

One of the 9B English classes at Starling is sponsoring a guessing contest each week in order that the boys and girls may know each other better.

Each week a boy and girl are chosen and information about them is posted on the bulletin boards. A box to hold the guesses is placed in the center hall. The first person to guess the boy or girl is called a winner-of-the-week. The information is posted each Monday morning and the winner is announced the following Monday morning. All guesses must be in by Friday.

Committees were chosen to carry out the plans. Roberta Raines and Barbara Fields set up the rules. Glenda Riggs, Orville Scott, Loretha Browning, Patty Mason, and John Duey made the posters announcing the contest. The committee in charge of the first week's contest consisted of Sally Church, Nancy Cooper, Paul Borror, and Karl Davis. Orville Scott and Paul Borror made the certificates that were given to the winners the first week.

CAFETERIA

By Nancie Durkin

This semester the girls are Barbara Jones, Patricia LaPorte, Norma Chrysler, Betty Benson, Madeline Hull, Marilyn Mehrle, and Loretta Klott.

AUTOMATIC WASHER

By Nancie Durkin

The cooking classes of Starling are very proud of their new Frigidaire automatic washer. It arrived this year and has been in use only a short time. Some of the classes were fortunate in having Miss Kelly from the Frigidaire Company demonstrate the machine to them.

First place went to Cleo Smith of Room 5; second place to Donald Wright of Room 22; and third place went to Glenn Erlenbach of Room 36. A prize was given each of these students.

Rare Bird To Be Shown At Show

When the Columbus Canary Breeders Club meets Nov. 9-10-11 at the Seneca Hotel for the showing of canaries, parakeets and wild birds in open competition, the bird pictured above, known as a Whydah, will draw much attention. According to its owner, Mrs. Richard Vail, 178 S. Whitethorne-av, the bird is of the small finch species, also known as a Java sparrow or rice bird. Its home is in South Africa and South America and it is especially recognized by its black and white markings and the long tail of the male bird.

Jean Worrell, manager of the show, said this week that all school children will be admitted free. Mrs. Emma Brown is president of the organization.

Today's Teen-Age Trend Is on Head-to-Toe Cleanliness

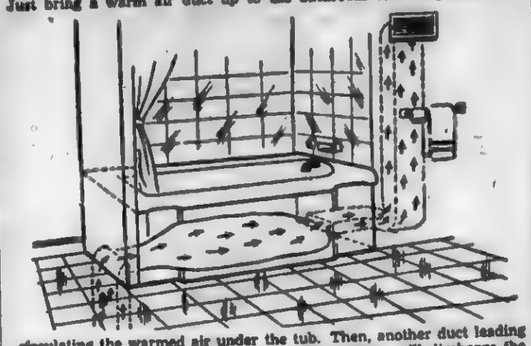
BY EDNA EHLER

A bit of transparent tape, attached lightly around "saddle" of school oxfords, protects the dark leather from smears of white shoe polish.

Realizing a youthful, casual look is not synonymous with sloppiness, this young woman gives her tresses a thorough brushing each night to add gloss and control to her fly-away hair-do.

WITH the waning of the age of sloppiness, teen - agers throughout the country are learning that meanness of appearance does not necessarily denote a casual attitude towards life.

Actually, real nonchalance is more often the off-shoot of self-assurance about your looks than the result of tumbled frowziness. A nagging worry that your appearance isn't up to par, despite the current trend, can undermine your poise.



Proper hair care doesn't mean a young girl is to plaster her locks down in formal coiffures. It does mean that a fly-away arrangement is no excuse for uncleanliness or lack of gloss. Keep your hair-do youthful, but suggest your latent maturity by faithful adherence to a routine of frequent shampoos and nightly brushings.

Neat, well-brushed clothes and clean, polished shoes are an indication, too, of your developing self-pride. If yours are the traditional saddle oxfords, encrusted with grime and dirt, start a new fad in your school for shining white rather than tattle-tale gray.

It's easy to keep your two-tone shoes sparkling with a minimum of smears and trouble, provided you remember this simple trick. Before applying the white polish, run an edging of transparent tape along the brown parts of your shoes. Any mis-licks with the white polish will land on the tape, which can be ripped off quickly when the job is done.

COMFORT TIPS . . . by Claire Collins

Did you know that you can use the warm air winter air conditioning system in your home to warm the bathtub as well as heat the house? Just bring a warm air duct up to the bathroom for the purpose of circulating the warmed air under the tub. Then, another duct leading from under the tub up to a high side wall register will discharge the warm air into the bathroom itself. Just think how comfortable that tub will be in those cold, winter days.

Mable De Bra-King Paintings Are Displayed

Mildred Phaler, librarian in charge of Hilltop Branch Library, admires one of the DeBra-King water colors which are now on display at the library in the opening of the fall art exhibition. Fifteen such paintings by the now deceased artist are currently being shown.

By W. D. "Doc" Campbell

The Hilltop Branch Library is beginning its fall exhibitions of name artists with 15 posthumous water colors by Mrs. Mabel De Bra-King who died over a year ago, in the prime of her moving life. She left some of the purest water color paintings imaginable.

You have heard of Pure Foods . . . Pure Oil . . . Pure in Heart . . . therefore her exquisite group of watercolors are Pure in handling . . . Pure in luscious color. If you do not get inner satisfaction in enjoying them, then I could never imagine that you like art in its positive charm and realism.

Mabel Mason De Bra (as she signed her paintings) takes you to foreign countries as well as to Columbus. The current collection is simply matted and framed in plain one inch wood color and makes a grand display against the dark brownish wall of the library.

Beginning at the left, as you enter the library they run a "crescendo" from bold, patterned resign effects to the most beautiful drip technique of a "Mexican Yard," and—believe it or not—showing a "day's wash" in front of a beautiful tiled, yellowish walled house—an exotic flow of rich orange, to deep violet shaded trees, in the foreground.

Another painting that should command attention was painted in Labrador. Lovely in color, it is perspectively interesting as your eye follows the convergence of the mountains to a tiny sailing vessel at the point of intersection. From the village in the foreground, you "rollick", so to speak, from roof to roof, away to the entrance from the bay or strait, to the mighty ocean!

Mabel De Bra's idealization of lines of freight cars must focus your mind on her method of interpretation. A blase-yard of cars transformed as by magic of her brush to "dream cars" with the beautiful "spire" (the Lincoln-Le Veque tower) behind, so sensitively painted at almost one "drip" (so to speak) and fulfilling all the laws of transparent watercolor technique!

Go see this delightful collection, hung possibly for a month and remember though Mrs. De Bra-King has "passed on," her exquisite contribution of absolutely beautiful water colors will definitely be loved and enjoyed by children and adults forever!

HILLIARDS School Notes

SCHOOLS LIGHT UP
By Helen Kidwell

On Oct 30, both the Hilliards Grade School and High School put their shining faces forward at the annual open house for parents. There was a nice crowd present to inspect the work of the students. After the rooms were visited, the band started the evening off with four numbers. They were "Zenith Overture," "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," "My Wild Irish Rose", and the "Band of America March."

Following this, there was a movie in the auditorium picturing the new Hilliards Grade School, and showing the students and teachers at work.

After the movie a panel discussion was held. The moderator was Lowell Van Schoik. Members of the panel were Ralph Woodin, Ralph Gease and Mrs. Robert Snider.

Mr. Woodin pointed out that a better understanding of what our schools are trying to do is needed. He also pointed out that we need studies that appeal to students with different desires, and that a curriculum is needed which is adapted to the needs of the non-college student.

Mr. Gease gave a complete report on the financial condition of the Norwich Local School District. Mrs. Snyder was a representative of the Hilliards Mothers' Club.

While all this was going on several reels of comedies were shown for the youngsters, (Note: several adults were there too!)

NOT MORE ICE CREAM!

Boy! What a time senior home room 21 had Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 31, during home room period!

Room 21, being the room that sold the highest amount of magazines, received all the ice cream they could eat. And believe me, they sure did eat!

After seeing room 20s' mouth water while 21 was standing up in the windows so 20 could see them, room 21 finally broke down and shared their ice cream with them and also senior home room 24.

attention the fact that formal ceremonies dedicating the Camp Chase Veterans Memorial Home will be held this Sunday.

Another feature of the game aside from the wonderful half time and pre-game ceremonies by the band will be the presence of more than 200 Air Force men who will sit in a body at one end of the field. Earlier in the day they will observe graduation ceremonies at city hall and then be entertained at supper in West Gate Masonic Lodge prior to the game time. After they have marched to the field, witnessed the game and then marched to Camp Chase Legion Post they will return by bus to army quarters.

With a championship football game, a colorful band spectacle and impressive rites honoring veterans, plus an expected capacity crowd, it has been pointed out that Friday night at West High School will be the focal spot of attention throughout all Columbus.

American Legion

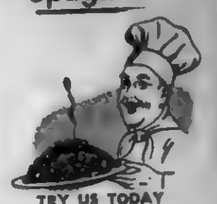
32 years has served in almost every office up to his present capacity as commander of the State of Ohio.

Benediction by Rev. Raymond Bauschard of St. Mary Magdalene Church will close the dedication.



According to Commander Ferguson and Elmer Young, chairman of the dedication committee, representatives of every organization, church and civic group have been invited to attend the ceremonies Sunday. Local Legion officials also pointed out that thus far in this week of open house at the new Veterans Memorial Home, there has been a constant visitation by the citizenry of this community and a crowd of several hundred is expected to attend the dedication rites.

It was also pointed out that on Monday, Nov. 12, the traditional Armistice Day breakfast will be served at the new post home from 6 to 9 a. m. Following the breakfast members of Camp Chase Post will participate in the Armistice Day parade in downtown Columbus forming on the south side of Rich-st just east of Fourth-st. After the parade the annual Armistice Day stag will be held at Camp Chase and is open to all veterans, whether members of Camp Chase or not.

Hilliards Couple United Sept. 16 At St. Mark's

The new Mr. and Mrs. Thurlist J. Lamb enter their "get-a-way" car following their recent marriage.

St. Mark's Lutheran Church was the Sept. 16th scene of the afternoon ceremony uniting Miss Violet Alice Salzgaber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Salzgaber, 1620 W. Lane-av, and Mr. Thomas J. Lamb, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lamb, 275 Buena Vista-av. Rev. A. P. Michelfelder was assisted by Rev. T. M. Patterson, uncle of the bridegroom, who has also married the parents of the bridegroom and his maternal grandparents.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavy white satin designed with a sheer marquisette yoke edged with a bertha of chantil'y lace and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Double tiers of lace formed an apron effect in the front of the gown and a bustle in back. The lace trimmed the edge of the cathedral train and covered her satin cloche. A narrow pleating of tulle edged the cloche which held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a large white orchid bouquet and a white handkerchief embroidered with violets, a gift of her mother.

Little Miss Elizabeth Jean Salzgaber who was flower girl for her aunt, wore a gown of gold net over taffeta. Master Larry Howard Salzgaber, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Miss Betty Salzgber was maid of honor for her sister while Mrs. Robert Brush, another sister, Miss Dorothy Salzgaber, Mrs. Jim Dougherty and Mrs. Kenneth Fulk were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical gowns of mauve featuring boat necklines, tight fitting bodices and tiny capelets. The tight contour belts accented the full bouffant skirts. All carried bouquets of Chinese and pompon chrysanthemums centered with gardenias and matching floral headpieces.

Mr. Jim Lamb, brother of the bridegroom, was bestman and guests were assisted by Mr. William J. Lamb, Mr. Ralph Salzgaber, Mr. Robert Stormont and Mr. Jim Dougherty.

The bride's mother chose a gown of wood-violet crepe trimmed with lace. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. The mother of the bridegroom wore a gown of toast taffeta with black accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Robert Stormont, Miss Jean Delewese, Miss Betty Stormont, Miss Janet Olsen and Miss Margaret Brashear were hostesses for the reception which followed the ceremony at the church.

For the couple's honeymoon trip to Canada the bride changed to a powder blue suit with navy accessories and the white orchid pinned to her shoulder.

The bride, a graduate of Hilliards High School, attended Ohio State University where she was a member of Links, and Lyra of Pleiades. She wore the traditional Pleiades blue garter for her wedding.

Mr. Lamb is also a graduate of Hilliards High School and attended Otterbein College where he was a member of Eta Phi Mu Fraternity.

Three guests from Japan visited Hilliards High School, Hilliards Elementary School, and the farm of Clarence Kaiser, on Nov. 1. M. Yamamoto of the board of education of Shizuoka Prefecture, which means that he is superintendent of 900 schools; Y. Ito who is assistant professor of arts and education, and principal of the school attached to this; and Taro Nakajima who is professor of school administration at Yokohama National University, expressed surprise at the books, supplies and equipment furnished to American students at public expense. Other comments were on the large farms here, the modern homes, and the size of rural school districts they saw.

A Cheer for You!

By Betty Barclay

DO well-known cheers, school songs, and lots of chatter remind you of the "before-and-after-the-game" gatherings that go on in your house? They do? Then the next time it is your youngsters' turn to have the gang in, here is a simple and economical dish to serve them—Easy Baked Beans. All baked beans are a favorite of the teen-age set, but these made with a maple-blended syrup have a specially delightful flavor that will assure their popularity. After the crowd tastes this delicious flavor, we're willing to bet that the next "2, 4, 6, 8—Who do we appreciate?" cheer will be aimed in your direction!

Easy Baked Beans

Soak Lima beans in water overnight. Drain, cover with fresh cold water, and add salt. Simmer until tender. Drain, reserving liquid. Place beans in 2-quart casserole. Combine 1 cup of bean liquid, syrup, and butter. Pour over beans. Bake, covered, in slow oven (325° F.) about 2 hours, removing cover during last half hour of baking.

Seeing them like this on this day, you would want them to have your sympathy.

They would appreciate it. But they wouldn't need it.

You see, he left them so many things . . .

He left them a home, good principles, a good name, and an unshaken faith in God and their Church. And it has been their Church that has proven the worth of that faith in the years just passed, and that will be so welcome in the years that lie ahead.

They now have the things for which he fought. Freedom of the nation. Freedom of the vote. Freedom of the home. And Freedom of the Church.

His valiance made those things real to them in the war. His church is keeping those things alive now that he has gone. By going to Church, you help the Church to help them live the life he would have wanted for them, even though he gave up his own life for them—and for you.

For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith . . .
Col. 2:5.

You see, they don't need your sympathy. For through their Church they know the great truth:—that to live in the hearts left behind—as he now lives in theirs'—is not to die . . .

It is to live forever . . .

THESE FIRMS INVITE YOU TO ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE.

JOE BRIGGS Says:

A lot of brainy women earn their own living but the sensible ones let men do it for them.

A woman should show her influence and insist that the home and household goods have the proper amount of fire insurance to cover any losses that might be realized. Better investigate right now.

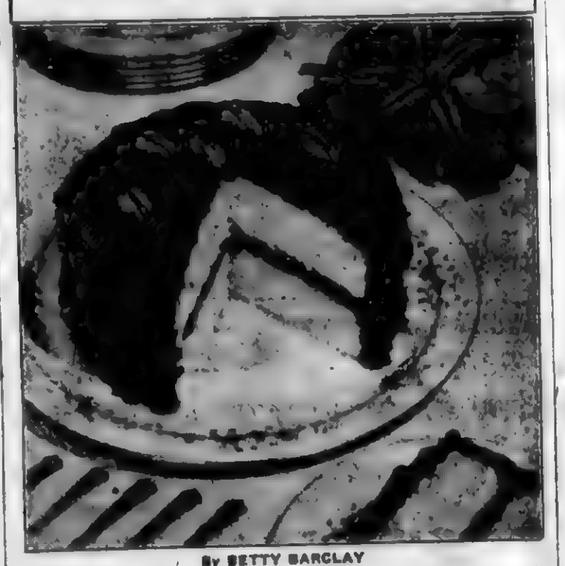
Prest-O Change-O

By Betty Barclay

DID you ever wish you were a magician and could make your food dollars multiply? Well, we can't give you the formula for that trick, but we can give you a formula for turning your left-over cake and bread into a delicious and glamorous looking dessert, and thus help to stretch your food budget! And it's as simple as 1-2-3—just cut the cake or bread into cubes, roll them in maple-blended syrup, and then in lots and lots of snowy, tender coconut. Pop them into the oven for about 10 minutes, and prest-o, change-o, out they come as a pretty dessert!

Coconut Dessert Cubes



Leftover cake or bread, cut in 1½-inch cubes; ½ cup maple blended syrup; ½ cup shredded coconut.

Roll cake or bread cubes in syrup, coating all sides. Then roll in coconut. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Remove at once from baking sheet. Makes about 18 cubes.

Chocolate Tops the Cake

CAKE OF THE MONTH

By BETTY BARCLAY

Like the weather, appetites change too, when autumn rolls around. Crisp fall days sharpen the appetite for hearty foods; and what's more perfect then, for dessert, than a pecan studded chocolate fudge layer cake? The flavor-rich chocolate contrasts delightfully with the white cake layers—speedily prepared with instant white cake mix. A grand dessert indeed, especially after a season of fruits and frosty goodies.

Pecan Chocolate Fudge Cake

Prepare two 8-inch layers using a package of instant white cake mix, following package directions. Spread with Rich Fudge Frosting and decorate with pecan halves.

Rich Fudge Frosting

¾ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup boiling water
4 squares unsweetened chocolate
Dash of salt
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 egg yolks
½ teaspoon vanilla

Combine brown sugar, water, chocolate and salt in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and heat until chocolate is melted, then beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Cook 6 minutes longer. Cool to lukewarm. Cream butter, add confectioners' sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add vanilla. Add chocolate mixture, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition. If necessary, place bowl in pan of cold water and beat until of right consistency to spread. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 8-inch layers.

Dr. Whitehead Will Be Missed By Community

It isn't often that one man is given the strength to serve a community so well and so long as was the case with Dr. Howard Whitehead.

The community learned this last Saturday of his death and will mourn his passing. His host of friends and acquaintances here will long remember him for his many contributions to the worthwhile progress of the Hilltop.

• • •

Did You Help?

Today will mark the close of the United Appeals campaign and as of this writing the West Division is not up to the 100% quota set for this community.

A fine vote of thanks is due all the many ladies and business men who have contributed so generously of their time to solicit the community for funds. But the job is not yet done. If you haven't already contributed why not do so, RIGHT NOW! Just call Mrs. Martin at RA. 6564 or Mrs. Hagans at JO. 1282.

The Gay Philosopher says "Seems like every time history repeats itself the price goes up."

Flowers of the Week

We've long contended that our Hilltop neighbors who contribute so much to the welfare of the community should have their flowers now and this week we pass a nice rose-bud bouquet to E. O. Melvin. This honor goes to Ed for his willingness to serve in so many capacities such as a member of the traffic board, Hilltop Christmas lighting project, Kiwanis newsie sale, bean dinner and a hundred other worthwhile projects. Good luck, Ed.

• • •

Notes and Nubbins: It's little wonder that the A&P offices on Dennison-av, are as smooth running as they are, what with your first contact with said organization being with receptionist Pauline Haddon . . . She's looking for a Hilltop apartment, incidentally, after returning from a three week vacation soon . . . The Harold Cramers are off to Florida again, getting nearer and nearer the time when they will move down to their new home . . . The father and son combination of Jim, Jack and Beryl Miles will have charge of the Kiwanis meeting this week . . . Charley Kent can now be addressed as a big restaurant man . . . The Paul Luggers will shove off for a Florida vacation comes Saturday, and if they can find a bird sitter . . . Betty and Bud Blatz will take up their home-making job at White Plains, N. Y., about Nov. 27 . . . The Bob Chrismans have bought a home on S. Roys-av . . . That's a fine new sign gracing the entrance to the Phillip's Son Coney Island shop . . . Jean Worrell advises he qualified in July for a trip to Hollywood, Fla., six months in advance of the requirement date in a contest sponsored by Sun Life . . . His office, incidentally, is leading all offices in the U. S. in sales this year . . . Barbara Bell and Don Skipper will middle aisle it at Glenwood Church on Dec. 28.

• • •

Late Notes: Dr. R. J. Miller will head the minstrel committee of the HBA for next year's production in February . . . Incidentally, anyone who has ability along minstrel lines, directing or otherwise, is invited to offer his or her services . . . Rika Finley, injured in an accident some time ago, is able to drive again . . . All the little beds on the local twigs are all a twitter with excitement over the fact that their annual Christmas bazaar has been moved to Memorial Hall this Friday from 10 to 10 . . . Hawarline (Finks) Frost of Miami, Fla., is visiting on the Hilltop . . . While hunting deer in Canada with her husband recently Mrs. Curt Borror fell and suffered a broken leg.

Engineers Plan Improvements For Wilson-rd

Franklin County Engineer Guy Elbin this past week revealed plans for the widening of Wilson-rd from W. Broad-st to Trabue-rd to provide a paved surface of 24 feet in width. The road widening project is being carried out under plans of the Ohio Highway Department and Federal Government for all secondary roads.

According to current plans, fences of property owners will be set back for a distance of 10 feet on both sides of the two and one-half mile stretch of roadway. At the present time property owners are being contacted with a view of obtaining easements so that construction may begin early in 1952.

Under the plan the property owners will be paid for the land which is taken by easement. The prices paid would take into consideration the costs entailed by the land owners in erection of new fences along the right of way, according to the county engineer.

It was also pointed out that if the lands so obtained by easement for the purposes of road construction are not used for that purpose, the land would revert back to the land owners.
